C. P. C. (1908) SECTION 53.*(1) Scope of the Rule.

This section is new and its effect is to enable decree-holders to have such questions of Hindu Law tried out in execution and to spare them the expense and delay entailed by the institution and maintenance of a fresh suit. It is of course open to the son or other descendant to set up all or any defence which he could raise in a separate suit and no liability is imposed by this section other than that established by the substantive. The section sets at rest a conflict of judicial opinion see s. 50. The section now expressly makes the son or descendant of a Hindu his legal representative in respect of the joint family property in his hands. But Order of the lower Court passed under old code cannot be reversed by appellate Court on the ground that since then a different rule has enacted by the new Code. 1911, 2 M W N 386=12 I C 553.

 (11) Miscellaneous Cases.

(1) Legislative Changes

—(1) The Second Proviso:—The words "unless...thereto" have been newly added by the Code of 1908. This effects a change in the law, and is an endeavour to prevent vexatious resistance to executions the outer door is no longer any protection to the judgment-debtor, if he endeavours to resist execution.

—(2) The Sub Section (2):—this is entirely new and is intended to cover the case of railway servants and others whose sudden arrest might endanger or inconvenience the general public.

—(3) The Sub Section (4)—The words "and to appear" are new. Under the old Code a surety was released when the J. D. applied to be declared insolvent, even though he failed to appear. Under the present Code the surety is released only if the J. D. applies and also appears.

(1-A) General principles, scope and object.

(1) Legislative Changes.

—(1) The words "cooking vessels", "beds", and "and such personal ornaments as, in accordance with religious usage, cannot be parted with by any woman" in clause (a) are new (2) The words "and such" to end in clause (b) are also new. (3) The scope of clause (c) has been extended by addition of the words in the brackets. (4) In clause (g), the words "or payable out of any service family pension etc" are new. (5) Clause (h) is entirely new. (6) In clause (i) the words "allowances equal to salary" and "while absent on duty" have been newly added. (7) The clause (k) is entirely new. (8) The words "whether payable in money or in kind" in clause (l) have been newly added. (9) The words "with the materials enjoyment" in sub-section (2) are new.

—The words "Twenty Rupees" and "Forty Rupees" in cl. (1) (i) were substituted by the words "Forty Rupees" and "Eighty Rupees" respectively by Civ. Pro. (Amend) Act 26 of 1923. Proviso to cl. 1 (i) was added by Act 20 of 1925. Clause (b) to sub-section (2) laying down that the provisions of this section will not affect the provisions of the Army Act has been added by Act 10 of 1914 Sch. II.

(2) General principles scope and object.

—General :—S. 60 must be strictly construed. The word "agriculturist" means a person obtaining his main source of livelihood by cultivation. 47 P R 1897.

—S. 60 does not cover the income of the panchotra. A I R 1924 Lah 226=73 1 C 928.

—Under S. 60 (1) proviso (c) only the house that is occupied by an agriculturist in good faith for purposes of agriculture is exempted from attachment. Other houses which are not occupied for the purpose of earning the livelihood by agriculture are not exempted from attachment, though they are occupied by him for his own convenience. A I R 1933 R 175.

—House in the occupation of agriculturist is exempt from attachment even where it is not used for agricultural purposes. A I R 1933 All 740.

—Where exemption from attachment for a house was claimed on the ground of its being used for the purposes of stoking fodder, but it was proved that there was sufficient room in another house for keeping fodder where the judgment-debtor's cattle were tied: Held, that it was, under the circumstances, not exempt from the attachment, as it was not occupied by the judgment-debtor bonafide for the purposes of agriculture. A I R 1934-L 177.

An agriculturist for the purposes of the section is a person whose main source of livelihood is agriculture. As to cases where a person cultivates his own land and aggregate income derived from his labour and ownership of the land is spent on the maintenance of himself and his family no hard and fast rule can be laid down. Each case depends on its own circumstances. A I R 1931 All 20-14 R D 716-L R 11 A 340 Rev=Ind Rul (1931) All 553-132 I C 809.

building purposes. The Judge himself does not ascribe to them any other profession. In the circumstances of this case, we are satisfied that these persons are agriculturists and they occupy this house in that capacity. 1932 A L J 499=138 I C 67=16 R D 506=I R 1932 A 361-13 L R 340 (Rev)=A I R 1932 A 499=A L R 1932 a 865.

—The intention of S. 60, in the proviso in question, is that an agriculturist should not be deprived of his means of livelihood by having his house and other buildings taken from him. Where a decree was passed against the assets of a Hindu father, a member of a joint Hindu family, in hands of his undivided son, held, accordingly, that it was the occupation of the son and not that of the father that ought to be considered. 1932 A L J 675=A I R 1932 A 508=138 I C 685 (1)=16 R D 599=I R 1932 A 491 (2)=A L R 1932 A 883.

—The term "agriculturist" is used in S. 60 (1) (c) to denote a person making his living by tilling the soil; in other words one whose sole means of livelihood is gained by cultivating land and does not necessarily mean a person who works with his hands. It includes a small holder of land who tills the soil; but not a large landed proprietor even though his sole income is derived from land. The property of an agriculturist to be exempt under S. 60 (1) (c) must be shown to have been occupied by him as such for purposes of agriculture, that is, in order to enable the owner or occupier to cultivate the land. 8 O W N 135=136 I C 335=16 R D 130=I R 1932 O 127=A I R 1932 O 76=A L R 1932 O 170.

—Whether the word "agriculturist" as used in S. 60 (c) denotes a person making his living by tilling the soil and whether a judgment-debtor who is a Government servant cannot be said to have his sole means of livelihood by cultivating the land. see 9 O W N 1144=16 R D 539.

—The mere fact that these persons have obtained permission to build houses on a portion of the land which was formerly their occupancy tenancy does not necessarily imply that they have themselves ceased to be agriculturists or that they no longer occupy this house in the capacity of agriculturists. 1932 A L J 499=138 I C 67=16 R D 506=A I R 1932 A 499=I R 1932 A 361-13 L R A 340 (Rev.)=A L R 1932 A 865.

(1) General principles, scope and object.

—Attachment before judgment is covered by attachment in S. 64, but is not a process in execution of a decree. A I R 1922 Nag 238=68 I C 183.

—S. 64 aims at the benefit of decree-holder who can agree to forgo it and such agreement is binding on transferee of decree with knowledge of it. A I R 1923 Mad 230=16 L W 988=44 M L J 80=(1923) M W N 51=31 M L T 423=72 I C 839.

—Claims enforceable under the decree in execution of which attachment is made are not referred to by S. 64. A I R 1921 Oudh 176=8 O L J 358=66 I C 642.

—S. 64 renders void only alienations pending attachment and not alienation by a successful claimant after claim order but before institution of a suit under O. 21 R 63. 38 Mad 535=26 M L J 449=25 I C 11.

—The section was held inapplicable to compromise of attached decree under which the decree-holder accepted a reduced sum as consideration for withdrawal of an application for leave to appeal to Privy Council. A L R 1932 A 984=1932 A L J 792.

—S. 64 is applicable to sale by consent or with connivance of decree-holder. A I R 1927 Mad 648=38 M L T 310=101 I C 591.

—O. XI, r. 53 and not S. 64 governs attachment to money-decree. A I R 1929 Pat 1=7 Pat 726=9 P L T 822=113 I C 673.

—S. 64 contemplates attachment under which execution sale is held and not attachment of creditor who is paid off. A I R 1928 Bom 545=30 Bom L R 1488=Ind Rul (1929) Bom 318=115 I C 414.

—And it has no application to a case of sale by judgment-debtor after order of attachment, but before completion under O. XI, r. 54. A I R 1929 Bom 395=53 B 851=31 Bom L R 1111=Ind Rul (1930) Bom 222=123 I C 510.

—The section does not draw any distinction between attachment before or after judgment. A I R 1929 Cal 494=33 C W N 805=57 C 274=Ind Rul (1930) Cal 269=122 I C 637.

—S. 64 does not relate to private alienation of property after the issue of an ad interim injunction restraining alienation, but to private alienation after attachment by order of Court. A I R 1930 Lah 858=Ind Rul (1931) Lah 32=128 I C 304.

(2) Alienation under invalid attachment.

—Invalid attachment of mortgagee's interest—Payment by mortgagor pending attachment—Validity 28 M L J 338=39 Mad 389=28 I C 284.

—Where the attachment itself is wrong, the sale of properties so attached is a fresh and greater invasion of the rights of the lawful owner. The person injured might have sued but is not bound to sue. The attachment gives the creditor only certain rights. The title to the properties continues in the owner and will so continue, even if his objection to the attachment be disallowed. The sale passes the title. It affects the owner's title differently and to a greater degree than an attachment. (1911) 2 M W N 531.

(3) Attachment does not create a charge.

—See also under (7-a) Effect of Attachment. Attachment does not create any charge or lien on the attached property, nor does it confer any title on attaching creditor, but merely prevents private alienation. 19 C W N 1159=31 I C 664.

—See to the same effect 69 I C 720 =A I R 1923 L 261=3 Lah 414; and 31 Bom L R 1209=122 I C 836=A I R 1930 B 16.

—No title is conferred by attachment on attaching creditor, which merely prevents private alienations, and he is to be classed with other creditors. A I R 1929 Cal 524=57 C 122=Ind Rul (1930) Cal 369=123 I C 737.

—Attachment merely prevents alienation but gives no priority to first attaching creditor. 38 Mad 221=29 I C 239.

—Attachment does not confer title by way of charge or otherwise on the attaching creditor, but prevents private alienations only and not Court sale of attached property. A I R 1921 Mad 30=44 M 232=40 M L J 65=(1921) M W N 53=62 I C 121.

—Attachment neither passes title, nor creates any charge on the property, and as such it gives no cause of action for a suit by reversioners for a declaration. A I R 1929 Lah 90=10 Lah L J 491=30 P L R 6=10 Lah 543=113 I C 907.

—Attachment of property subsequent to its mortgage or encumbrance created pendente lite is not binding on the mortgagee. A I R 1921 Cal 801=33 C L J 7=62 I C 167.

—Attachment affects only the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor at the date of attachment and does not affect rights created by judgment-debtor against him prior to attachment. 21 C W N 158=23 C L J 115=34 I C 953.

C. P. C. (1908) SEC. 64 (Contd)

(3) Attachment does not create a charge. (Concl'd)

—An attaching creditor only acquires the rights that the debtor had. The attachment does not affect the prior rights of third parties. A I R 1931 Cal 474=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 625=58 Cal 1=133 I C 97.

—Execution sale of property in pursuance of subsequent attachment prohibits a resale of the same under a previous attachment at the instance of another decree holder. 55 I C 558=2 U P L R 105.

—Attachment is not binding from the date of order of attachment, but when all processes of attachment necessary under law to effect valid attachment have been served. A I R 1931 Pat 58=9 Pat 860=12 P L T 398=Ind Rul (1931) Pat 94=129 I C 142.

(4) Claims enforceable under the attachment.

—Private alienation is void only as against all claims enforceable under the attachment. Attachment ceases with the end of execution of proceedings, and no claim for rateable distribution of other decree is cognisable if attachment has ceased 12 I C 572=35 B 516=13 Bom L R 977.

—The purchaser is subject to the same liabilities as the judgment-debtor was and does not by reason of his transfer get any higher rights 63 M L J 945=36 L W 781=140 I C 600.

—S 64 invalidates a purchase during pendency of attachment against all claims enforceable under it and purchaser is not entitled to a lien for his purchase-money. 34 I C 34.

—Temporary discontinuance of attachment does not effect the decree-holder's rights. Alienation during attachment is invalid. Decree-holder cannot claim benefit of s. 60 unless he has secured title from the Court and has a claim enforceable under the attachment. 2 Lah L J 99.

—Irregular dismissal of execution proceeding does not terminate attachment, and where a decree is attached in execution of another decree, alienation of the former decree is void as against the claims enforceable under the attachment and the holder of the latter decree is entitled to proceed with execution. (1918) Pat 353=48 I C 786.

execution-proceedings were pending before the Collector the plaintiff obtained another money-decree in another suit against B and in execution of it the same property was again attached. The proceedings under the latter decree were also transferred by the Civil Court to the Collector. While the Collector was in management of B's property and taking steps for the execution of the first decree, the plaintiff informed that, as B had satisfied the decree, the necessity for sale had disappeared and that the darkhast could be disposed of. This was done and the papers formally forwarded to the Court. In the meantime, B executed a deed of sale of the property to the defendant in consideration of the latter's satisfying the plaintiff's first decree and other debts of B. The plaintiff obtained a third decree against B in execution of which the property was sold through the Civil Court and was purchased by the plaintiff himself at the Court sale. He then sued for a declaration that the property in the hands of the defendant was liable to be attached and sold in execution of his second decree which remained unsatisfied. Held, (1) that the sale in question was not void as the decree presupposed a decree which had to be satisfied and which was therefore, capable of execution. That could not be said of a decree, which its holder, by his declaration to the Collector or was not subsisting but acknowledged to have been, satisfied. (2) That s. 276 C P C 1882 did not apply, since, though the attachment had existed at the date of the sale and was never formally raised darkhast claim having been satisfied was no longer enforceable under it. Held, further that the second attachment itself was illegal under the provisions of the last portion of the first paragraph of s. 225-A, and it could not affect the private sale to the defendant by B; and that the sale was not illegal and void under s. 276, there being no claim enforceable under such an attachment. Held, also that the sale could not be invalidated, even under the combined effect of ss. 276 and 295 read together. 13 Bom L R 977-12 I C 572.

(1) General principles, scope and object

—(a) General:—This section is exactly opposite in effect to the corresponding S. 316 of the old Code. The title to the property sold is now to vest in the purchaser from the date of the sale. For a history of the legislation on this point see under headings (5-a) and (8) infra. As to the effect of the change in the new Code on Bengal Tenancy Act, See 23 I C 100.

—(c) Effect of new interpretation of law on sale:—In execution of a decree against the holder by custom of primogeniture of an impartible zamindari, his right, title and interest was sold in 1876. By the law as then interpreted, such holder had only a limited interest and no power of alienation beyond his life time. Subsequently, this interpretation was reversed by the Judicial Committee, which decided that the holder of an impartible estate had an absolute interest and made it alienable, unless a custom against alienation was proved. In a suit by a purchaser at a sale against the successor by survivorship to the judgment-debtor for possession of the subject of the sale on the ground that the plaintiff had purchased an absolute interest in it, held, the reversal of the previously received interpretation of the law did not displace its application to the contract contained in the certificate of sale in 1876, the parties to which were bound by the law as then understood, and that only the life-interest of the then holder passed by the sale. 27 Mad 131 See also 1 Cal L J 176; and 43 C 334; and 13 C L J 641=10 I C 510; and 94 I C 68=23 L W 349=A I R 1926 M 851 and 37 M 22.

(2) Effect of reversal of decree upon sale where decree reversed after confirmation of sale.

—Reversal of decree in appeal does not affect a bonafide purchaser in execution of decree pending the appeal. "Goodfaith" means absence of fraud, relation of agent or benamidar to decree-holder etc. 30 M L J 497=19 M L T 381=(1916) 2 M W N 73=34 I C 760.

(3) Effect of reversal of decree upon sale where decree reversed before confirmation of sale.

—Between the Court Sale and its confirmation the judgment-debtor is entitled to have the Sale set aside, and the purchaser has in equity a good title, and as such, money spent by the latter on the property after the Sale cannot be recovered from the former if the sale is set aside. A I R 1928 Pat 552=9 P L T 795=111 I C 243.

—Confirmation of the previous sale of property through one Court prevents its subsequent sale through another Court in execution of another decree from materializing although confirmed, but title by second sale dates back from the date of the sale, if the first one is not confirmed and set aside. A I R 192 Bom 483=27 Bom L R 963=83 I C 962 —Under the present section, however, the decree under which the property is sold need not be subsisting at the time of the confirmation of the sale.

(1) Father's Debt

—Where in a suit on a mortgage a decree absolute for sale has been obtained against a deceased mortgagor without substituting or mentioning his sons as his heirs and a sale has taken place, the sons cannot challenge the sale, 28 C 73 ref. Sons under the Mitakshara law have not right to redeem the self-acquired property of their father sold in execution of a mortgage-decree obtained against the latter. 35 I C 404.

(2) Purchaser at auction-sale

—Title of bonafide purchaser at execution sale is not affected on the ground that the decree has been set aside in appeal. 30 M L J 497=19 M L T 381=(1916) 2 M W N 73=34 I C 760 see also 19 M L T 93=32 I C 391.

—The title of the auction-purchaser is derived from the sale and not from the sale certificate. It accrues on the sale becoming absolute but takes effect from the date of sale itself. ## (2) Certified purchaser and his representatives —Owing to the substitution of the "against any person claiming title under a purchaser certified by the Court in such manner as be prescribed" in the present section for the words "against a certified purchaser" in the old section the Bombay view has obtained a legislative recognition. Thus suits against representative of certified purchaser are barred by S. 66. Possession by real owner through certified purchaser is insufficient to give him any title if it is for shorter period than statutory. Oral declaration of trust in respect of immovable property is unenforceable even if it is followed by accounting of profits to cestuique trust. 28 M L J 251=7 M L T 158= (1915) M W N 204=28 I C 203.

(7) Suit by beneficial owner in possession for declaration of title

—S. 66 must be construed strictly, it bars suits by persons claiming to be beneficial owners against certified owners. The principle of advancement is inapplicable in India to purchases made in the names of children 2 Lah L J 353.

—S. 66 bars a suit by real owner for declaration of his title against a certified purchaser on the ground of benami purchase. (1916) 1 M W N 220=3 M L W 86=32 I C 434.

—But it does not bar a suit by real purchaser in possession of properties purchased for declaration of his title against a benamidar purchaser at auction sale. 7 L B R 260=25 I C 810.

—Where land bought by a mahomedan father at Court sale with his money in the name of one of his sons is settled with a tenant attorning to him and paying rents to his heirs after his death the suit by heirs for arrears of rent against tenant and certified purchaser is maintainable. 24 C W N 51=54 I C 127.

—S. 66 does not bar a suit by infant to recover property purchased at execution sale by manager of infant in his own name with infant's fund 30 I C 212.

—The object of s. 66 is to check benami purchases. Suit by real purchaser against benamidar is not maintainable on fact of possession. 43 Cal 20=20 C W N 147=29 I C 787.

S. 66 does not bar a suit by a real owner seeking for a declaration of his real title against one not claiming under certified purchaser A I R 1928 Cal 448=55 C 1070=32 C W N 759=108 I C 585, S 66 has no application where the plaintiff as owner sues for declaration of title to certain property, merely because of the existence of earlier benami transactions between plaintiff's vendor and the defendants. ## (8) Suit by a third person for a declaration that the certified purchaser is merely a benamidar.

Or a suit for declaration that the purchase made by the defendant certified purchaser is benami for plaintiff. 32 I C 365=2 O L J 584.

sale by father in name of another separated son. Ind Rul (1929) All 921=118 I C 713.

--So also it bars a suit against a certified purchaser defendant as being a benamidar. Ind Rul (1929) All 921=118 I C 713.

—S. 66 must be construed in a strict sense and not extended beyond its express terms. S. 66 bars a suit to oust a certified purchaser on the ground that his purchase was really made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims, but it does not bar a suit based on prior contract to convey property. S. 66 is a bar to an enquiry whether certified purchaser is real or nominal purchaser A I R 1921 Pat 39=(1921) Pat 21=62 I C 720.

—But a person is only barred by S. 66 from attempting to enforce his secret title as against a sale certificate holder. A I R 1923 Cal 302=27 C W N 208=37 C L J 403=75 I C 196.

—Evidence as to the auction purchaser being benami for another is not excluded by S. 66 if such evidence is relevant. A I R 1925 Oudh 20=11 O L J 466=84 I C 98.

—Suit against certified purchaser buying Benami—Applicability to sales under Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act See 16 O L J 412=16 C W N 973=15 I C 291 (Dissenting from (1905) I C L J 550 (556).

(9) Suit for a declaration that the insertion of purchaser's name in the sale certificate was fraudulent or an authorized etc.

—S. 66 does not bar a suit for declaration that property purchased by one member of joint Hindu family is a joint family property. 18 O. C. 160=2 O. L. J 283=30 I C 279.

—So where in execution of a mortgage-decree the property mortgaged is purchased by one of the co-mortgagees, suit by other co-mortgagees for his share of the property is not barred by S. 66 25 I C 735.

—So also where in execution of a money-decree the property of judgment-debtor was purchased by one of decree-holders, suit by the other decree holders against the purchaser for share of the property on the ground of benami purchase is not maintainable. 29 I C 447.

C. P. C. (1908) SEC. 66 (Contd)*(10) Suit for specific performance of contract of sale or purchase.

—S. 66 applies to a contract before the execution sale but not to a contract after the execution sale. 136 I C 538-I R 1932 C 218-A I R 1932 C 170.

—and it validates an agreement to sell property to be purchased at Court-sale.

A I R 1923 Nag 11-68 I C 559.

—And it also bars a suit for enforcement of agreement by benamidar auction purchaser to execute sale-deed to real owner. 29 I C 138.

—S. 66 aims at checking benami purchases at execution-sale. Agreement by purchaser at court auction to convey property purchased is enforceable. 24 C W N 699-18 A L J 584-28 M L T 13-39 M L J 11-12 M L W 1-(1920) M W N 389-47 I A 108-43 Mad 643-56 I C 395.

—Suit by judgment-debtor for recovery of property under an agreement to purchase in execution for benefit of judgment-debtor and to recover the property to the latter is barred by s. 66. 50 I C 546.

—But the second proviso to s. 66 is no bar to specific performance of agreement by purchaser at Court sale before the deposit of balance, to share the property with others. Certificate of sale is to be granted to the person declared to be purchaser after the bids are concluded. 24 C W N 27-54 I C 726.

So a suit to enforce specific performance of agreement by auction-purchaser to convey the property purchased to plaintiff is not barred even though it contains a plea that auction-purchaser is benamidar. 42 Mad 615-37 M L J 98-26 M L T 46-(1919) M W N 355-9 L W 598-51 I C 111 (F B).

(1) General principles, scope, and object.

—Applicability & Scope:—S. 73 aims at equitable distribution of assets between decree-holders applying for execution of their decrees before realization of assets, and as such attention should be given more to the substance than to the form of application. A I R 1929 Mad 703-52 M 760-57 M L J 97-30 L W 110-(1929) M W N 611-Ind Rul (1929) Mad 760-118 I C 72.

—The section does not follow the general principle of "first come, first served as was asserted in" A I R 1928 Mad 129-107 I C 298.

—And is inapplicable where assets are not liable to be rateably distributed. A I R 1922 Mad 99-42 M L J 473-30 M L T 178-(1922) M W N 184-15 L W 421-67 I C 546.

—Nor where money is desposited by judgment-debtor in Court for payment to a particular decree holder, but where money is realised in execution by process of Court. A I R 1925 Nag 157-81 I C 7.

—No change has been made by the word "passed" in the law prior to C. P. C. 1908. The object of s. 73 is to prevent unnecessary multiplicity of execution proceedings and to place all decree-holders upon the same footing. A I R 1924 Cal 801-51 C 761-39 C L J 439-28 C W N 704-78 I C 731.

—Hypothecation of moveables without possession is governed by s. 73. A I R 1924 Cal 990-80 I C 20.

(3) Attachment before Judgment

—No right in the property attached is conferred by attachment before judgment on the person obtaining the order for attachment. Suit to recover assets wrongly distributed is maintainable. 37 All 575-13 A L J 732-29 I C 622.

—A decree-holder who has obtained an order of attachment before judgment cannot claim rateable distribution if he obtains his decree after realization of assets. Erroneous order of a Subordinate Court allowing rateable distribution is open to revision by High Court. 21 C L J 614-30 I C 38.

—S. 73 A with two decrees against D on different dates, and under both, D's goods attached before judgment. B also with decree against D and D's goods attached between dates of two attachments by A. All decrees passed by Small Cause Court, Calcutta. A applied to the Munsif at N and B applied to the Sub-Judge at D for execution by whom the goods were sold. A applied for rateable distribution to the Sub-Judge at D but the application was disallowed. Held, that as regards the decree, the attachment due to which was prior to that of B, he was entitled to rateable distribution and as regards the other, he had no right. 25 C W N 740-63 I C 11.

(4) Assets available for rateable distribution

—In the present section the words "before the receipt of assets" have been substituted for the words "prior to the realisation" so as to make the meaning clear. "Assets" include money paid by judgment-debtor under O. XXI, r. 43 and such money is liable to rateable distribution. A I R 1926 Bom 242-28 Bom L R 237-93 I C 852.

—Money deposited by surities for release of an attachment before judgment is liable for rateable distribution under s. 73. High Court interferes under s. 115 where no appeal is allowed. A I R 1922 Cal 19-26 C W N 169-70 I C 539.

—Where property is sold in execution of decrees against brothers forming a joint Hindu family, decree-holder against one of the brothers can claim rateable distribution only to the extent of his share in the property sold. A I R 1928 Mad 362-54 M L J 278-27 L W 804-109 I C 557.

—Money in hands of Execution Court is liable to be distributed pro-rata among execution creditors whose attachments are registered before receipt of assets, and money attached by different courts will be distributed in order of time. A I R 1927 Bom 405-29 Bom L R 689-106 I C 184.

—Assets of partnership held by a Receiver in a partnership action are available to creditors of partnership in satisfaction of their decrees without waiting for the result of partnership accounts. A I R 1927 Bom 405-29 Bom L R 689-106 I C 184.

—Money realised by sale of judgment-debtor's property in execution of one decree, and deposited to the credit of the decree-holder's suit, is liable to rateable distribution with the other decree-holder against the same judgment-debtor who had attached the deposit before judgment, and had applied for payment of the money deposited after obtaining a decree. A I R 1921 Mad 481-14 L W 582=(1921) M W N 817-70 I C 20.

—Money paid by Judgment-debtor in execution to a Sheriff who paid it into Court, is assets liable for rateable distribution. The right to rateable distribution does not apply to costs of a previous application for execution, but is limited to the amount due under the decree. 47 Cal 515-59 I C 458.

—Fund in custody of one Court to the credit of a person attached by another Court in execution of a decree against him becomes "assets" as soon as it is transferred to execution Court, and if the executing Court and custody Court are the same the fund becomes the assets by order of attachment coupled a formal order of transfer of the fund to the credit of the suit in which execution is sought. 44 Mad 100-39 M L J 608-60 I C 302=(1921) M W N 14-12 L W 744 (F B).

—Money remaining in the hands of a rival decree-holder purchaser is liable to rateable distribution as it is as at the disposal of the Court and can be ordered to be paid into the Court. 43 I C 715.

—Where Several decree-holders against the same judgment-debtor have attached and brought to sale property of the judgment-debtor permission granted by Court to raise money by private alienation to pay off one of the decree-holders is improper, and all the decree-holders are entitled to rateable distribution of the money so paid in Court as it is "assets" 41 M 616-35 M L J 150=(1918) M W N 524-47 I C 538.

—Money paid to Sheriff who paid it into Court in execution of a decree is "assets" available for rateable distribution Costs of previous execution application cannot be claimed in rateable distribution. 47 Cal 515-59 I C 458.

—Though O. 21 r. 89 C. P. C. mentions payment to the decree-holder that is only an injunction to the judgment-debtor as to what amount he has to pay for the purpose of getting the sales set aside. The sale may be held at the instance of one of the execution creditors, but any money received from the judgment-debtor in Court under pressure of the sale must enure for the benefit of all the execution creditors who have acquired a claim to rateable distribution under S. 73, 40 Cal 719 not approved A L R 1933 N 388.

—Although r. 89, O 21 specifically mentions payments to the decree-holder, it cannot be interpreted so as to make the money not available for rateable distribution, since it is only an intimation to the judgment-debtor as to the amount he is to pay for the purpose of getting the sale set aside. If the auction-purchaser deposits the purchase-money in Court, there is no question that it is available for distribution among the various decree-holders. One fails to see why if the decretal amount was voluntarily paid by the judgmentdebtor or with a view to set aside the sale, that money could not be rateable distributed only because the judgment-debtor voluntarily pays the money into Court. Whatever money is realized in execution at the instance of one decree-holder becomes assets held by the Court within the meaning of S. 73 C. P. C., for the benefit of all decree-holders who have applied for execution before the receipt of the assets. 28 N L R 179 (183)-A I R 1932 N 156-140 I C 293-I R 1932 N 143-A L R 1932 N 217.

—Property attached—judgment-debtor paying decretal amount to decree-holder—amounts to deposit under O 21 r. 89—assets for rateable distribution. See A L R 1933 N 82.

(5) Assets held by Court.

—The scope of the section is very much widened by the substitution of the words "where assets are held by a Court" for the words "whenever assets are realised by sale or otherwise in execution of a decree" which occurred in the old section. The word is not confined to "assets realised by sale or otherwise" in execution of a decree—Money paid into Court by judgment-debtor in part satisfaction of a decree is an asset held by the Court within the meaning of the section, and other decree-holders who had also applied for execution before the money was so paid into Court are entitled to rateable distribution. 54 A 516 (519)=1932 A L J 359-138 I C 106-I R 1932 A 369-A I R 1932 A 411-A L R 1932 A 546.

—S. 73 does not lend validity to the view that the money realised by the Court under pressure of execution is alone capable of a rateable distribution and not that which is voluntarily paid by the judgment-debtor in the course of the execution proceedings "Assets held by the Court" is an expression which is wide enough to cover such money as comes into the custody of the Court otherwise than by a coercive process 28 N L R 179 (182)-A I R 1932 N 156-140 I C 293-I R 1932 N 143-A L R 1932 N 217.

—Money paid into Court for the benefit of the decree-holder under O. 21, r 89 becomes assets in the hands of a court in the same way as any other money paid for his benefit, whether realised by the sale or paid in to avoid attachment and the fact that under O 21, r. 89 this money is described as being paid for payment to the decree-holder does not make it earmarked for his exclusive benefit any more than any other money realised under stress of ex-

- (12) Powers of Court to delegate its powers to Commissioner.
- (13) Miscellaneous Cases.

(1) General principles, scope and object

—This section merely summarises the general powers of the Court as detailed in sections 333 to 396 of the Code of 1882. The provisions of those sections are now set out in the Rules under Order XXVI. The powers under S. 75 cannot be exercised unless a suit is pending. Rules in the First Schedule and High Court Rules control the Section. A I R 1922 Bom 444=24 Bom L R 858=47 Bom 250=75 I C 221.

(2) Appeal

—It would be obviously unfair to compel a defendant, who resides at Colomabo, to come to Cuttack, where a suit for account has been instituted against him, to be examined in Court or practically to abandon his defence. He should be examined on commission. Where interrogatories for the examination of a defendant cannot be issued owing to the failure of plaintiffs to furnish a translation of their account papers, the commission should be issued without the interrogatories. The discretion of a Court must be exercised judicially. If there has been an erroneous exercise which has prejudiced the parties, the Court of Appeal will not hesitate to set matters right, whether the order directs the issue of a Commission or refuses the application. 16 I C 750.

(3) Commissioner and his powers.

—A Commissioner is a person appointed by Court, whose decision is not binding on the parties who may Challenge it, and an arbitrator is a person selected by

—In an application for the examination of a Hindu lady, (a pardanashin) under commission the question is not whether the lady, who does more or less frequently go about in public, should be made to appear in Court, but whether the Court ought to compel her to continue to appear in public. If there were allegations that such a lady had been in the habit of appearing in public and had no regard to the customs of her country and her religion, such allegations being denied in general terms, the Court should not force into public gaze a woman who may have gone outside the purdah, and a commission should be issued, for examining her as a witness. 26 C 651 Note=3 C W N 750; followed in 3 C W N 751=26 C 650; see also 26 C L J 319; and 18 W R 230; and 3 C W N 753; and 4 S L R 257=11 I C 582; and 3 C L R 93=4 C 20; and 11 P W R 1913=43 P L R 1913=18 I C 147.

—Examination of party to suit or proceeding—see 11 Ind Cas 668.

—Examination of complainant by commission—see 18 C W N 1020.

(7) Commission to examine or adjust accounts

—Court unable to come to any decision may order a party to submit certain papers to Commissioner asking him to state in his report whether what had been submitted was adequate and also whether the party should not be ordered to pay money compensation for what has not been supplied because the Court will necessarily consider the matter after the Commissioner submits his report. A I R 1926 Cal 57=89 I C 24.

—But no commission to render proper account of improvements can be issued to two persons. A I R 1929 Mad 661=Ind Rul (1929) Mad 792=118 I C 296.

—It is improper to arbitrarily withhold permission to examine accounts in Court. 18 C W N 697.

C. P. C. (1908) SEC. 75 (Contd)*(8-9) Commission to make a partition.

Where a Commissioner appointed on application of one of the parties after the passing of final decree for partition grants in execution more to that party through mistake and another Commissioner is appointed on application by other party unaware of the previous proceedings for allocation of his share under partition decree the latter can rectify previous Commissioner's mistake. A I R 1931 Cal 170=84 C W N 909=130 I C 840

(10-11) Jurisdiction of court to go behind Commissioner's report.

—Appointment of a Commissioner under O. 26 rr. 9, 10 bars a successive appointment unless the first commissioner has so misconceived his fundamental duties as to render his report useless. Where a party objects to the report the Court must judiciously examine the facts upon which the objection is based so as to come to the correct conclusion as to the value of the report. A L R 1933. A 475.

—Taking of accounts—power to decide questions of Law—Court's jurisdiction See, 18 Bom L R 798.

(12) Powers of Court to delegate its powers to Commissioner.

—Where a commission for local investigation is issued to elucidate any matter in dispute, the Court cannot delegate to the Commissioner the trial of any material issue which the Court itself is bound to try. The fact that the parties took no objection to a finding on such a material issue by the Commissioner is not sufficient for the Court to adopt it. A I R 1930 Cal 76=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 192=53 C L J 229 =129 I C 416.

—Court cannot delegate to Commissioner the trial of material issue, and as such, the report of a Commissioner referred to make local investigation and report if land was re-formed or accretion cannot be adopted by the Court simply because the parties do not object to the findings made by the Commissioner being adopted. A I R 1930 Cal 764=53 C L J 299=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 192=129 I C 416.

certain purposes, is not a suit for all purposes S. 80 itself places the embargo created by it upon a suit only. Not only does the section expressly use the word 'suit' but it also provides that "the plaint shall contain a statement that such notice has been so delivered or left". It is, therefore, clear that the civil proceeding governed by the section must be a suit which is initiated by a plaint. The object of the notice required by S. 80 is to inform the Secretary of State of the public officer of the claim which it is contemplated to bring against him and to afford him an opportunity to settle it, if so advised without litigation. If an agreement to refer to arbitration has been entered into by him, he is already in possession of all the information required by him; and it would be an act of supererogation to give him a notice repeating the same information. 13 L 672 (675-6) —1932 P C L 790 Civ=33 P L R 508=137 I C 266=I R 1932 L 314=A I R 1932 L 374 =A I R 1932 L 790 (Civ).

—Very little distinction is made by the section between suits against the Secretary of State for India in Council and as against public officers. Only this distinction is left between the two classes of suits that, whereas in the absence of a notice under S. 80, the Secretary of State for India in Council cannot be made a defendant in any suit, no matter what its character may be, a public officer may without such a notice be defendant in a suit, in which no act of his is in question but he is made a party for some reason or other. The restrictive words in the section were unnecessary and would be inopposite in the case of the Secretary of State for India in Council firstly, because the Secretary of State for India in Council is a statutory body which has no capacity but an official one; and, secondly, because he is often responsible for the acts of other public bodies and officers. 59 C 961 (977) =55 C L J 8=138 I C 4=A I R 1932 C 275 =I R 1932 C 401=A L R 1932 C 1037.

and stated. There is no exception in favour of the Secretary of State as to the contents of the statutory notice where he is suing as plaintiff. But, where the question is whether a particular document said to be sent in the name of or on behalf of the Secretary of State was really so sent and says so with sufficient clearness to give notice to the defendants, the Court might import a little common sense in deciding the question. Held, —As to applicability of Code to proceedings under the Arbitration Act. See. 17 I C 902.

(2) Appeal.

—On an application under para 20, Sch. II, a decree on an award as modified by a lawful compromise filed by the parties can be passed by the Court, and no appeal lies from such a decree except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award so modified. A I R 1922 Oudh 189=9 O L J 219=25 O C 213=681 C 209.

(3) "Any other law in force".

—The words 'any other law for the time being in force' in s. 89 refer to O. XXIII r. 3, and the words 'by any lawful agreement or compromise' in O.

(1) Legislative Changes.

—The words "public purposes of a charitable or religious nature" have been substituted for the words "public charitable and religious nature" so as to clear away the doubts arisen under the old Code and to widen the scope of the section. So also the words "in the principal court of original jurisdiction" have been substituted for the words "in the High Court or the District Court" and the words "or any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government" newly added.

—Clause (a) is new as also the clause (d) and the sub-section (2) So also the words "whether contentious or not" are new, and the words "what proportion of the trust property or of the interest therein shall be allocated to any particular object of the trust" have been substituted for the words "the proportion in which its objects are entitled." Since repeal of the word "direct" by Act 7 of 1888 the plff. need not now have "direct interest" so as to come under S. 92.

going to the Thakurbari in dispute for the purposes of puja is not one of the reliefs set out in cls. (a) to (h) of S. 92. It is no doubt true that in a suit properly framed under s. 92 a relief may be granted to the plaintiff which may ultimately amount to an injunction restraining the defendant from prohibiting the plaintiff from performing puja in the Thakurbari but, it is not a relief which is contemplated by s. 92 and there is no bar to the grant of such relief on account of the absence of the consent of the Advocate-General. Claim that Thakurbari was public property—The relief asked for by the plaintiff was not one of the reliefs set out in s. 92, Civil P. C. requiring the previous sanction of the Advocate-General—Also held that though it is true that in a suit properly instituted under s. 92 C. P. C. the defendant may raise the objection that the property was not the property of the nature of an express or Constructive trust created for public purposes, and on such objection being taken the Court has to decide whether or not the subject matter of dispute is such as the defendant claims to be, yet that does not take away the jurisdiction of the ordinary Civil Court to make a declaration that a particular property is a property belonging to the general public. —The words "trust" and "trustee" as used in S. 92 have not been used in any technical sense of the term as used in English law or in the technical sense in which the word "wakf" is used in the Mahomedan Law. The words have been used in the ordinary sense. It has been held in long series of decisions that this section does apply to Mahomedan wakfs and to Hindu debotters where there is no conception of two estates and two ownerships. What is required for the purposes of S. 92 is to find whether or not there is a property burdened with obligations for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature. It will apply in all cases, whether wakf or not where there is a clear indication that there is an obligation annexed to the property in favour of religious or charitable objects of a public nature 11 P 288 (337)=12 P L T 817=136 I C 417=A I R 1932 P 33=I R 1932 P 81=A L R 1932 P 373.

able scheme settled by Court. A scheme once settled by Court cannot be altered except by the Court and then only on substantial grounds. A person cannot sue under s. 539. Civ Pro Code merely to establish his right as hereditary trustee. The High Courts and the District Courts in this country to which this jurisdiction is confined by s. 92, Civ Pro Code 1908 possess the same practically unlimited jurisdiction as the Court of Chancery possesses in matters relating to the public charities, religious or otherwise. Where the rights of a person, whose prayer to be included as party to a scheme suit under s. 539, Civ Pro Code, 1882 was refused, are prejudiced, his only remedy would seem to be to induce the Collector by taking action under s. 92, Civ Pro Code, 1908. 10 M L T 356=21 M L J 952=12 I C 449.

—A right of appeal must be given by statutory enactment. 40 Cal 21=23 M L J 276=16 C W N 961=16 C L J 245=12 M L T 195=(1912) M W N 781=14 Bom. L R 833=10 A L J 271=5 Bur L T 205=6 L B R 150=39 I A 197=16 I C 188 (P C).

—It cannot be assumed that there is a right of appeal in every matter which comes under the consideration of a judge. Such right must be given by a Statute or by some authority equivalent to a statute. Consequently if the right of appeal is challenged it is incumbent upon the appellant to establish the right to appeal. But unless the objection was obviously sound the appellant could hardly be expected to answer by anticipation the grounds that might possibly be assigned by the respondent in support of the objection. The practice therefore usually followed in the Calcutta High Court has been to require the respondent at the outset to indicate concisely the ground upon which his objection is based. 14 C L J 489=12 I C 745. (not following 8 B 287).

—Right to appeal exists in all civil proceedings though not called suits, unless it is expressly barred by the Code. A I R 1929 Mad 223=29 L W 237=(1929) M W N 62=56 M L J 387=Ind Rul (1929) Mad 425=115 I C 345.

The test for finding out whether a defendant against whom the suit is dismissed has a right of appeal is to see whether the appellant is aggrieved by the decree in spite of the dismissal of the suit. It is open to the parties to go behind the decree and see what really the adjudication was. 1913 M W N 690=14 M L T 189=21 I C 15 following 9 C W N 534.

—There is no right of appeal to a party against a decision in his favour on the ground that one of the findings is against him. 24 I C 36.

—But there is a conflict of opinion on this point as to which see S 11 Heard and Decided—Adverse findings.

—A vendee applied to withdraw the money deposited by the pre-emptor under a pre-emption decree. He again made another application saying that he had changed his mind and would not take the money deposited. He then filed an appeal against the decree. Held, that by simply making the application to withdraw the money the vendee did not accept the decree and did not lose his right of appeal. 13 A L J 677=29 I C 452.

—Person not a party to suit nor his representative has no right to appeal. 79 P R 1919=12 P W R 1919=49 I C 381.

—Party against whom suit is dismissed, if can appeal see 22 I C 961.

—Dismissal of suit—Test of finding whether defendant is entitled to appeal —Open to parties to go behind the decree and see what the decision is. See 21 I C 15.

(1) Legislative Changes

—The words " they may state the point of law upon which they differ and the appeal shall then be heard upon that point only or more of the other Judges and such point shall be decided in " the proviso to clause (2) have been substituted for the words " the appeal may be referred to one or more of the other Judges of the same Court and shall be decided." As to the result of this change see the observations of Jenkins C J. and of Mookerjee J. in the undermentioned cases. Per Jenkins, C. J. Before a reference to one or more of other Judges under S. 98 of the C. P. Code is made, the Judges hearing the appeal should come to a complete decision with the reservation of the points of law on which they differ and they should by their judgments make it clear what the result will be in case the point of law referred is decided one way or the other 22 I C 383=18 C W N 33

—Under S. 575 of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1882, it was the appeal that was referred to a third Judge. When the Judges hearing the appeal differed in opinion on a point of law, and on such reference, the whole appeal was open for agreement, and not merely the point of law on which the Judges had differed in opinion. Under S 98, sub-S. (2) of the Code of 1908, the proper procedure is to state the point of law upon which the judges differ, the appeal is then to be heard upon that point only and what is to be decided is not the appeal but the point of law only. 14 C L J 552=39 C 353 =16 C W N 817=13 I C 353.

—Where the appellate judgment did not refer to all material points for consideration in the case and it was clear that the Court had not applied its mind to the case fully a fresh disposal of the appeal should be directed. S 99 does not apply A I R 1931 Cal 164-52 C L J 566-130 I C 573.

—The words "not affecting the jurisdiction of the Court" mean not affecting the competency of the Court to try—17 Cal 155. As to the distinction between irregularity and want of jurisdiction, see 3 P D at p 128. This section only applies to mistakes and irregularities subsequently committed in a suit which has been instituted in such a way as to give the Court jurisdiction to try it. 26 Bom 259; it does not apply where the proceedings and the decree passed by a lower Court are without jurisdiction—5 All H C 55. The section is retrospective in operation 22 M L J 225-13 I C 788.

(2) Error, defect or irregularity in proceedings in suit.

—No decree can be reversed or case remanded for any irregularity, error or defect not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of Court, such as trying the suit together Marsh, 45; 54 All 289.

—Minor appearing through different guardian—No objection taken is defect curable under s. 99. 61 I C 605.

—But a minor is sued without guardian—Omission to appoint guardian of a minor is fatal. A I R 1921 Cal 534-25 C W N 525-62 I C 464.

—Plaint signed and verified by next friend of a plaintiff who was major before institution of the suit is not valid as it is a material irregularity. A I R 1924 All 54-45 A 701-L R 4 A 342-21 A L J 626-77 I C 30.

—Although a formal appointment of a guardian ad-litem is necessary in a suit against a minor under O 32 R 3, when a suit against a minor has been a prior right under R 3 (4) to be appointed guardian-ad-litem and no ground is shown which would justify a Court in excluding him from the guardianship-ad-litem, the want of formal appointment is only an irregularity that is curable under S 99 of the C P Code, 30 Cal 1021 foll. There is no provision in the C P Code for the formal appointment of a next friend in a suit by a minor. If a next friend or guardian-ad-litem refers a suit to arbitration without the leave of the Court a suit will lie to set aside any decree based on an award of the arbitrators in such reference without leave. 9 Bur L T 158-33 I C 941.

—Guardian-ad-litem—Effectual representation of minor in proceedings—No formal notice to guardian—Not a material defect See 35 I C 404.

—Court's refusal to summon witnesses or examine them affects the merits of the case. A I R 1923 Nag 58-68 I C 272.

—Section 99 applies when Appellate Court admits additional evidence not affecting merits. A I R 1921 Sind 155-16 S L R 17-66 I C 833.

—Court having wrong view as to onus not affecting merits is not fatal. Appellate Court will not interfere. A I R 1923 Nag 62-69 I C 541.

—Judgment though based on inadmissible evidence is curable by s 99 if it is based on positive evidence for plaintiff and absence of evidence for the defendant. The case need not be remanded. A I R 1924 Cal 370-71 I C 300.

—Even after the Court's finding that the defendant is major the suit be not amended, and the major defends the suit with a plea that irregularity is cured by the conduct of the parties. A I R 1923 All 257-L R 4 A 291-71 I C 447.

—Deposition of expert admitted on being signed by him—Failure by Judge to sign it is a mere irregularity, A I R 1923 Nag 7-68 I C 564; see also 35 I C 404.

—Plaintiff failed to sign plaint which he filed through agent. Power-of-attorney was not given to agent and no cause was shown for failure to sign the plaint. No objection to this was taken. This is a mere irregularity curable by s. 99. A I R 1923 Rang 206-1 R 42-74 I C 100.

—Absence of a formal order of appointing guardian ad litem is a mere irregularity when the Court by its action is supposed to have sanctioned the appointment. If there be no fraud or collusion, even failure to give notice to the minor concerned is not fatal. A I R 1923 Oudh 206-25 O C 113-74 I C 409.

—No fraud, but a formal defect in presenting the case to Court—Section 99 applies. A I R 1924 Pat 114-2 P L R (Civ) 174-74 I C 1035.

—Sch. II of the Code is as much an enactment as any other part of the Code, and where parties apply to refer the matter to arbitration in appellate Court, that Court must, under paragraph 3, sch. II, refer the matters in dispute between the parties to arbitration, and if the Judge omits to do so, his judgment is defective, and s. 99 does not cure the defect. 8 A L J 678.

—An appellant died after filing his appeal and no application was made to bring his representatives on the record but a vakalatnama was filed by a pleader on behalf of the representatives and the appeal was heard and the suit decreed in the name of deceased appellant: Held, that this was not a mere irregularity which could be cured by S. 99 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908, and that the appeal had abated. 9 I C 197.

—Where the objections of the judgment-debtor had not been heard before ordering the attachment, which was a step in the execution proceedings, it was held that the procedure adopted was unlawful and not merely irregular. 13 Bom L R 973=12 I C 547=16 Bom 58.

—Incomplete verification i. e. by three out of six plffs. (one of the three having further verified for the next friend of three minor plffs.) is cured by S. 99 if the trial had proceeded on the merits. 17 C W N 989=15 I C 583.

—The object of S. 99 is to prevent higher Courts from reversing the substantive decrees of lower Courts on mere technical grounds. The section does not warrant that an irregular remand should not be interfered with. 14 Bom L R 1154=37 Bom 289=17 I C 891.

—An Appellate Court has no power to order a remand except—under O. 41, rr. 23 and 25. Consequently, the inherent power of the Court to remand a case otherwise than under O. 41 of Rr. 23 and 25 of the Code seems to be taken away if it ever existed by a direct legitimate enactment. 12 C L J 368=7 I C 75 dissented from, S. 564 of the old Code was not re-enacted in the new Code, because it was unnecessary. by the first court upon the merits, the lower Appellate court reversed the decree and remanded the case under O. 41, R. 23 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held, that the mistake of the lower Appellate Court was an irregularity under S. 99 of the C P C not affecting the merits of the case, and the High Court therefore would not set it aside. 28 C 324=5 C W N 509 followed. 20 I C 39=41 Cal 108=18 C L J 613.

—Where the question in appeal was as to the amount of court-fee to be paid on the written statement claiming a set-off under the C. P. C. of 1882. Held, that the error, if error there was did not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court and so afforded no ground for reversal, substantial variation or remand under S. 99 of the C. —Defect of signature on pleadings is curable by s. 99. 1 P L T 647=59 I C 282.

—S 99 C P C shows the principle to be adopted in appeals: the Appellate Court will not reverse the order of the Court below on a point which is not of importance at the time of the hearing of the appeal and which does not affect the merits of the case. (1917) M W N 89=37 I C 954.

—Judgment written and signed by judge who tried the case—Judgment pronounced by colleague in open court. See 46 I C 618.

—The verification required under O. 21, R. 66 (3) of the C P Code by the Kurbazdor of the decree-holder is valid, when the court is satisfied that he was acquainted with the facts of the case. An objection as to defect in signature on the petition cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in appeal, as it could have been cured by amendment under O. 6 R. 17 of the new C. P. Code of 1908. Moreover, the mere fact that a plaint is not duly signed does not make it void, 2 C L J 11 doubted 22 All 55; 34 All 348 and 17 Cal 589 rel. Under S. 99 of the C. P. ## (3) Misjoinder.

—A and B obtained two separate money decrees against C and attached certain properties in execution thereof. When the properties were attached by A, the three plaintiffs and the 4th defendant, the children of C, put in a claim-petition on the ground that the properties belonged to their deceased mother. No such claim-petition was put in when B attached these properties. The suit for declaration that the attachments made by A and B are not valid, was dismissed by the Munsiff but was decreed by the Sub-Judge. Held, that the objection that the suit was bad for misjoinder of causes of action cannot be heard in second appeal. —Ejectment from several plots included in one suit—Different defts in possession under different titles—suit if bad for misjoinder. See 18 I C 852.

—In a suit for possession by inheritance, the plaintiff can, in one suit, attack several alienations made at different times in respect of various portions of property by a deceased owner in favour of different persons. There is no misjoinder of parties or causes of action by including all the alienees in one suit. 167 P L R 1911=10 Ind. Cas. 48=120 P W R 1911.

—As to conditions for joinder see 12 I C 813.

—The observations under the first two paras of the last heading apply to the case of misjoinder of parties. Where a plff filed a suit in ejectment against several defts in possession of different plots of lands on the ground that the defts have no Kudivaram interest therein, held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties and that the suit having been tried by the first court, it was not open to the Appellate Court to treat it as bad for misjoinder. 41 I C 167 following 36 C 780.

—In a suit by plffs for a declaration that alienations of family lands made by their father in favour of several alienees was without consideration and necessity and did not affect their reversionary rights, on a preliminary objection that the suit was bad for misjoinder of parties and the trial court upheld the objection and dismissed the suit. On appeal the District judge held that there was no misjoinder of parties or causes of action and reversed the decree of the first Court. Held, that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties and the plffs, were competent to bring one suit against the vendees and the prior mortgaged and that the District Judge was justified in reversing the decree and remanding the case for trial. 17 P L R 1920=2 U P L R (L) 29=54 I C 512.

—S. 99 of the new code is applicable to all appeals heard after the new Code came into force though instituted before the Act. When the Appellate Court, overruling a plea of misjoinder, passes a decree on the merits of a case, the second Appellate Court should not reverse the decision on the ground of misjoinder. 22 M L J 225-13 I C 788-11 M L T 25 (1912) M W N 50.

—Where instead of passing first an order directing the award to be filed and then passing a decree in terms of it, the Court passed a composite order decreeing the plaintiff's claim in terms of it: Held, that even if the order of the Court were taken to be an order recording a compromise, an appeal would lie from that order and that such appeal must be treated as an appeal from an order, with the result that no second appeal would lie 92 I C 600.

(4) Competency.

(a) Orders dismissing first appeal for default.

—S. 2 (2) now expressly lays down that an order of dismissal for default is not a "decree". This sets at rest the conflict stated above. So also where the High Court is justified in ordering a party to furnish security for costs it has no option but to reject the appeal when the order for security has not been complied with. The order dismissing the appeal is not a fit one for appeal to His Majesty as the matter does not involve a substantial question of law. 36 All 325=12 A L J 451 =23 I C 532

(7) Custom.

—(a) General:—Question whether the village is a town or not is covered by issue on the point of customary right of kamins to alienate abadi sites. 10 Lah L J 360= 112 I C 402.

—Per Ramesam, J.—Whether a custom relating to a pathway is reasonable or unreasonable should be considered with reference to its extent relatively to the total extent of lands held by the owners of the servient tenements, where the lower Court takes that fact into consideration in considering the question whether the custom is reasonable or unreasonable, High Court sitting in Second Appeal cannot say that the finding of the lower Court is vitiated on account of such considerations. Per Odgers, J.—One of the most important questions, in considering whether or not a customary right is reasonable or not, is to see what effect it will have or what will be the extent of the burden on the servient tenement; for, an easement or a right which when exercised obliterates so to say the servient tenement entirely, is unreasonable. ## (7) Custom. (Contd)

—The words "usage having the force of law" in S. 100 (a) of the Code do not give the court any larger powers of interference with findings as to custom in so far as they are findings of fact than with any other findings. If notwithstanding uncontradicted instance ranging over a long period and recognised judicially in several cases, the lower Appellate Court found against the existence of a proper custom on the ground that in its opinion the instances are not sufficient in number, the High Court is clearly entitled to hold that on the facts found by the lower Appellate Court, the custom is legally established. 41 Mad 374=34 M L J 104=23 M L T 44=(1918) M W N 350=7 L W 243=44 I C 699 (F B). [Overruling 29 Mad 24].

—A custom to be valid must be ancient continuous, reasonable and definite and all these elements must be established by clear and unambiguous evidence. Where the evidence established the custom to be only 16 years old and where the instances proved were few in number that they could not establish the continuity of the custom, it could not be held to have been established in law. Where the custom as to the exclusion of daughters is not established and the reversioner sued to set aside a deed of gift executed by the widow, their suit is not maintainable in the presence of a daughter and especially of a daughter's son. 15 I C 247.

—A plaintiff basing his right on custom cannot in second appeal ask the Court to decide the case upon the basis of Muhammadan Law 67 P R 1915=148 P W R 1915=31 I C 85.

—Question of onus not to be raised without certificate under S. 41 (3) of the Punjab Courts Act. See 96 P R 1915=169 P W R 1915=31 I C 497.

—A question of custom cannot be taken up in a second appeal without the required certificate. Where the donee's line of descent having become extinct, the land reverts to the line of the donor, the possession of any person occupying the land along with the last holder not become adverse during the life time of the latter: 193 P L R 1914=94 P W R 1914=24 I C 623.

—High Court will not interfere in second appeal for mere technical irregularity. 35 I C 631.

(7) Custom (Contd.)

—(b) Mixed questions of law and fact:—The existence of a custom or usage having the force of law is a mixed question of fact and law. S. 100 precludes the High Court from interfering in Second Appeal with the findings arrived at by the lower appellate court of actual facts from which the existence of the custom has been inferred. A L R 1933 M 678.

—But the existence or non existence of an alleged custom is a mixed question of law and fact and a finding about it is revisable by the High Court in Second appeal 38 M L J 275=27 M L T 111=1922 M 290=55 I C 380.

—So also the Bombay High Court holds that question of existence of custom is a mixed one of law and fact, and even concurrent findings thereon can be set aside by High Court A I R 1931 Bom 167=32 Bom L R 1679=129 I C 881.

—Question if evidence proves alleged custom is mixed question of law and fact.

—A I R 1929 Mad 751=Ind Rul (1929) Mad 972=119 I C 476.

—The Allahabad High Court, however, has held that the question of the existence of custom is one of fact and is ordinarily binding on the High Court in second appeal. Acts found to be done in pursuance of the alleged custom are facts but the conclusion, whether the facts found fulfilled the requirements of the law may be a question of law A I R 1931 All 104=(1930) A L J 1555=53 A 308=131 I C 217. see to the same effect A L R 1933 A 478. and 54 A 6=A I R 1931 All 499=(1931) A L J 757=Ind Rul (1931) All 789=134 I C 21 F B and 21 C W N 729 (P C)=40 M 709=19 Bom L R 567=39 I C 722; —And that the findings as to custom is a mixed question of law and fact, but concurrent finding of lower Court will not generally be upset. A I R 1926 All 215=93 I C 363.

—Decision on question of custom is mixed finding of law and fact. A I R 1922 All 88=20 A L J 57=64 I C 956.

—And the Oudh J C Court also holds the same view Viz that findings of as to existence of custom are pure findings of fact, but all questions of interpretation involve an element of law. Where there was no question that the documents relied on to establish custom were silent as to the rights of a father to inherit from his son, yet two opposite interpretations were placed on this omission by parties. Held that it was a fit matter for second appeal. A I R 1928 Oudh 269=5 O W N 275=112 I C 68.

—Existence of custom is question of mixed fact and law and can be considered afresh. A I R 1925 Oudh 55=81 I C 1033.

—The question of custom is one of mixed fact and law A I R 1924 Oudh 157=26 O C 386=76 I C 774.

—Point of custom raising a mixed question of law and fact—Court in second appeal can go into evidence of custom. A I R 1923 Oudh 102=9 O L J 518=73 I C 727.

—The question of the existence of a custom is a mixed question of law and fact. A I R 1926 Lah 251=92 I C 769.

—Existence of custom derived from facts proved can be agitated. A I R 1925 Nag 179=82 I C 815.

—Custom-Mixed question of law and fact—Judge to record finding on the things alleged to have been and then to determine the validity of the custom.

—See 40 Mad 709=39 I C 722 (P C) =1917 P C 33.

—Whether certain events did or did not happen is a question of fact, but whether the facts found do or do not establish a custom is a question of law. A judgment based upon evidence not admissible in law is unsustainable. If a party sets up a special custom of a family to take the succession out of the ordinary Hindu law, such custom must be proved to be ancient continuous certain and reasonable, and being in derogation of the general rule of law, must be construed strictly 20 I C 810=18 C L J 559=18 C W N 55.

—(c) Questions law.—If lower Appellate Court has passed judgment based on illegal or insufficient evidence to establish alleged custom, there can be second appeal. Ind Rul (1929) All 623=116 I C 799.

—But a question as to the existence or non-existence of a particular custom where the lower Appellate Court has acted upon illegal evidence or on evidence legally insufficient to establish an alleged custom is one of law. A I R 1927 All 471=8 L R 8 A 110 Rev.=100 I C 605.

—Finding on question of existence of custom, being substantially one of fact, is binding on second appeal, except when it is not one of pure fact or is based on illegal or legally insufficient evidence or there was error in stand-point of approach or in placing burden of proof or in assumption of condition A I R 1931 All 104=(1930) A L J 555=131 I C 217.

—Insufficiency of evidence to establish custom can be gone into in second appeal as question of law but where lower Court finds evidence sufficient no appeal lies. A I R 1922

All 241=66 I C 613.

—The question, whether, in any given instance, the evidence led to prove the existence of the proper attributes of custom is adequate proof of what the law requires is a question of law which can be discussed in second appeal. It is not competent to a Court of Second Appeal to consider the credibility of any particular evidence. But where the lower Court has acted upon inadmissible evidence has rejected admissible evidence, or has acted upon evidence which does not come up to the standard of adequacy its finding would be open to correction in second appeal. 17 O C 1=20 I C 894.

—To establish a custom, High Court can consider sufficiency of evidence in law in second appeal A I R 1927 All 605=102 I C 596. see also 11 I C 536.

—Where wajib-ul-arz is rejected under erroneous view of law as irrelevant in deciding point of custom second appeal from finding is competent. 24 O C 237=64 I C 86.

—But where evidence as to custom is found to be unreliable by lower Appellate Court, its value will not be discussed in second appeal merely on ground that the Court expressed an erroneous opinion as to its relevancy. 8 O L J 202=61 I C 781.

—Insufficiency of evidence can be called into question when custom has been proved by single instance. A I R 1925 Bm 380=27 Bm L R 830=83 I C 891.

—Sufficiency of evidence required to establish custom can be examined. A I R 1926 All 43=18 A 77 =23 A L J 932=88 I C 752, see also A I R 1924 All 477=L R 6 A 115 Rev=79 I C 134 and A I R 1923 All 241=75 I C 657, and 7 A L J 36=4 Ind Cas 304=32 A 125.

—The question whether the facts proved and found satisfy the requirements of law to establish a custom is a question of law and one which the High Court can and must consider in second appeal. 12 L W 371=55 I C 770. see also 16 M L J 8=29 M 24.

—So also it is open to an appellant in Second Appeal to show that the evidence relied upon by the otherside, even if believed and considered sufficient, does not in law amount to the proof of an alleged custom. 15 I C 247.

—Under S. 100 of the C P C Code, in a case whether a custom differing from the general law, it set up, the High Court in second appeal should consider whether the evidence adduced suffices to establish all the elements of antiquity, continuity and certainty necessary to constitute a valid custom. 43 I C 235=3 P L J 51.

—But sufficiency of oral evidence regarding custom cannot be re-challenged. Which of two wajib-ul-arzes governs case can be re-called into question. A I R 1926 All 153=89 I C 89.

—Question whether it is reasonable or not is a question of a law. 19 C W N 1188=29 I C 312.

—Finding following not from custom but from application of judicial authorities is one of law and can be questioned in second appeal. A I R 1929 Lah 425=11 L L J 110=10 Lah 868=31 P L R 93=Ind Rul (1929) Lah 652=117 I C 380.

—Alienation—Question as to necessity is a question of law. In all tribes custom does not recognise an alienation for a debt due from a previous holder of the land as a justifiable necessity. A I R 1927 Lah 896=100 I C 803.

—It is open to doubt whether the expression 'a usage having the force of law' should not be confined to the usages of the country or of the community as suggested in 7 A. 650. Customs like pre-emption, the law merchant and usages like those referred to in S 11 of Act VIII of 185, seem to have been in the contemplation of the legislature. It seems doubtful whether a private right—right of the daughter of an Ubhayaker to perform a festival fall within S 100 Cl (a). However that may be the High Court should not be called upon to examine the oral and documentary evidence relating to a private custom as if it were hearing a first appeal. 40 Mad 1103=32 M L J 237=5 L W 345=21 M L T 411=40 I C 516.

(d) Questions of fact :—Where there is evidence legally sufficient to support a finding as to the existence of an usage the High Court cannot in second appeal set aside the finding on the ground that the quantum of evidence is meagre and scanty. But where the usage has not been pleaded with precision and the evidence adduced is vague and inconsistent, a finding may be overset by the High Court. A I R 1931 All 583=(1931) A L J 390.

(1) General (Concl'd.)

—An appeal does not lie on the ground of an erroneous finding of fact, however gross and inexcusable the error may be; (compare 16 Cal., 645) but an appeal does lie to impeach the conclusions arrived at from the finding—L R 19 I A 228-20 Cal 93 L R 19 I A 48-19 Cal 253.

—The Commissioner of Kumauns cannot go into a question of fact as an Appellate Court in a second appeal. A I R 1927 All 524-101 I C 695.

—As to power of the High Court to interfere with findings of fact under Madras Rent Recovery Act see 37 Mad 443 (P C) By S 584 of the Code of 1882 the High Court as a Second court of appeal was bound by the findings of fact of the District Judge—High Court could allow the appeal on grounds of law 43 Cal 1104-37 I C 223-43 I A 172-1916 P C 126-20 M L T 235-20 C W N 1245-(1916) 2 M W N 175-4 L W 251-14 A L J 1009-18 Bom L R .838-24 C L J 296-31 M L J 745. (P C) —Findings on issues referred to a Lower Appellate Court in second appeal are just as much findings of fact as the findings in the original suit and are binding on the High Court in second appeal 40 I C 128.

—No second appeal not permitted by code can lie merely for reason that lower Appellate Court Could not hear the appeal A I R 1921 Lah 156-3 Lah L J 463-62 I C 986.

(2) Attestation.

—The question whether the attestation of a document implied assent to the forms of the document is a question of fact and must be determined with reference to the circumstances of each case, and the High Court cannot entertain such a question in second appeal. 51 I C 621.

—So also whether a scribe is an attesting witness, is a question of fact. A I R 1926 Cal 150-90 I C 774.

—Attestation by Hindu reversioner if implies assent to alienation by widow —Question of fact—No interference in second appeal. see 37 All 350-29 I C 218-13 A L J 616.

(3) Abandonment.

—As to abandonment of plea see under the heading-New Plea infra. The findings on question of abandonment are strictly speaking findings of fact, and consequently, a second appeal only on matters of legal principles. arising out of these facts, can be taken up 41 P R 1919-51 I C 396-82 P L R 1919.

(8) Bonafides.

—A finding that the conduct is bona fide is usually a finding of fact being an inference of fact from facts. Where, however, there are no facts and no evidence from which to make an inference of bona fide conduct, the finding is not binding in second appeal. 1932 P C L 456 (459) (Civ)=33 P L R 263-136 I C 710=I R 1932 L 246=A I R 1932 L 322=A L R 1932 L 456 (Civ.)

cannot entertain a second appeal upon any question as to the soundness of the finding of fact by the Lower Appellate Court. If there is evidence to be considered, the decision of the second Court, however unsatisfactory it might be when examined, must stand final 42 Cal 888=19 C W N 1034=22 C L J 212=28 I C 245.

—Concurrent finding of necessity on circumstantial evidence if can be attacked See 186 P L R 1914=25 I C 511.

—It is not always an easy matter to separate a finding of fact from a question of law. It may often be open to argument that the materials which have been accepted by one court as establishing a certain conclusion were not in themselves sufficient for its support, if their legal weight had been properly measured and ascertained. A question of what constitutes exclusion from a joint estate may well, in many cases, be a question of law. Held, however, in this case, that the concurrent findings of the lower courts were finding of fact and there were no reasons for reversing their findings. 21 C W N 1142=(1917) M W N 642=42 I C 258 (P C).

—Concurrent finding upholding judgment and supported by evidence require appellant's case to be tried on these findings and review is not justified. A I R 1929 P C 205=31 Bom L R 1369=50 C L J 336=57 M L J 594=30 L W 825=Ind Rul (1929) P C 303 (P C)=118 I C 263.

—Concurrent findings of two lower courts as to fraud will not be interfered with by High Court in second appeal unless the lower courts have crossed the proper foundation for determination of such a question. A I R 1926 Bom 33=27 Bom L R 1318=91 I C 426.

—Both the two lower Courts finding that certain decree was concerning debts of the widow's husband's time and was not collusive or fraudulent—Finding cannot be interfered with in second appeal. A I R 1929 Nag 180=Ind Rul (1930) Nag 217.

(16) Costs.

—Question of costs cannot ordinarily be a ground for special appeal W R 1864, 215 see also. 8 O C 251, and 6 O C 39, and 6 O C 52

—But this does not mean that second appeal is not competent at all on question of costs. 53 P W R 1919=51 I C 622 see also 7 C W N 647 and 2 L L J 310; and 52 I C 16.

—High Court can in second appeal interfere with decision of lower. Appellate Court interfering with the discretion of trial Court in matters of costs. 3 U P L R (All) 55=64 I C 962.

—But a question of costs cannot be considered in second appeal, where the two Courts below have taken the same view and when no substantial point on the merits arises in the case. A I R 1926 All 419=93 I C 1008.

—In second appeal, the Court could not interfere with an order as to costs, unless the order is illegal. The court cannot examine the reasons and review the exercise of the discretion of the Lower Court in the matter of costs. Even if the discretion is exercised wrongly, that is not a sufficient reason for interfering in second appeal. 5 Bur L T 104=15 I C 429.

—The question whether a special appeal lies or not is largely an academic question, for each case must be decided after examining the merits. Second appeal will lie from a decision of lower Appellate Court interfering with non appealable order of trial Court, but not if it is appealable and is based upon a judicial discretion properly exercised. —Conclusion pursuant to discretion as to assessment of damages given by Contract Act s. 73 Expl. is a question of fact. 28 N L R 142.

—To sum up: the question of adequacy of damages is usually a question of fact, and in England, when such an action is tried by a jury the matter is left to them for that reason. Therefore, ordinarily no second appeal would lie. But a finding of fact may be vitiated in special circumstances by matters which raise questions of law. In the realm of tort, where we in India usually follow the English law, a safe guide to the circumstances in which interference would be justified will be found in those cases in which an English Court of Appeal would direct a new trial. 28 N L R 320 (321).

(19) Decision in ejectment.

—A finding, in a suit for ejectment of tenant, on the question whether there was forfeiture of the tenancy by reason of the defendant's denial of the landlord's title is a finding of fact and cannot be interfered with in second appeal. A L R 1933 L 1222.

(20) Discretion.

—Where the law leaves a matter within the discretion of a Court and the Court after proper inquiry and due consideration has exercised the discretion in a sound and reasonable manner, the High Court will not, in second appeal, interfere with that exercise of the discretion, even though it would itself have arrived at a different conclusion. 34 B L R 382=139 I C 44=I R 1932 B 463=A I R 1932 B 228=A L R 1932 B 802 (805).

—The question whether the tenants are raiyats depends on the question of fact and Court should look to the attendant circumstances. Mere form of the kabuliyat or the use in it of the word "cultivator", is not important. Nor does the receipt of rent in which the tenant is described as a raiyat carry the matter any further. A I R 1927 Cal 413=100 I C 466.

—The nature and incidents of tenancy are mixed questions of law and fact. —In deciding the question of succession to an occupancy holding under S. 59 of the Punjab Tenancy Act, conjecture must not be allowed to take the place of legal proof. Where, therefore, in a suit in which the plffs. claim to succeed to an occupancy holding on the ground that they are the collaterals of the deceased tenant, the findings of fact arrived at by the Lower Appellate Court are based on conjectures, they are not judicial findings and cannot be accepted as final in second appeal. 102 P W R 1918-45 I C 800.

—Where, on the death of an occupancy tenant, his collaterals claim to succeed to the tenancy, the onus lies on them to establish affirmatively that the common ancestor occupied the land. Decree for rent for less than Rs. 100 —No second appeal though case within S. 47, C. P. C.—Only remedy, interference in revision. See 18 C W N 1016=23 I C 981.

—And where a second appeal is preferred but does not lie under the law, it can nevertheless be treated as an application for revision. 40 L J 374=41 I C 125.

—So where a revision application was, altered into second appeal the Respt. took the objection that when the alteration was made, the appeal was barred. Held, that as the application presented to Court was within time and complied with all the requirements of law for a second appeal, the appeal might be taken to have been filed as on the date of the application and the insertion of the wrong section of law did not deprive the appellants of their right to appeal 34 I C 264=(1916) 2 U B R 106=10 Bur L T 10.

—So also where no second appeal lay from the order dismissing deft's cross objections, but that the cross objections having been dismissed on erroneous ground, there was a case for interference in revision. 20 P R 1918=44 I C 812.

—So also where a person who has a lien on property which is attached and proclaimed for sale, informs intending purchasers of such lien and a purchaser binds in spite of the warning, the purchase is subject to the lien. The decision of a lower Court which is arrived at after a due consideration of the facts and the law applicable thereto, even though erroneous, cannot be interfered in revision. 4 Bur. (1) GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

—Small Cause Court decree passed in review is appealable only on point of granting review and not merits. A I R 1921 Lah 124-3 Lah L J 166-60 I C 259.

—Second appeal barred in suit where value is below Rs. 500, and plaintiff discloses Small Cause Court nature. 5 O W N 240-108 I C 898.

—The amount claimed in plaint and character disclosed in plaint determines whether suit of the nature of Small Cause Court. A I R 1924 Cal 405-51 C 62-28 C W N 6-80 I C 317.

—Nor is the nature of the suit determined by the character which it may assume in the course of and after the trial by operation of findings by the Court. A I R 1924 Mad 844-20 Mad L W 321-1924 Mad W N 691-82 Ind Cas 123

—See also 1931 All 595-132 Ind Cas 564 and 50 I C 629.

—In other words, the test in deciding whether a second appeal lies or not is to be found in the nature of the suit and not in the powers of the Court which tried the suit. Thus where the Munsif having Small Cause Court powers to try suits upto Rs. 250, tries the suit for Rs. 500, which was cognizable by a Court of Small Causes as Munsif, still no second appeal lies. A I R 1931 Oudh 49-Ind Rul (1931) Oudh 94-7 O W N 1112-129 I C 174. So too the course of appeal is determined by the character of the plaint as originally made and is not affected by the plaintiff subsequently dropping or being unable to seek relief with regard to a part of his claim. A I R 1928 Lah 764-Ind Rul (1929) Lah 442-115 I C 858.

—See also 49 B 596-27 Bom L R 637-A I R 1925 Bom 440-89 I C 59.

—So the withdrawal of a prayer for sale in a suit on a mortgage-deed does not in any way affect the question of the maintainability of second appeal. 22 M L J 47-10 M L T 528-(1911) 2 M W N 587-13 I C 174.

So that if a case is of a Small Cause Court nature, though for special reasons it cannot or has not been tried in a Small Cause Court, no appeal lies—7 Bom. 100; 12 All. 579; 15 Mad., 98; 15 Mad., 298; and 10 M L T 500-12 I C 957. e.g. a —nor does the ultimate finding affect the nature of the suit as brought; 15 C L J 49=13 I C 907.

And a mere addition of a prayer for a relief by way of declaration does not alter the character of a suit which is of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court, so as to give a party a right of second appeal which is prohibited by the terms of S. 102 C. P. Code. Where all the reliefs which the plff. claims in a suit can be obtained without asking for a declaration, the mere addition of a prayer for a declaration does not prevent the suit from being a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court. 41 I C 627.

—Whether prayer for mandatory injunction changes the nature of Small Cause suit see A I R 1922 All 241=66 I C 613.

—For the purposes of S. 102 C. P. C. the nature of the suit must be determined from the claim as laid, without regard to the nature of the defence. The suit being akin to one for damages against a trespasser, a second appeal was barred. 12 N L R 47=32 I C 993.

(2) APPLICABILITY TO EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.

—The term 'suit' in S. 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not used in a restricted sense. It includes not merely the proceedings in the suit up to the stage of decree but comprehends also the proceedings in execution of the decree. Execution is not completed till the sale has been confirmed. No second appeal lies under S. 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure against an order obtained in execution of a decree passed in a suit of the nature cognizable by the Court of Small Causes when the amount or value of the subject matter of the original suit does not exceed Rs. 500. —No second appeal lies against an order in execution of a decree in a suit, valued at less than Rs. 500, of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. 10 I C 412.

—For as a general rule no second appeal lies from any order made in the execution of a decree which is not itself open to second appeal. 11 N L R 99=29 I C 740. see also 12 C P L R 12 and (1911) 2 M W N 585=12 I C 959. and 18 I C 245 and 18 A 481 F B=A W N 1896, 160. and 23 I C 930. and (1917) M W N 93=5 L W 701=37 I C 673. and 1917 Pat. 80=3 Pat L W 132=43 I C 15. and 5 O L J 187=46 I C 82. and 54 I C 429 and A I R 1925 Mad 742=48 M L J 499=90 I C 794. and 46 A 73=21 A L J 861=L R 4 A 591 Civ=A I R 1924 All 263=79 I C 603. and 45 M L J 651=18 L W 739=33 M L T 125=A I R 1924 Mad 367=76 I C 750. and (1923) M W N 406=45 M L J 210=18 L W 17=A I R 1924 Mad 32=73 I C 956. and A I R 1926 All 345=95 I C 292. and A I R 1921 All 55=43 All 403=19 All L J 72=60 Ind Cas 831; and 42 Ind Cas 711=45 C L J 519=26 Cal L J 323=22 Cal W N 446 and A I R 1924 Mad 32=45 M L J 210=18 M L W 17=19 23 M W N 406=73 Ind Cas 956 and A I R 1924 All 263=46 All 73=21 All L 861=4 L R A (Civ) 591=79 Ind Cas 605 and 30 Bom 113=7 Bom L R 641 and 8 O C 405 and A. ## (1) Scope of the Section.

—In a Letters Patent appeal against the judgment of a single Judge of the High Court in an appeal preferred under O 43, r. 1 cl. 15, it was contended that having regard to the provisions of S. 104, no further appeal lay from the order passed in such an appeal. Held, that the prohibition contained in the Code of Civil Procedure related only to the entertainment of a further appeal by another Court of high grade (other than the High Court) in such cases, and that the provisions of the Letters Patent conferring a right of appeal from the judgment of one Judge of the High Court to the same Court were not in any way interfered with by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, as the latter does not control the sections of the former. ## (e) Order filing or refusing to file an award out of Court. (Contd)

—No appeal lies from an order passed in execution of a decree under S. 9 of the specific Relief Act. Therefore an order passed in execution of such a decree directing the arrest of the judgment debtor is not appealable either as a decree or as an order under S. 104 (1) cl. (h) of the C. P. Code. 5 P W R 1917-18 P L R 1917-39 I C 379.

—Application to file a award—Order in, open to appeal. See 38 All 297-14 A L J 332-33 I C 80.

—An order filing an award in arbitration without the intervention of the Court is appealable under S. 104 (f) C. P. C. The mere fact that the Court below has passed a judgment and a decree upon the award cannot take away the right of appeal from the order filing the award. If the order filing the award is set aside, the judgment and decree based thereon must also fall to the ground. 38 All 380 =14 A L J 481-35 I C 833.

—In the course of the hearing of an application to file an award under para 21 of Sch II of the C. P. Code, the matter was referred to an arbitrator who decided that the award was to be filed. One of the parties objected but failing to appear on the day fixed for hearing objections a decree was made ex parte in terms of the award. An application to set it aside was refused. Held, that an appeal lay under C. 43, R. I (d) the question as to whether the decree is or is not in terms of the award being one on the merits, this is a case open to appeal under S. 104 (cl), (1) (j). 38 All 297-14 A L J 332-33 I C 80.

—On an application under para 20 of Sch, II of C. P. Code, an award was filed in part (to the extent it was held to be valid) by the first court but on appeal, the application was dismissed on the ground that the award could be filed in toto or not at all. Held, by Chief Court that no second appeal was competent from the order of the Appellate Court passed in appeal under S. 104 (f) C. P. Code vide Sub-S. (e) Order filing or refusing to file an award out of Court. (Contd.)

—Pending an appeal before a District Judge, the parties referred their disputes to arbitration without the intervention of the court. An award in which the pendency of the appeal was set out was passed and on application by the successful party it was made a decree of Court by the District Munsiff. In an appeal against the order filing the award the District Judge set aside the award on the ground that a private reference pending an appeal before him was incompetent and the award thereon was invalid. In revision before the High Court objection. Held (i) that the objection to the legality of the award was found in the award itself. (ii) that an appeal lies under S. 104. cl. 2 from an order filing the award. (iii) the appeal is however confined to irregularity of the arbitration and the validity of the award. (iv) para. 21. cl. 2 and S 104. cl. 2 are not inconsistent. 22 I C 690.

—An appeal lies against an order filing an award passed on arbitration without the intervention of the court under S. 104. cl. (f) C. P. Code, although a decree may have been passed in pursuance of the award. If the order directing the filing of the award be set aside on appeal, the decree passed on the award will also be vacated, the validity of the decree depending on that of the order filing the award. 18 C W N 381-22 I C 391.

—Notwithstanding there is no appeal from a decree made in accordance with an award obtained without the intervention of the Court an appeal is competent under S. 104 (f) from an order filing an award. 176 P W R 1913-310 P L R 1913 =21 I C 298.

—An appeal lies, under s. 104 (f) of the Code of 1908, from an order filing an award made in an arbitration without the intervention of the Court, in spite of the fact that the Court has, under cl. 21 (1) of the second schedule to the Code, proceeded to pronounce judgment according to the award. 172 P L R 1911-10 I C 512.

—Order directing award to be filed is appealable, but not decree following the award. 2 M W N 1911, 223.

—The words "without the intervention of the Court" in S. 104 (1) (f) of the C P C refer only to those proceedings which are taken under paragraphs 20 and 21 and not to proceedings taken under paragraphs 17 to 19 of the second schedule to the Civil Procedure Code. Therefore a decree passed in accordance with an award as the result of proceedings under paragraphs 17 to 19 is not appealable. 248 P L R 1913 =9 P R 1913-16 I C 996.

—A reference to arbitration was made in a pending litigation through court and the arbitrator's award was challenged, under 2nd Schedule, clause 15 (1) (a) on the ground of misconduct, of the arbitrator. After making an inquiry into the allegations of misconduct the Court disallowed the objections and passed a decree in accordance with the award. Held, that no appeal lay from the order disallowing the objections or from the decree passed on the basis of the award. 18 A 422 A W N (1916) 37 followed. 16 I C 595.

—Though no appeal lies from a decree in terms of the award qua decree except in so far as it is in excess of or not in accordance with the award yet an appeal so filed may be treated as one from the order filing an award under S. 104, Cl (f) C P C. 21 M L J 1005-(1911) 2 M W N 223-12 I C 269.

—Sub s. 2 of s. 104 deals with internal appeals within the limits of British India. The application to file an award may be made to the Subordinate Judge. If the amount at stake is below certain figure, the appeal would lie from him to the District Judge, and if above that figure, it would lie to the High Court. The provision is intended to prevent any appeal beyond the District Judge where the sum in dispute is small. In this respect it runs parallel with s. 100, which limits second appeals from appellate decrees by District Judges. That section deals only with decrees while the decision on arbitration questions are termed orders. Section 104 does not therefore take away the general right of appealing to the Crown given by s. 109. ## (1) Powers.

(a) To remand a case.

—An appellate Court has an inherent power to remand a case under conditions other than those referred to in O 41, R 2-3 of the Civil Procedure Code. 36 Mad 492 and 49 Cal 929 foll. Where a case is remanded in the exercise of the Court's inherent jurisdiction no appeal lies from the order of remand. 37 M L J 536=10 L W 359=53 I C 417.

(5) Objections.

(A) Withdrawal of suit improperly permitted.

—A plaintiff appellant is not as a matter of right, entitled to withdraw his suit, the affect of granting, when the application would be to nullify the decree of the Court below and to deprive the defendant of the benefit of an adjudication already made in his favour. 20 I C 17.

—An Appellate Court has no power under O 23 R 1 (2) of the Code to allow a suit to be withdrawn in appeal as distinguished from the appeal itself, with liberty to institute a fresh suit as that would be tantamount to setting aside the decree in the suit. 13 S L R 72=51 I C 579.

—See cases under O. 47.

—A creditor sued the principal debtors and the surety. The suit was dismissed against the debtors but decreed against the surety, who appealed. The creditor also appealed but failed, to make the principal debtors respondents to his cross-appeal which was dismissed. The appeal of the surety was allowed, and the suit of the creditor was dismissed. The creditor appealed the High Court, joining the principal debtors as well as the surety as respondents. Held that the creditor, by reason of his omission to join the principal debtors as respondent to his cross appeal, made it impossible for the lower Appellate Court or the High Court to review the decision of the original court in favour of the principal debtors, and that therefore, he could not claim a decree against the surety. 16 I C 337.

This will be done only in exceptional cases where it is necessary to avoid injustice or avoid multiplicity of proceedings. of 1882 definition of "decree" which is special and differs from the meaning that it bears elsewhere in the Act. The definition of "decree" in S. 2 is not applicable to ch. 45 of the Code of 1882. The word "decree" in the said chapter must be read as equivalent to "decree judgment or order," and includes orders under S. 588. The provisions at the end of S. 588 providing that orders passed in appeal under that section shall be final cannot restrict the provision that appeals may be brought to the King in Council from orders under Ss. 311, 312, C P C setting aside or refusing to set aside a sale, deal finally with the right of the parties and are appealable to his Majesty in Council under S. 595. 17 C W N 637=40 C 635=25 M L J 140=(1913) M W N 487=11 A L J 517 =17 C L J 573=15 Bom L R 515=14 M L T 37=40 I A 140 =19 I C 296 (P C.) —An appellate order even of a single Judge of the Punjab Chief Court is appealable to their Lordships of the Privy Council if it fulfills the conditions laid down in Ss. 109 and 110 of C P Code. The rule enunciated in S. III of the Code under which an appeal from the Order of a Single Judge is competent to the Privy Council applies only to orders of a Judge of a High Court established under the Royal charter. Held, also, that a final order passed on appeal falls within the purview of S. 109 of Act V of 1908 although the appeal has been rejected as barred by limitation 127 P W R 1917=131 P L R 1917=42 I C 893.

—Ordinarily an appeal which prima facie falls under S. 109 (a) cannot be converted into one under S. 109 (c) merely because it fails to reach the money value required by S. 110. In exceptional circumstances the High Court may adopt the exceptional procedure of certifying under O. 45, r. 3 appeals from its own final decision. In the absence of such circumstances the High Court will not do so. A I R 1933 O 394 (2).

—The subject-matter of a suit and of appeal are not necessarily identical with the subject-matter in dispute between the parties. The subject-matter in dispute may not always be capable of being measured in terms of money, even in cases where the subject-matter of the suit or the appeal has an appreciable money value. Court under s. 51 of the Income Tax Act are within cl. 39 of the Letters Patent. It must be either a final judgment or a final decree or a final order. A final judgment as understood in English litigation is nothing more than that there should be a proper litis contestatio and a final adjudication between the parties to it on the merits. Where a case is stated for the "opinion" of the Court, the order made by the Court is only advisory. Where the case is referred for the "decision" or "determination" of a question, there is a prima facie difficulty in holding that the order embodying this determination or decision is advisory, but the use of these words or one of them is not decisive. The decision judgment or order if made by the Court under s. 51 of the Income Tax Act is merely advisory and not final, and an appeal from it will not lie. Held, the question involved a claim to the land itself worth only Rs. 4,000 and that the requisites of s. 110 were not complied with. ## (17) Value of appeal.

—A suit was brought to recover a zemindary in the possession of different persons under deeds of sale in execution of decree. The value of the property was as stated in the plaint, Rs. 14,325. The Sudder Court upheld the sales so far as related to the claims of some of the defendants. The other defendants applied for leave to appeal, but it was refused on the ground that the value of their portion was only Rs. 8215; but the Privy Council seemed to hold that the words of the old order. "The value of the matter in dispute in any such appeal to Her Majesty in Council" related to the whole matter involved in the suit which was the subject of judicial enquiry in the Courts and allowed the appeal—7 Moo. I. A, 261; 6 W R, Mis 4: but see 19 W R 191.

—High Court held that there was legal necessity for a portion, lower Court had allowed the whole claim in favour of the plaintiff reversioner on the ground that the sale was without legal necessity. The defendant-purchaser applied for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council. Held no question of law arose and value of the appeal is value of the property as to which legal necessity was proved. the claim could not be decreed without considering the value of the entire house and the method in which the partition should take place, it is very difficult to say that the decree does not at least indirectly involve a question respecting the whole house which is admittedly of the value of Rs. 10,000. There is a difference between the language of the first paragraph and that of the second paragraph of S. 110 C. P. C. —In considering cl. (c) all that the Legislature requires is that the Court should consider whether the Court below having jurisdiction in the matter, did in the exercise of its jurisdiction act illegally or with material irregularity. If a question of jurisdiction is involved, the Court may act under Cl. (a) or (b).

The plain meaning of the clause seems to be that the Court having jurisdiction has exercised it but in so exercising it has acted illegally or with material irregularity. ## (2) Applicability, Scope and legislative Changes.

—The present section has been re-drafted and so framed as to include all kinds of reversals whether in appeal, review, revision or otherwise. Moreover, sub-section (2) has been newly added so as to clear away the doubts as to whether a separate suit lay for the purposes of obtaining any restitution (See 5-6 Bar of suit infra). S. 144, C P Code, is very wide in its terms and is not confined to cases where restitution is claimed on the reversal of a decree in first or second appeal. Provided, the decree is varied or reversed, the section applies, however the reversal or variance has been effected. 40 M 299=30 M L J 396=19 M L T 235=(1916) 1 M W N 155= L W 236=33 I C 379

—The section applies only to cases where in execution of a decree passed by one Court a benefit is received by the defendant and that decree is reversed or set aside subsequently by a competent Court. It does not apply to a case where the plaintiff sues for redemption of four items of property and pays the full amount due into Court but one of the items is refused by the first Court and decreed to him only by the appellate Court. The plaintiff seeking to recover the mesne profits for the interval between the two judgments —And it should be noted that neither S. 144 Civil Procedure Code nor the inherent power of the Court conferred any new substantive rights; they merely provided a more convenient procedure. A party who cannot get a relief by a suit cannot get the same relief under S. 144 Civil Procedure Code otherwise. 16 C L J 83=16 I C 965.

—Where an execution sale is set aside under O. XXI, r. 92, and restitution or mesne profits are to be allowed, s. 144 has no application, but such restitution can be granted in exercise of the Court's inherent powers under s. 151. A I R 1931 Cal 779 2)=35 C W N 105=53 C L J 49.

A I R 1931 Cal 42=52 C L J 505=34 C W N 746=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 364=130 I C 236.

—A sum of money was put in deposit in District Court in execution of decree—Plaintiff claimed it, and on being asked brought suit in Sub-Divisional Court for declaration that he was entitled to it—Suit was decreed in favour of another who withdrew it from District Court—On remand by Appellate Court the suit was decreed in favour of plaintiff—Plaintiff applied to District Court in execution proceeding for refund of that money—He is entitled to the refund—"Court of first instance" is Court which does the act which turns out to be wrong. —One P held a money-decree against A and in execution attached certain property. Before that attachment A had died and the plaintiff had been impleaded as his legal representative. The plaintiff objected to the attachment contending that it did not belong to A. Her objection was finally allowed in appeal. Meanwhile the property attached had been sold by auction in execution of that decree and purchased by the defendant; plaintiff then sued for the recovery of possession of that property or in the alternative for the recovery of the value of the property: Held, that s. 144 C P C. had no application but the plaintiff should be allowed to obtain possession of the disputed property after refunding to the defendant the amount obtained by her out of the sale proceeds. A I R 1924 All 273=L R 4 A 526 Civ=75 I C 238.

—S. 144 applies only when a decree has been set aside in appeal or otherwise. A I R 1924 All 64=73 I C 602.

—When a decree is neither varied nor reversed but execution thereof has taken place under a mistake and the judgment-debtor seeks restitution, s. 144 will not apply. A I R 1923 Oudh 16=72 I C 879.

—Plffs. who obtained a decree merely for an injunction entered into possession of the property in dispute with the aid of the police. The decree was reversed in appeal. Defts applied for restitution of possession and for removal of a superstructure erected by the plff over the property. Held, that S. 144, C P. Code, did not apply, inasmuch as plffs possession was not under the decree, but in opposition to it. 6 L W 631=39 I C 933.

—Under the words of s. 144, or under the general jurisdiction of a Court the rights or benefits acquired by third parties strangers to the decree or order that has subsequently been varied or reversed cannot be interfered with by an order or restitution because restitution is not always meant to be a complete remedy and because these sections apply only to the parties or their representatives and not to strangers. In proceedings relating to restitution only a summary inquiry is contemplated and hence the complicated questions of a stranger's rights should not be gone into. [Case law discussed]. A I R 1931 Cal 499=35 C W N 483=134 I C 906=58 C 1070.

(3) Application for restitution.

—An application under s. 144 is one for execution of a decree passed in appeal when that decree varies or reverses the decree of the Court of first instance. —Plaintiffs sued to set aside a decree in execution of which they had paid money to the decree holder. The decree was declared to be null and void. Plaintiffs then applied for restitution of the amount paid by them under S 144 Civil Procedure Code. Held, that S 144 applied. There is no restriction in S 144 as to the manner in which the decree has been varied or reversed. 13 S L R 153=53 I C 552.

—Applications made to obtain restitution under S 583 of the C P Code, 1882, are proceedings in execution of the appellate decree, which the successful party has the right to treat as containing a direction to the other party to restore whatever benefit the latter has derived through execution under the reversed decree. 29 I C 380

(5-6) Bar to suit

—Under the present Code S. 144 exhausts the remedies which a litigant against whom a decree has been given, has when his property is sold under the decree and the decree is subsequently varied, to have restored to him the property sold in excess of what should have been sold. He has no other right of action in cases where the sale is not void ab initio. A I R 1931 Mad 713.

—Plaintiffs obtained an order for restitution of the property and obtained possession. ## (12) Decree varied or reversed.

—S. 144 C. P. C. can apply only where and in so far as a decree is varied or reversed and the Court of first instance is asked to order restitution. The variation or reversal contemplated by the section is that made either by the Court itself in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction of reviewing its own order or by a superior Court interfering in appeal or revision or perhaps by another Court passing a declaratory decree. It does not contemplate the variation or reversal of a decree under a private compromise entered into by the parties whether out of Court or in the course of an execution proceeding. ## (26) Powers and Duties of Court (Contd)

—Per Das J—Execution presupposes a decree or order capable of being carried into effect; restitution presupposes an act of the Court, which has done an injury to the suitors. Execution will issue as of course; but in case not strictly within the letter of s. 144 restitution is not a matter of course but depends upon the discretion of the Court and will be ordered only when the justice of the case calls for it. The jurisdiction as to restitution bears only a superficial resemblance to the jurisdiction as to execution. The jurisdiction to order restitution is inherent in the Court and that it flows, not from any power which it may have to carry into effect the decree or order of the Court, but from the recognition of the duty which it owes to the suitors to take care that no injury is done to them by its acts. A I R 1925 Pat 1 (F B)=3 Pat 371=5 P L T 145=(1924) Pat 33 (F B)=78 I C 200 Over Ruling 1923 Patna 371=72 I C 912.

—A decree-holder purchased property in execution sale. Subsequently, it was agreed that the sale should not be confirmed, if by a certain fixed date the judgment-debtors paid Rs. 1,313 to the decree-holder. One of the judgment debtors paid two instalments of Rs. 317 and 230 respectively within the time allowed and the rest was not paid. The sale was therefore confirmed in full satisfaction of the judgment-debt, the Court overlooking the fact of retention by decree-holder of the two sums paid by the judgment-debtor. The judgment-debtors then made an application for restitution of the two sums. Held, that the judgment-debtors were entitled to a refund of that amount, that a regular civil suit for the purpose would not lie, that the case was not covered by of s. 144 but the execution Court could in the exercise of its inherent powers under s. 151, make an order for restitution with a view to do complete justice between the parties. A I R 1922 Cal 28=26 C W N 408=35 C L J 53=64 I C 864.

(27) Principle of restitution.

—It is the party who is entitled to restitution who can apply to the Court and claim the help of the Court in the matter, it is for his benefit that the provision is introduced. The restitution must be such as will put the parties in the position which they would have occupied but for the wrong decree. The party who is to be assisted by Court must be put into the position which he could have occupied but for the wrong decree. It is no answer to that provision to say that it cannot be given effect to because the other party happened to gain no benefit by the wrong decree or order which had been made, 35 M 1025 (1029-30)=63 M L J 383=36 L W 504=1932 M W N 1014=139 I C 348=A I R 1933 M 33 (2)=1 R 1932 M 661.

(1) Legislative Changes.

--Change introduced by the present section:--The cases under old Code are still of value but it will be seen that the scope of the section is very much enlarged to cover cases of restitution and indeed all other orders made in suits and proceedings in suits.

(2) Applicability and Scope of the Section.

--Scope of the section is not confined to appeals by the surety but includes appeals against the surety to enforce bond. (1914) M W N 714=26 I C 76.

--But S. 145 of the C. P. Code applies only where the surety has rendered himself personally liable for the decretal amount. Where during execution proceedings, B handed over two Govt. Promissory Notes to the decree-holder's pleader upon the understanding that the latter should hold them as security for the fulfilment of the decree against A. Held, that the case did not come under S. 145, C. P. Code. B only created an equitable charge upon the notes in favour of the decree-holder by depositing them as security, and this liability could only be enforced in a regular suit. 19 C W N 961=29 I C 149.

--So, S. 145 of the C P Code does not apply to proceedings for the enforcement of surety bonds taken by the decree-holder outside the Court. 24 M L T 416=8 L W 507=(1918) M W N 764=48 C 940.

--The object is to provide that a party for whose benefit a security has been given may enforce the security by executing the decree or order against the surety in the same manner as if the surety had been a party to the decree or order and was directed by the decree or order to perform the obligation undertaken by him. A I R 1924 All 105=45 A 649=21 A L J 604=L R 4 A 356 Civ=74 I C 927.

A L R 1934 Mad. 249.

—Where it was contended that as the judgment debtor had paid the money due from him under the decree into Court and there is no further dispute between the two parties to the suit. Held that so long as the money deposited by the judgment-debtor was not finally disbursed there can be a “proceeding consequent upon a suit.” A L R 1933 M 82 (1)=56 M 687=A I R 1933 M 678=146 I C 459=38 L W 315=65 M L J 132=1933 M W N 949=I R 6 M 264 (F B) Proceedings under-see 38 I C 130.

—Order requiring surety of receiver to pay up money—Appeal under S 47 see 59 I C 844.

—Under s. 145 a surety can appeal as if he were a party to the decree if an order is made against him but he is not a party for any other purpose and is not entitled to make an application under s. 47. A I R 1931 Rang 206=9 R 434=Ind Rul (1931) Rang 301=134 I C 509.

C P C (1908) SEC. 145 (Contd)*(3) Appeal (Contd)

—S. 145, C P C while it prescribes a remedy against the surety also provides for the surety's remedies by way of appeal. An order passed for sale of surety's immovable property though not one under S 145 is an order which Courts are competent to pass under their general powers and is appealable. A L R 1933 M 1192.

(4) Attaching creditor if entitled to security money.

—A debtor who had been arrested and imprisoned in a Civil Jail was released upon his filing a petition in insolvency and upon a person depositing cash security for his production. After the petition in insolvency was dismissed the surety failed when called upon to produce the debtor. The Court thereupon ordered the security money deposited to be forfeited to the Government and dismissed the attaching creditor's application to have the money paid to him: Held that there was no power in the Court to decree a forfeiture in favour of the Government and that the security money should be paid to the decree-holder. 16 C W N 664=39 C 1048=16 I C 118.

surety liable. A I R 1928 Lah 974=Ind Rul (1929) Lah 538=146 I C 554

Where a surety undertook to pay the decretal amount to the decree-holder if the judgment-debtor did not file an insolvency petition in the proper court or if the insolvency petition was rejected and the surety failed to produce the judgment-debtor, on the failure of the judgment-debtor to file an insolvency petition the surety is liable to be proceeded against in the same manner as if a decree for the amount decreed against the judgment-debtor has been passed against himself. No question arises as to whether he had failed to produce the judgment-debtor upon being called upon to do so. Held, on a construction of the bond that the surety's liability was a general one and that the mere fact that the execution proceedings against the judgment-debtor had been dismissed did not bar the decree-holder's application to proceed against the surety. 5 Pat L J 417=1 Pat L T 604=57 I C 303.

—(1) Applicability and Scope of the section:—The section gives legislative force to the view taken in 16 B 263 and sets at rest the conflict of opinion that had hitherto existed as to which see 32 M 305 and 14 C W N 882 and the cases discussed therein. S. 148 does not authorise the Court to grant extension of time for filing the security bond, which is an act required by the Prov. Sm. C. Court Act and not by the C P Code 1 Pat L T 323-(1920) Pat 203-56 C 810.

—S. 27 (2) of the Insolvency Act contemplates an extension of time for application for discharge for good reason and should be granted even if the application for extension is made after expiry of the fixed date. —S. 148 of the C. P. Code has not the effect of making O. 7, R. 11 applicable to memorandum of appeals so as to make it incumbent on the Court to admit them though out of time when the conditions of that rule are complied with. 27 M L J 677-26 I C 33 dissenting from 38 B 41.

—As a general rule when once a Court has admitted and registered a plaint it cannot subsequently reject it; and a Court may be taken to have extended the time and to have treated the time when the Court fees were actually paid as the time fixed for payment when it accepts them on that date. —S. 148 and O. 34, r. 4 do not apply to mortgage decrees based on compromise. Where the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit was based on a compromise whereby the decretal amount was payable by instalments and in default of any, the decree-holder could himself sell the property but the court granted extension of time on such default of the judgment-debtor, held, Court cannot grant extension in compromise decree and the provision for sale by the decree-holder was not penal. In default of payment on that date the prior mortgagees were to be allowed to take possession. On the date fixed for payment the puisne mortgagee applied for extension of time which was granted by the Lower Court. —S. 148 applies to cases in which is extended the time fixed by C. P. C. for the doing of some act and not to the extending of the time fixed by a mortgage decree for the payment of a prior mortgage. Where in a redemption decree the decree erroneously described that the suit will stand dismissed on default of payment on a certain day instead of the words found in O. 34, r. 8, Held, that the Court could extend the time. (19)—Time fixed by order whether can be extended :—Where an application is allowed providing that if within the time allowed certain terms are not complied with the application shall automatically and without further interposition stand dismissed, no further order of Court is necessary to effect its dismissal. The test to determine whether power exists to extend time is whether the proceeding in which time was originally granted is still pending or not. —Where an order provides that the suit would be dismissed if money is not paid within certain time further order by the Court is necessary before the suit is dead, and on an application for such an order, it is open to the Court, to extend the time for making the payment. But if the order states that default of payment the suit will stand dismissed time cannot be extended. A I R 1922 Cal 320=48 C 902=66 I C 481.

—An order allowing an amendment of the plaint was made conditional on payment of the necessary court-fee and of the defendants' costs within a specified period. The order provided that, if the costs were not paid within the time allowed, the suit would stand dismissed with costs. Held, that the successor of the Judge who made the order had power to extend the time allowed for payment of court-fee but not the time allowed for payment of the costs. Though the order extending the time for payment of the costs was held to be erroneous in law, the High Court declined to interfere in revision as to do so would cause irreparable loss to the plaintiff and would as such amount to a denial of justice to him. 36 C W N 86)=140 I C 373=I R 1932 C 712.

(1) Scope of the Section.

—S. 149 is one of general provisions not liable to annulment or alteration by any proceedings under Part X, and in case of any conflict between a general provision and a rule under the first schedule, the former must prevail. A I R 1926 Mad 676=(1926) M W N 311=51 M L J 90=95 I C 439.

—Time allowed under Art. 158, Limitation Act, for supplying Court-fee stamp on application to set aside an award can be extended. A I R 1928 Sind 87=23 S L R 91=107 I C 223.

—Where indulgence under s. 149 in case of an appeal insufficiently stamped is refused the appellant is entitled to have his appeal heard with regard to his claim for which Court-fee has been paid and in so far as it is within time, whether or not such a request is made to the Court by the appellant. A I R 1931 Lah 237=Ind Rul (1931) Lah 425=32 P L R 129=131 I C 297.

—Court-fee payable according to the law "for the time being in force" means in the case of an appeal, court-fee payable according to the scale which was in force when the memorandum of appeal was filed. 9 O W N 855=110 I C 190=A I R 1932 O 313=I R 1932 O 396 (1).

(2) Appellate Court.

—Question of exercise of discretion under s. 149, should be left to the discretion of the trial Court and the Appellate Court must not interfere with the discretion unless there is a strong case. A I R 1925 Pat 293=(1921) Pat 355=6 P L T 4=3 P L R (Civ) 22=1 Pat 103=85 I C 172.

(2) Appellate Court. (Concl'd)

—Suit for partition and profits—Amount of Court-fee determined by first court and time fixed for its payment—
Dismissal for default in payment—Appellate Court incompetent to extend time or reduce amount. see 28 I C 890.

—An Appellate Court cannot question the propriety of an order under S.
149 of the C P C for the payment of deficit Court-fees if the order is not objected to when it is made, or in the Court which made it. 56 I C 47-2 U P L R (Pat) 45.

(3) "At any Stage".

—S. 149 of the C P C is inapplicable when there are no proceedings actually before the Court. When the application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis is rejected the unstamped memorandum attached to that petition falls to the ground. 18 I C 518-5 Bur L T 294; see also 18 A 395.

—Time can be granted at any stage for payment of deficient Court-fee. Court may therefore grant time before or after registration of the plaint and even after expiry of the period of limitation. A I R 1926 Nag 156-89 I C 419.

—Once a decree is passed a Court is deprived of its jurisdiction to extend the time for payment of Court-fee. A I R
1931 All 378-Ind Rul (1931) All 220-129
C 732

(4) Bona fide mistake.

—A case of mistake in valuation is pre-eminent a case where discretion under s 149, Civil P C should be used. A I R
1929 P C 147-Ind Rul (1929) P C 261-31

—Where through bona fide mistake full Court-fee is not paid in the first instance but deficiency afterwards is made good the benefit of s 149 can be claimed and the Court accordingly can extend time. A I R 1923 Lah 629-80 I C 251.

—When an appellant filed her memorandum of appeal within time, stamped with a Rs. 2 Court-fee stamp only owing to a bona fide error on the part of her pleader, who on discovering his mistake made up the deficiency after expiry of the period allowed for the appeal. Held that the case was one in which the Court might exercise the discretion vested by S. 149 of the C P Code. 10 P R 1919-49 I C 188.

—Where the question involved is debatable one and the deficiency in Court-fee is due to a bona fide mistake, extension of time should be granted. A I R 1923
Lah 135-71 I C 737.

—Discretion under s. 149 to allow party to make up deficiency even after the expiration of limitation for filing the document can be exercised in cases of a bona fide mistake or a misunderstanding of the law as to valuation but not where the party never carried to find out the proper Court fee which he had to pay. A
I R 1929 Nag 294-Ind Rul (1929) Nag 332-119 I C 700.

—Where however there is no bona fide mistake but a deliberate attempt either to avoid payment of sufficient court-fee or to defer the day of payment as long as possible, extension of time will not be granted. 1 Lah 234-57 I C 215.

—In the absence of bona fide mistake, the Court may refuse time to a party to make up the deficiency in Court-fee in a memo of appeal. A I R 1931 Lah 343-
32 P L R 251-Ind Rul (1931) Lah 895-
134 I C 127.

(5) Deliberate omission or neglect.

—S. 149 of the C P Code should not be construed in such a way as to nullify the express provisions of S. 4 of the Court-Fees Act. Where the amount of Court fee payable is open to doubt or cannot be ascertained by the High Court till the record is received or it appears that the appellant has made an honest attempt to comply with the law, the Court may properly receive the appeal and allow time for the deficiency, if any, to be made. Where however an appellant deliberately and to suit his own convenience paid insufficient court-fee on his appeal, the Court is not bound to receive the appeal and give the appellant time to make good the deficiency. 42 I C 675-3 Pat L J 74-5 Pat L W 18.

—Where appellant's Pleader, deliberately refuses to pay up deficiency brought to his notice while filing appeal extension cannot be allowed A I R 1924
Lah 325-69 I C 196.

—In absence of a bona fide mistake about the Court-fee and where the omission to pay the full amount is deliberate, time to make up deficiency cannot be granted. A I R 1923 Lah 303-75 I C 667.

(6) Discretion of Court.

—The section gives wide discretion to Court. 38 Bom 41=15 Bom L R 902=21 I C 337.

—See also 27 M L J 677=26 I C 33

—But the discretion allowed to Courts by S. 149 cannot be exercised in favour of an appellant unless he shows reasonably diligence in the prosecution of his appeal. 130 P L R 1913=19 I C 788=55 P R 1913.

—Thus when there is no question of any mistake Court will not generally extend time. 24 I C 276.

—Period fixed for payment of deficient Court fee—Extension of time originally granted —Power of Court. see 51 I C 154.

—Ignorance of law or poverty is not an adequate legal ground for extension and no extension should be granted where an insufficiently stamped memorandum of appeal is re-filed. 3 Lah L J 237=67 I C 901.

—Plaintiff got a decree for specific performance on condition of deposit within a certain period, but made the payment 4 days later but before the expiry of the period allowed, he applied for amendment of decree by insertion of certain directions as to what was to happen in the event of his making the deposit. The Court on 20th March allowed the amendment, but stated in the same order that plaintiff decree-holder had failed to make the deposit and was not entitled to any extension of time. Two months before this order, the plaintiff decree-holder had applied for execution and was given possession of the property, the failure to make deposit not having been brought to Court's notice. The judgment-debtor in connection with proceedings which culminated in the order of 20th March, applied to be restored to possession and application was granted. —Time for payment of deficient Court-fees cannot be extended when there could have been no misapprehension as to the Court-fee payable. 73 I C 788.

—Where while dismissing a suit plaintiff is ordered to make up the deficiency in Court-fees, the Court must be presumed to have acted under s. 149, and the plaintiff becomes of the same force and effect as if the Court-fee had been paid in the first instance if deficiency is made up. A I R 1926 Lah 346=8 Lah L J 60=27 P L R 172=92 I C 986.

—Where the amount of Court-fee payable is doubtful and the party had a reasonable cause for not paying the requisite Court-fee the case is a fit one for extending time for making good the deficiency. A I R 1930 Lah 24=11 I C 270.

—When discretion as regards granting time is not exercised and the memorandum of appeal is rejected the order of rejection should be set aside. A I R 1923 All 349=21 A L J 333=L R 4 A 188 Civ=74 I C 757.

—Discretion under s. 149 to accept the plaint on a Court-fee and treat the suit as having been instituted on date of application to sue as pauper should not be too widely used by Court in favour of a plaintiff who fails to establish his right to sue as pauper. A I R 1929 Pat 637=Ind Rul (1929) Pat 521=11 P L T 55=118 I C 329.

—A court before which an insufficiently stamped appeal is filed in time has power under s. 149 C. P. C. to accept it on the deficiency being made good, even if it was made after expiry of limitation. A Bench before which the appeal is posted under O 41, r 11 C. P. ## (7) Duty of Court.

—Plaint insufficiently stamped—Duty of Court, see 27 P L R 1917-391 C 766

—To avail of the terms of s. 149, the permission to deposit deficit-fee must be given after considering the circumstances and reasons for not filing the entire Court fee in the first instance 60 I C 493.

—Unless there is satisfactory explanation of the mistake, no extension will be granted for making up deficiency on memorandum of appeal. 3 Lah L J 156-67 I C 130.

—Court cannot refuse to fix a time within which the deficient Court-fee shall be paid. It has discretion to extend the time already fixed. Section 149 does not give the Court any discretion to refuse to grant the time which O. VII, r. 11, says it shall grant. Where a party pays beyond the fixed time and has not asked the Court to extend the time for payment but the Court receives the fee, the inference is that the Court has implicitly, extended that time. Court can accept payment after the fixed time. A I R 1926 Mad 676-(1926) M W N 341-51 M L J 90-95 I C 439.

—It is an abuse of the powers of the Court to refuse the deficit Court-fee where the delay is that of one day. A I R 1927 Oudh 507-1 Luck Cas 574-104 I C 527.

—Deficiency appearing on face of memo of appeal—Receiving of memorandum in case of, is without jurisdiction—Proper procedure in such a case is once return the memorandum to the party presenting it. 59 C 388 (392-3)-138 I C 648-A I R 1932 C 482-1 R 1932 C 483.

—The District Judge who had jurisdiction to hear the appeal exercised his discretion and allowed the court-fee to be made up. This could only be done under s. 149, Civil P. C. That section clearly lays down that upon such payment the document in respect of which such fee is payable shall have the same force and effect as if such fee had been paid in the first instance. That clearly means that once the Court has allowed and accepted payment no further question of limitation arises. It was not fair to permit the deficiency to be made up and then to hold that the appeal was barred by limitation. A I R 1932 L 21-133 I C 122.

—Rejection of appeal on ground of Court has no Unlimited power of rejection. 1932 M W N 104.

—Where the plaint claim is reduced in appeal, the Court must not dismiss the entire appeal, but should hear the same to the extent that Court-fee has been paid. A I R 1931 Lah 237-32 P L R 129-Ind Rul (1931) Lah 425-131 I C 297.

(8) Pauper applications and appeals

—Where an application for permission to sue as pauper is withdrawn on ground that in another Court application to sue in forma pauperis with respect to a previous suit had been rejected, and the requisite Court-fees are paid after limitation it is not a fit case to exercise discretion under s. 149, and the suit is barred as both the applications are fraudulent. A I R 1923 Rang 256-1 R 196-74 I C 835.

—On dismissal of an application for leave to sue as a pauper the plaint still remains and may be validated by payment of Court-fees within time to be fixed by Court which lies in the discretion of the Court to do. A I R 1924 Mad 118-18 L W 451-33 M L T 18 (H C)-46 M L J 254-(1923) M W N 720-76 I C 767.

—Application for leave to sue in form a pauperis—Rejection of—Subsequent payment of court-fee—Effect—Suit shall be deemed to have been instituted when Court-fee paid—S. 149 can be invoked only when the pauper petition is kept pending. A L R 1933 N 283-A I R 1933 N 237.

—Extension of time to pay Court-fee on pauper application—Power of Court and effect. see (1915) M W N 228-28 I C 504.

—Power of Court to extend time to pay stamp, if applies to pauper appeals. see 31 M L J 269-40 Mad 687-38 I C 617.

(9) Payment of Court-fee on memo of appeal after limitation.

—An appeal must be taken to be filed on the date on which the memorandum of appeal is properly stamped. 2 Lah L J 481-56 I C 742.

—Where the deficiency in an insufficiently stamped plaint filed within limitation is made good under O. VII, r. 11 no question of limitation arises. law as regards memoranda of appeal is however different. A I R 1922 Pat 56 (1) -3 P L T 142-70 I C 378.

—It would be an exceedingly bad precedent to hold that an appellant who cannot pay the full court fee within the period of limitation prescribed for the filing of the appeal should be allowed to file the appeal on insufficient stamp and should be given time to pay the balance at his leisure, 8 P L R 1919-19 I C 871.

—Under O VII r. 11, cl. ## (10) Payment of court-fee on plaint after limitation. (Contd)

—Under S. 149 of the Code of Civil Procedure the Court has a discretion to allow the plaintiff to pay the deficit court-fee on an insufficiently stamped plaint, even after the expiry of period of limitation prescribed for filing the suit. But when the Court has exercised this discretion in favour of the plaintiff and has allowed the deficiency in stamp to be made good, the payment relates back to the date on which the plaint was originally presented. In the last clause of that section it is clearly laid down that upon the payment of the additional court-fee the document in respect of which fee is payable shall have the same force and effect as if such fee had been paid in the first instance 1932 P C L 773 (Civ)=I R 1932 L 635=A L R 1932 L 773 (Civ.)

mortgage, as an order made in execution proceedings paid a Court fee of As 8 only on the memo. of appeal therefrom and paid the deficient Court fee within the time allowed by the Court, held the appeal must be treated as presented in time especially as the Court had granted time under S. 582 of C. P. Code of 1882 for payment of deficient Court fee, and that S. 149 of the new Code vests wider discretion in Court. 21 I C 856.

—A plaint was presented to a Civil Court on the 19th April. On the 29th. April an order was made on the plff. to pay the deficit Court fees within a week. This was followed by several other orders providing for payment on later dates. Ultimately there was an order on the 7th Aug. under which the balance was to be paid within five days but it was paid the next day, the 8th Aug. Held, that there was an order and also payment in conformity with that order within the meaning of S 149 C. P. Code. A discretion exercised properly under the section cannot be challenged in appeal 29 I C 571=24 C L J 88.

C. P. C. (1908) S. 150

—S. 150 is intended to apply not merely to cases where there was a judicial transfer of specific business but the section is in terms wide enough to authorise the Court to which the area had been transferred (including a fortiori the business not directly depending on territorial jurisdiction) to entertain in the first instance any application which might have been made to the Court which passed the decree. 137 I C 183 = A I R 1932 M 260 = I R 1932 M 332 = 1931 M W N 842 = 34 L W 271 = 61 M L J 307.

—Sadasivaiyar. J in 31 M L J 22 said that the transfer of business referred to in S. 150 can be only by a notification effecting change of jurisdiction and not transfer of business by specific order. In this extreme view he was not supported by the latter decisions which hold that S. 150 applies to both kinds of transfer. 55 M 801 (814) = 62 M L J 687 = 35 L W 742 = 1932 M W N 255 = 137 I C 305 = I R 1932 M 373 = A I R 1932 M 418 (F B).

—The section applies to suits and proceedings under Mad. Estates Land Act 17 M L T 190 = 28 I C 269.

—Assignment of business under s. 13 (2) of the Bengal and Assam Civil Courts Acts from one Judge to another is not transfer within the meaning of s. 150 and the latter Judge cannot entertain application to execute decree of former. A I R 1922 Cal 41 = 26 C W N 216 = 70 I C 210.

—Word 'transfer' in s. 150 includes case where the District Judge fixes jurisdiction of the Court under the Civil Courts Act and transfers business within a certain area to it. A I R 1923 Mad. 92 = (1922) M W N 743 = 16 L W 748 = 43 M L J 713 = 46 M 83 = 86 I C 650.

(1) Abuse of Process.

—S. 151 does not validate every act of Court which cannot otherwise be justified. The power is to be exercised in specified circumstances and cannot be exercised until those circumstances are established Court purporting to prevent abuse must find what the abuse is. Mere non-compliance with r. 24 of Madras High Court Rules of practice is hardly in every case an abuse of Process. A I R 1928 Mad. 522 = (1928) M W N 222 = 54 M L J 665 = 28 L W 152 = 109 I C 528.

—Where the application asking for an enquiry under O. XXXII, r. 15 was dismissed without holding any independent inquiry as required by law, this is an abuse of the process of the Court and can therefore be interfered with under s. 151 A I R 1928 All 108 = 50 A 335 = 25 A L J 1082 = 108 I C 141.

—S. 151 may be resisted for preventing gross abuse of the powers of the Court in proper cases. A I R 1927 Mad 592=52 M L J 670 = 38 M L T 364 = (1927) M W N 259=102 I C 396 —Idle multiplicity of proceedings included in abuse of process of Court. A I R 1926 All 212 = 48 A 356 = 24 A L J 375 = 93 I C 285.

—Sons of the judgment-debtor applied for injunction staying the sale and got it and the same afterwards refused to the judgment-debtor though on other grounds, is an abuse of the process of the Court and s. 151 can be invoked to set aside the order refusing injunction A I R 1924 Mad 100 = 45 M L J 312 = (1923) M W N 672 = 77 I C 12.

—Where plaintiff obtains a decision on an immaterial issue in a suit which he knows, is bound to fail, and brings another suit, requiring the Court to follow the dictum previously given, it was held that this would amount to abuse of the process of the Court. A I R 1923 All 495 = 45 A 466 = 21 A L J 393 = L R 4 A 532 Civ = 74 I C 656.

—Court has inherent power to investigate whether certain property should vest in Court under S. 47 (2) Provincial Insolvency Act (1907) so far as process of Court is not abused, and is not absolutely barred from deciding claims of third parties. A I R 1921 Nag. 159 = 61 I C 589.

(2) Amendment.

—The Courts in India have inherent powers to amend or vary decrees so as to bring them into accord with the judgments even if the amendments do not fall within S. 152 of the Code of Civil Procedure 92 P R 1919 = 52 I C 574.

—Court has inherent power to amend even in cases of matter not covered by S. 152. 9 O W N 803 (807) = 140 I C 412 = I R 1932 O 402 = A I R 1932 O 293.

—The mere fact of an appeal being filed does not oust the jurisdiction of the first Court to amend the plaint and decree to correct a clerical error. (1931) A L J 536.

—Suit for recovery of rent—Brought against the proper person who was misdescribed owing to his own fault is not giving the correct name—Summons served on the person—Ex parte decree passed in the suit—Objection against arrest of the person—Amendment of decree bringing the said person by giving the correct name on record—Amendment proper. A L R 1933 B 201 (202) = 35 B L R 365 = 144 I C 901 = A I R 1933 B 200 = I R 6 B 14.

—The Court has inherent power to amend decrees and orders even in cases not covered by S. 152. Para 12 (c) of Sch II C P C expressly lays down that where the award contains a clerical mistake or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission the Court may by order modify or correct such an award. Para 21 of that Schedule while referring to paras 14 and 15 omits all mention of para. 12. This omission leads inevitably to the conclusion that the Court's power to modify or correct an award on the three grounds mentioned in para 12 of Sch II even after it has been embodied in a decree of the Court has been left untouched. 9 O W N 803 (809, 811-2) = 140 I C 412 = I R 1932 O 402 = A I R 1932 O 293.

—Assuming that the Court has jurisdiction to allow an appellant to continue an appeal in forma pauperis it can be exercised in favour of an appellant only if on a perusal of the judgement and decree appealed from and the appeal memorandum the court is of opinion that decree is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law or otherwise erroneous or unjust. 38 M L J 146 = (1920) M W N 277 = 10 L W 659 = 54 I C 761.

—The inherent power of the Court mentioned in S. 151, does not include a power to set aside the deliberate decision of superior Court. Order 20 rule 3, is a distinct prohibition against any alteration of a signed judgment save as provided by S 152 or on review. 20 I C 3 = 254 P L R 1913 = 159 P W R 1913.

—Inherent power of court—Amendment of decree—Improper exercise, See 23 I C 906.

—Where in an appeal "the suit was decreed with costs" and the intention of the court was clear that only the contesting defendant ought to be made to pay the costs and not the other defendants: Held, that it is open to a court suo motu to rectify a decree making all defendants liable so as to make it conform to the intention of the court even though the decree might have been appealed from. The court can make the amendment either under S. 151 or S 152 or under O 20 R 6 of the C P Code. 18 C W N 772 = 20 C L J 18 = 23 I C 419 and 26 I 946.

—Inherent power—Amendment—No difference between decree and judgment—No power to amend though error apparent on the face of record. see 3 L W 499.

—A decree for the sale of mortgaged property described the property according to the description given in the mortgage deed. Before the institution of the suit, the description of the property was changed in the Revenue Registers and the court omitted to give the correct description. Held that the court had jurisdiction under S 151 to amend the decree so as to do justice between parties. 19 C W N 1021 = 28 I C 304.

—Amendment of decree—Inherent power to amend in appeal from execution proceeding. 34 I C 344.

—A commissioner was appointed to make an allotment by a preliminary decree in a partition suit. While the case was before the commissioner one K. whose name was not in the decree applied for amendment of the decree so as to include his name in it and also for the allotment of a separate share to him. The Court made the amendment and ordered the case to be tried de novo. Held, that the Court had no power under S. 151 of the C P Code to make such order under that section. It had power only to amend the decree so as to bring it into conformity with the pleadings and should have acted accordingly. 37 I C 352.

—Amendment of decree for pre-emption —Power under the section see. 54 I C 34.

—When by some oversight or other-wise a judge commits mistakes which injuriously affect parties the Court should exercise powers under S. 151 and 152 of the C P Code, 1908, to correct the mistake and amend the decree accordingly. The Chief Court in reversing the Appellate decree in second appeal and restoring the decree of the first Court in a pre-emption suit omitted to provide for the time of payment of the pre-emption money, etc. This defect was removed from this judgment, on an application made by the plff under Ss. 151 and 152 of the C P Code of 1908. 169 P W R 1916 = 37 I C 378.

—Amendment of decree necessitated by the decision in second appeal should be granted A I R 1929 Lah 317 = 11 Lah L J 37 = Ind Rul (1930) Lah 16 = 120 I C 176.

—No amendment should be allowed either under s. 152 or s. 151 where laches may in circumstances of the case disentitle party to relief under s. 152. A I R 1928 Nag 149 = 109 I C 727.

—Where there is mistake as to costs included in the decree, it is open to the aggrieved party to point out the mistake and claim its correction under s. 151. A I R 1928 Lah 800 = 10 Lah L J 401 = 107 I C 476.

—If prior application for amendment has been heard and finally decided on merits, subsequent application claiming substantially the same relief as before cannot be entertained except in special circumstances but dismissal of prior application for amendment of clerical or arithmetical error in judgment or decrees and decision thereon, does not operate as res judicata to subsequent applications. A I R 1928 Lah 244 = 107 I C 390.

—But it is competent for the Court under s. 151 to restore the case to the original file subsequent to discovery that the minor was not properly represented A I R 1930 All 644 = (1930) A L J 938 = Ind Rul (1931) All 54 = 52 A 24 = 128 I C 438. See also 36 I C 366; and 14 A L J 818.

C. P. C. (1908) S. 151 (Contd.)

—Decree in conformity with judgment cannot be amended under s. 151 and any mistake in the judgment can only be amended by appeal or review. A I R 1927 Cal 203 = 44 C L J 441 = 100 I C 309.

—In appeal from preliminary decree against minors X was appointed guardian in place of Y who was guardian in original suit and had since died, but in final decree by trial Court Y's name was by mistake shown as guardian. Application for amendment was made in execution when mistake was discovered. Held that as it was not necessary for either party to apply for appointment of X as guardian amendment should be allowed. A I R 1926 Pat 56 = (1926) Pat 303 = 8 P L T 143 = 97 I C 152.

—Only Appellate Court can amend original decree appealed against where appeal is dismissed under O XLI, r. 11. 95 I C 649 (All).

—Even where second appeal has been dismissed under O XLI, r. 11, High Court can amend the plaint and the decree so as to correct the mistake in the description of the property. A I R 1923 Pat 218 = (1923) Pat 46 = 81 I C 295.

—Where a co-plaintiff is made a defendant other plaintiff can be ordered to give costs up to the date on which he was made defendant. S. 151 should not be invoked to give costs in cases other than in O XXV r. and O. 41 r. 10 A I R 1924 Cal 251 = 50 C 853 = 79 I C 298.

—Remand under s. 151 can be allowed in cases not covered by O. XXIII and XXV of O. XLI. But it shall not so be allowed where it is specifically disallowed by other provisions in the Code. Hence order of remand is not irregular or invalid where it does nothing which is prohibited by the Court. A I R 1930 Lah 224 = 31 P L R 50 = 11 Lah L J 507 = Ind Rul ( 1930 ) Lah 329 = 122 I C 473 See also 32 C W N 101 = 106 I C 512 = A I R 1928 Cal 814.

—An order under S. 151, C P C must show on the face of it that it is necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court. An appellate Court has inherent power to remand a case, but it is a power which can only be exercised for the ends of justice. The mere fact that there has not been a proper trial of the case, apart from other circumstances in the case, is not sufficient to vest the Appellate Court with jurisdiction to remand the case in the exercise of its inherent power. The rule is that if the trial has not been proper owing to some neglect on the part of the Court the Appellate Court has power to remand the case, but where the neglect or default is on the part of a party to the litigation, the Appellate Court has no such power. 56 I C 834 = 2 U P L R ( Pat ) 163.

—An order of restitution under S. 151 in exercise of the inherent powers of the Court is not a decree nor does it amount to adjudicating the rights of the parties to a suit. The auction purchaser cannot be said to be a representative of any of the parties so as to bring the order within S. 47 C P C. Such an order is not appealable nor does a second appeal lie from it. The court acting under S. 151 can order an auction purchase money withdrawn by him after the sale in his favour was set aside if the sale is confirmed on appeal and thus restore the purchase money to the person entitled. It is clearly within the powers of a court to correct a result which amounts to something akin to abuse of the process of the court and put the parties in the position in which they would have been if the Court had not erroneously passed an order which had to be corrected in appeal. The Code of Civil Procedure is not exhaustive and when a court passes an order which it has jurisdiction to make there is inherent power to the court to have that order carried into effect. —But it cannot amend certificate of sale:— 18 I C 725.

—S. 152 of the C P Code is confined to the correction clerical errors made by the Court itself, and has no concern with the mistakes of parties. An Insolvency Court has the same jurisdiction that the ordinary courts of law possess under the Civil Procedure Code to correct any mistake either of a clerk or of the parties themselves upon a question of fact, when a mistake is established. 51 I C 55 = 1 U P L R (H C) 69.

(2) When amendment will be allowed

(1) Decree not in Conformity with judgment.

—The test for determination of the application for amendment under s. 152 of the Code of C P should be whether the decree is or is not in accordance with the intention of the Judge who decided the case. A I R 1931 Oudh 422 = 8 O W N 1121 = Ind Rul (1931) Oudh 417 = 134 I C 1909.

—Per Suhrawardy, J.—Though the word "may" used in S. 152, C P C apparently looks as if it is within the discretion of the Court to allow such amendment, there is another provision of the Code which is mandatory and which must be obeyed, that is, O 20, r. 6, which says that the decree shall agree with the judgment. Per Graham, J.—It is no doubt the general rule that a decree should be in conformity with the judgment. O. 20, r. 6 C P C, provides that "the decree shall agree with the judgment." At the same time S. 152 of the Code, which deals with the amendment of decrees and orders, is in its language discretionary, and it cannot be laid down as a hard and fast rule that amendment must be allowed as a matter of course in every case regardless of its particular facts. 36 C W N 97 = A I R 1932 C 563 (564 to 568) = 139 I C 528 = I R 1932 C 637.

—It is the duty of a Court to prepare its decree in accordance with its judgment, and if there is any variance between the two it must correct the decree so as to make it in conformity with the judgment. The duty primarily rests with the Court, and not with any interested party to apply —Where a decree wrongly drafted gives the decree holder only a charge on the property while the judgment gives a mortgage decree, the proper way is to apply to Court passing it to amend the decree as to accord with judgment. The lower Court (after expiration of the period fixed for payment and without giving notice to the defendant) amended the decree. Held lower Court's order was correct. A I R 1925 Oudh 418 = 12 O L J 246 = 2 O W N 218 = 87 I C 987.

—Ordinarily where there is a discrepancy between the decree and the judgment and the decree-holder accepts payment of the amount due under the decree, he is not by that circumstance alone, debarred from taking proper steps to have the decree brought in accordance with the judgment. —A plaintiff who obtains a decree for specific share is not entitled the more merely because there is an arithmetical error in the decree. If there is such an error and the plaintiff's interest is prejudiced thereby the proper course is to get the mistake rectified by an application under S. 155. Where however, the operative part of a decree awards a particular share to the plaintiff but the detail attached to the decree contains a mistake in calculation, the error in the detail may be disregarded as surplusage, 9 I C 433.

—A Court should correct its own mistake and not drive the parties to a subsequent suit. Where in execution of a decree the Court officer delivers possession with the knowledge of the judgment debtor of lands not covered by the decree the court is bound to correct the mistake on an application made by the judgment-debtor within the period of limitation. 49 I C 948.

—Rules of Courts are only provisions intended to secure the proper administration of justice and they should therefore be subordinate to that purpose so that full powers of amendment must be enjoyed and should be always exercised liberally but none-the-less one distinct cause of action cannot be substituted for another, nor can the subject-matter of the suit be changed by amendment. —The courts are allowed by the C P C ample power to amend, and the High Court is slow to interfere with their exercise of discretion, but no Court has power to allow a new cause of action to be introduced into a plaint after the cause of action has become barred by limitation. Where the amendment amounts to a mere correction of the description of the property, the amendment is within the power of the court to make and when so made limitation must be reckoned as from the date of presentation of the plaint. 33 A 616 = 8 A L J 636 = 10 I C 476.

C. P. C. (1908) S. 154

—S. 154 means that nothing should prejudicially affect any present right of appeal. It can have no bearing on the powers of an appellate court in dealing with appeals before it. 9 I C 815.

—The new C P C does not deprive a litigant of the right of appeal which he had under the old Code, even if the right could not be exercised immediately on the introduction of the new Code. The right of appeal to a superior tribunal which belongs to a suitor as of right is a very different thing from matters relating to procedure. 9 M L T 259 = 21 M L J 631 = 9 I C 937 = (1911) 1 M W N 143.

both the Original and Appellate orders where made under the new Code: Held that the right of second Appeal did not exist in the case 14 I C 53.

—The words “any present right of appeal” in S. 154 of Act V of 1908, mean a right of appeal in esse and not in passé i e, a right of appeal which had actually come into existence and was capable of being exercised by the aggrieved party at the commencement of the new statute. Where in a suit instituted before the coming into force of the new C P Code an order of remand is passed after the new Code has come into force, the right of appeal against the order is regulated by the new and not by the old Code. 15 I C 725 = 1 P R 1913 = 84 P W R 1912 = 156 P W R 1912.

C. P. C. (1908) S. 155, 156 &amp; 157

—S. 157 is an enabling and not a repealing section. The rules made by the local Government under S. 269 of the old Code are in force until superseded by rules made by the High Court by S. 128 (2) (b) of the new Code even though the former are inconsistent with the orders in the Schedule. —(1) General Principles and Scope of the rule:—This rule has been re-drafted and brought directly into line with O. 16. r. 1 of the English Rules, as altered in 1896. It applies to High Court and Prov. Sm. Cause Court. Under the General Clauses Act 1897 s. 3 (39) "person" includes any company or association or body of individuals whether incorporated or not. The rule should not be read as though all members of a community must be joined as plffs: 24 C 385.

—The plaintiff's causes of action may now be separate and distinct so long as they arise out of the same act or transaction or the same series of transaction alleged and there is a common question of law or fact to be decided. see 73 I C 71 = A I R 1923 Pat 411.

—All the persons interested in a suit are necessary parties thereto, but if the parties are omitted to be impleaded they will have no defence whatever, it is not absolutely necessary to join them by amending the plaint and thus delay the disposal of the suit. 42 I C 92.

—Where addition of another plaintiff is necessary for the maintenance of a suit, both could remain as plaintiff but on understanding that second plaintiff had no case if first plaintiff succeeded. A I R 1921 Nag. 9 = 4 N I. J 58 = 63 I C 419.

C. P. C. O. I r. 1 (Contd.)

(1) General Principles and Scope of the Rule—(Contd.)

—Where second plaintiff was joined merely as a safeguard, the suit is a good one. 4 N I. J 58 = 63 I C 419.

—As to distinction between proper and necessary parties see 17 I C 921. Person remotely or indirectly interested is not a necessary party; 17 I C 921 see also 59 I C 292.

—Persons with derivative interest are not entitled to be associated in a decree in favour of person having the real title, merely because added as co-plffs. 30 C W N 56 = 22 L W 304 = 26 P L R 524 = 23 A I J 643 = 52 I A 211 = 1925 M W N 534 = 50 M L J 118 = 88 I C 198 = A I R 1925 P C 168 = 6 I 388.

—Suit for specific performance—Person in possession claiming under anterior agreement for sale is a necessary and proper party, 44 I C 361.

—Heirs in possession are the only necessary parties in a suit for rent for the period that they were in possession and not the other heirs of the tenant: 63 I C 949 = 48 C 518.

—A suit is not bad for misjoinder wherein right to relief claimed arises out of the same transaction though alleged to exist in first or second set of plffs in the alternative: 1912 M W N 316 = 16 L W 186 = 43 M L J 277 = 70 I C 684 = A I R 1922 M 174.

—A sued B and made C a party defendant. The trial Court found that the right to sue vested only in C who was therefore, made a plaintiff. The objection was that the suit not being instituted by A through bona fide mistake, C could not be made plaintiff under sub-r. (1), of r. 10. Held, that C could be joined as co-plaintiff under r. 1, O I, as a person in whom the right to the relief would lie in the alternative, and judgment may be given either for A or C whoever is found entitled to relief under O I r. 4, A I R 1927 Oudh 484 = 1 Luck Cas 546 = 105 I C 473.

—But a person who has no interest in the subject-matter of a suit and, therefore, no cause of action to institute the suit, cannot bring a suit and afterwards, in order to give himself a cause of action add the name of some person in whom a right of action exists. 11 Ind. Cas 223.

—Where one of two co-promisees sues making the other co-defendant, the suit should not be dismissed, merely because the plaintiff did not prove that the co-defendant refused to join as co-plaintiff. A I R 1931 Lah 445 = 32 P L R 385 = Ind Rul (1931) Lah 839 = 133 I C 871 following 26 C 409.

—Where it is not possible to make a person co-plff, the only alternative is to make him a co-deft: 80 I C 285 = A I R 1925 O 71.

C. P. C. O. 1 r. 1 (Contd.).

(1) General Principles and Scope of the rule—(Conclud)

—It may also be noted that though under the common law a person cannot be both a plaintiff and a defendant in the same suit equity Courts allow such a contingency only if full justice is done to all the parties. A I R 1926 Sind 4 = 93 I C 214

—Finally, may be noted some of the rules of Practice, namely that those persons only whose names appear on the record as parties are parties to the suit. 33 C W N 997 = 1 R 1930 C 637 = 125 I C 861 = A I R 1930 C 263.

—If some of the defendants in a suit support wholly or partly the plaintiff's case, they must address the Court and call their evidence before the defendants, really opposed to the plaintiff's case, commence their case.

—The word "plaintiff" means every person asking relief against another person. 10 Bom. L R 327 = 32 B 599.

—As to the limits of the rule against dismissal for non-joinder : 10 N L R 72 = 24 I C 831.

—Lastly, general provisions of the Code will prevail over the rules under Schedule I. 51 M L J 90 = 1926 M W N 341 = 95 I C 439 = A I R 1926 M 673.

—(2) Appeal :—see under O 1, r 3.

—Joint appeal by plff. and deflt. no. 2 from a suit dismissed against deflt. no. 1 is allowed and O 1 r 1 applies to appeals also : 75 I C 950 = A I R 1923 L 638.

—Appeal in partition suits is not maintainable unless all the interested persons are made parties thereto even if some of them do not choose to contest the appeal : 91 I C 567 = A I R 1926 C 741.

—In a suit on behalf of estate by some of the executors, all the remaining executors must be joined. But if in spite of the objections taken to that effect by the defts, plffs failed to join remaining executors both in suit and in appeal such addition cannot be permitted in second appeal to the High Court : 1923 M W N 89 = 17 L W 241 = 44 M L J 249 = 72 I C 63 = A I R 1923 M 337.

—Misjoinder—Order rejecting plaint—Legality—Appeal. See 5 Bur L T 234 = 18 I C 181.

(3) Benamidar

—The fact that benamidar is a party to suit does not make the real owner party to the suit A I R 1930 Cal 263 = 33 C W N 997 = 125 I C 861.

(4) Ejectment

—A suit for ejectment of trespasser may be brought by one or more co-owners. 1926 M W N 398 = 95 I C 856 = 24 L W 181 = A I R

C P C. O. 1 r. 1 (Contd.)

(4) Ejectment—(Conclud)

1926 M 809; for there is no misjoinder where two different sets of persons join together to eject a trespasser : A I R 1929 A 790.

—So, where a single proprietor maintains a suit in ejectment against a trespasser, such a decree, though in favour of one, is for the good of all the proprietors : 95 I C 121 = A I R 1926 L 545.

—That is to say, provided there is no denial of other co-owner's right, he need not be made a party to a suit by one co-owner for ejectment of trespasser : 75 I C 112 = A I R 1925 M 63.

—Ejectment suit by some co-sharers impleading others as defts.—Co sharers defts. to be arrayed as plffs. and decree to be passed. see 43 Cal 660 (P C).

—Suit to eject defts. from shamilat land in which one of the defts. is on field service and claim against whom was subsequently withdrawn is not bad for non-joinder : 60 I C 6.

(7) Hindu Widows, suits against.

—In 15 Mad 422, it was held that according to the Hindu Law in Madras, a reversioner is entitled to sue to establish the invalidity of a sale by the widow of the last male holder, notwithstanding that he left a daughter who was alive at the date of the suit, but was not joined as a party. Suit for arrears of maintenance by two widows—basis of claim of each founded on the same decree—each relief arising out of the same transaction—common question of fact or law involved—separate suits not necessary. A I R 1933 P 128.

—The Code does not give sanction to the joinder as plffs of rival claimants, each of whom denies the right to the relief of the other : 57 I C 784.

—Opposing claimants in a suit cannot join as co-plffs. 38 Bom. 272 = 16 Bom. L R 164 = 23 I C 221.

—A single suit brought by a party his son and wife for their maintenance is not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. 17 C W N 341 = 18 I C 764.

Plffs. sued the several sets of debts for the recovery of possession of the portions purchased by each set. He did not allege any joint action or community of interest as between the different sets of debts.—Held, that the suit was bad for multifariousness. The error made by the plff. in filing a single suit when he ought to have brought more than one suit was a defect of a formal nature having nothing to do with the merits and the plff. was allowed to withdraw from the suit with liberty to institute such fresh suit or suits subject to the payment of all costs and expenses incurred by defts. 15 A L J 809=40 All 7=42 I C 856.

(2) General Principles &amp; Scope.

—But owing to the express insertion of the words "in respect of or arising out of the same act or transactions or series of acts or transactions." in the present rule numerous decision of this point under the old Code are no longer of practical interest.

—The rule applies to joinder of causes as well as to joinder of parties. 136 I C 497=I R 1932 B 193=A I R 1932 B 1 (2).

—And the language of the rule is much more favourable to plaintiffs in this country than the corresponding English rule. 136 I C 497=I R 1932 B 193=A I R 1932 B 1 (3).

—Permission nature of—Distinction between the nature of O. I. R. 3 and O. 2. R. 2. see 40 Bom 351.

—A plaintiff may not only join different causes of action against the same defendants when such defendants are jointly interested, but he may also join different causes of action against different defendants if covered by the purview of O. I. r. 3. A I R 1926 Sind 66 = 19 S L R 395=90 I C 970.

—Under order 1. rule 3, Civil Procedure Code the test is not whether the decree awarded to the plaintiff against the defendant is joint but whether it is alleged in the plaint that there is against the said defendants any right to relief in respect of the same act or transaction. 13 S L R 133=53 I C 32.

interfere with such decree if the objection to the decree is that of multifariousness, unless the misjoinder has affected the merits of the

C. P. C. (1908) Or. I r. 4

—This rule embodies in a more convenient form the provisions of sections 26 and 28 of the old Code relating to judgment: its effect is merely to invest the Courts in India with the power to distribute relief and liability among the parties a power which was originally vested in the English Courts of Chancery exclusively. Though new in form, this effects no alteration in procedure already established in India under the old Code.

—O. 1, R. 1 quite as much as O. 1, R. 3 applies to questions of joinder of parties as also of causes of action. To determine whether a suit has been constituted in conformity with O. 1, R. 3, two factors have to be considered (1) could the right to relief against the debts be said to be in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction and (2) would any common question of law or fact arise if separate suits were brought. It is not necessary that all the questions of law or fact which arise should be common to all the parties. For this purpose there is no difference in principle between a claim founded on breach of contract and one founded on tort. Where the plff. asserted that he was the owner of certain goods, that one of the defts had obtained possession of the same and of the documents of title relating thereto by means of fraud and had transferred the same on different occasions to the other defendants and prayed in the alternative for the recovery of the goods and of the documents of title or of the value thereof. Held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties and of causes of action and that if convenience required it the several issues might be tried separately. 21 C W N 724 = 41 I C 944 = 45 Cal. 111 = 27 C L J 158.

--The rule applies to High Court and Prov. Sm. C. Court and corresponds to O. 16 r 9 of R. S. O.

--Sub-rule (1) corresponds to S. 30 of the C P Code, 1882. The only change is the substitution of the word "persons" for the word "parties" contained in the old section. The alteration seems to have been made on account of a contention raised in 9 C 604 (606). Subrule (2) corresponds to para. 4 of S. 32 of the old Code, with the addition of the words "or for whose benefit."

--"We have, on the suggestion of the Advocate-General of Madras, added the words "or for the benefit of" after the words "on behalf of."—See the Report of the Select Committee.

(2-3) General Principles and scope of the rule

--The rule is based on the general principle that all persons interested in the suit, however numerous they may be, ought to be made parties so as to enable the Court to do complete justice by deciding upon and settling the rights of all persons interested, but in cases where there is a large class of individuals having the same interest the Court, for the sake of convenience allow them to be represented by one of the class for himself and others. 28 B 209 = 5 Bom. L R 937.

--The provision has been enacted for the benefit of the defendants to the extent that it prevents multiplicity of suits 107 I C 789 = A I R 1929 Mad 44.

--The Court cannot proceed to act suo moto under Or. 1 r. 8 without being moved to that effect by the plaintiff. 33 P L R 221.

--Thus where notice issued under O. 1, r. 8 does not mention whether permission to file representative suit is granted nor is it served on all the persons concerned, the proceedings are vitiated. A L R 1933 L 1214; but permission under O. 1 r. 8 to sue in a representative character need not be expressly

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 1 r. 8 (Contd.).

(2-3) General Principles and Scope of the Rule—(Contd.)

—The rule should not be applied where its application will defeat some other provision of the law. Where in the case of a temple there are no proper trustees, and any prayer to get the properties restored would be futile for that reason, without a prayer to have a proper trustee appointed, a suit under Or. I, r. 8 would, under the circumstances, be evading S. 92 of the Code and so not maintainable.

110 I C 894 = A I R 1928 Mad. 614.

(4) Conditions to be complied with under this rule.

—These are: (1) that there must be numerous persons having the same interest in one suit; (2) that necessary permission is obtained; and (3) that notice of institution is given to all persons interested.

—Once the Court is satisfied that the imperative provisions have not been complied with, it cannot go into the merits. A I R 1929 All 806.

—If the requisite conditions are not complied with, the decree binds the defendants personally and not the community generally. 7 P 197 = 9 P L T 113 = 108 I C 330 = A I R 1928 Pat. 205.

—But if some out of the numerous persons whose interest is common in the suit subsequently side with the opposite party, the representative character of the suit is not lost.—48 C L J 276 = A I R 1928 Cal 741 (Suit to recover rent on behalf of a village deity).

—(a) "Numerous persons."—O. I, R. 8 does not lay down any hard and fast rule as to how many persons should represent public or the rest of the class of persons of the same interest. A L R 1933 Pat. 253.

—The point has been raised in several cases as to what constitutes "numerous."—In 9 M 463 (466) it was held that the rule does not allow one or more persons to sue on behalf of the general public. In 20 C 397, the Madras case was referred to, and it was further held that a suit could not be brought on behalf of the Hindu community generally, as it was not capable of ascertainment, and that inasmuch as the section required notice to be served "upon all such parties," the words "numerous parties" meant parties capable of being ascertained. This decision was disapproved, and the point fully considered in 33 C 905 = 10 C W N 867, and in 24 C W N 206 = 54 I C 742, where it was held that the section should not in its application be limited to cases where the parties, though numerous, can be definitely ascertained. A suit may be instituted under this section on behalf of a defined class of the general public, though that class may be composed of a more or less indefinite number of persons. This was a suit by the plaintiffs who were members of the Satchasi community on behalf of themselves and other members of the community for a declaration of their right to take part in the management of the worship of a goddess and for joint possession with the defendants of the land on which the worship was carried on. See to same effect A L R 1933 L 1213. Suits have been allowed by one or more persons on behalf of a sect—23 M 28, 30; 21 C 180; 31 C 839; 14 M 57; 22 A 269; or a caste 21 M 10; or worshippers at a mosque 8 C 32; or fellow villagers—21 C 181 notes; 29 C 100; 8 M 496 or a class of villagers—19 B 319; 12 B 221.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 1 r. 8 (Contd.).

(4) Conditions to be complied with under this rule—(Contd.)

—The Mahomedan community (7 A 182) or the Hindu community (33 C 905) is not the general public, but only a particular portion, though it is a large one, of the general population of this country which consists of numerous races and creeds. The question whether the community has got confidence in the plaintiff as regards the proper conduct of a suit is not a matter with which the defendants are concerned. 107 I C 789 = A I R 1929 Mad 44.

—Certain members of the Dhobi community of Narainda, with the leave of the Court under Or. 1, r. 8, C P Code, sued on behalf of the community for a declaration of its title to an akhra alleged to have been established by the ancestors of the community and for recovery of possession thereof. It was found as a fact that the Dhobi community of Narainda had been owning the akhra and its properties from time immemorial through panchayats. Held, that the Dhobi community of Narainda had the right to hold and manage the property and maintain suits with respect thereto through panchayats and that the present suit which was properly constituted under Or. 1, r. 8, C P Code, should succeed. 24 C W N 206 = 54 I C 742.

—It has also been held that a person may render himself liable to a community, like the Vysia community of Mogarala, by agreeing to pay a certain sum of money to it, and a suit to recover it may be brought by the community under this rule. 44 M L J 240 = 72 I C 95 = A I R 1923 Mad 434.

—Where numerous members of a caste seek to enforce rights as against strangers or as against certain other members of the caste, Or. 1, r. 8, C P Code, applies to the case. It is not necessary for the persons asking for leave under Or. 1, r. 8 to obtain formally beforehand the authority of those whom they seek to represent. Nor need they summon a caste meeting before bringing the suit. 30 M L T 47=64 I C 618=A I R 1921 Mad 682.

—If however a meeting is called the position presumably would be different, for it has been held, that where the plaintiffs instituted a suit as representing a section of the caste, for taking of accounts and recovery of monies belonging to that section, after being authorized at a meeting not properly convened, and the suit was supported by a large number of members and opposed by numerous other members, that a representative suit was in the circumstances not maintainable. 40 B 158 = 19 Bom L R 1 = 33 I C 264.

—But where the plaintiffs have been validly appointed in a meeting to represent the community, the fact that some members of the community subsequently side with the defendant will not affect the representative character of the suit under this rule. 48 C L J 276=A I R 1928 Cal 741.

—Premises belonging to a community were let out to the defendant. The president of the community who was authorized by a resolution of the community to file suits, sued to eject the defendants on the ground that the demised premises were required for letting to members of the community. Held, that the resolution passed by the community did not entitle the plaintiff to sue in his own name since there having been numerous members of the community with the same interest in the suit, notice of the institution of the suit, to all such persons as well as permission of the Court for filing the suit was necessary under Or. I r 8, 46 B 132 = 64 I C 555 = 23 Bom L R 972 = A I R 1922 Bom 109.

—(b) "Having the same interest"—Instances—Where a number of persons in the same interest have occasion to assert and defend their rights, they should resort to the provisions of this rule. 7 M 87. See 32 M 131.

—This section applies only to cases in which many persons are jointly interested in obtaining relief, and not to a case in which an individual right has been violated 7 A 178. See also 8 B 432; 32 M 131; and 20 C 810. See also 23 M 28 (approved in 11 M L T 275 = (1912) 1 M W N 105=15 I C 399).

—A villager may bring a suit on behalf of himself and his fellow villagers for a declaration of a right of way and for an injunction against the defendant for obstructing the way 26 C W N 587=69 I C 910.

—The disciples of a muth have sufficient interest within the meaning of this rule to maintain a representative suit to declare alienations made by the Mahant invalid; 41 M 124 = 42 I C 366.

—It is open to the worshippers of a temple under this rule, to bring a representative suit for a declaration that a permanent lease of temple property granted to the defendants in possession is invalid; 43 M 410 = 38 M L J 226 = (1920) M W N 393; (40 M 212 (F B) and 41 M 124 followed); or for recovering temple property from a trespasser; 44 M L J 116 = 71 I C 463 = A I R 1923 Mad 276.

—Under this rule the Court has the power to allow a plaintiff to sue some persons as representing themselves and others having the same interest in the subject-matter of the suit, and the consent of the defendants on the record is not necessary (1912) M W N 152.

—(c) Clubs and other associations.—A suit in respect of a matter in which a club or other association is interested cannot be instituted by the secretary alone even if he is authorized by a resolution of the members of the club or association to do so. In such a case the suit must be brought either by the Secretary on his own behalf and on behalf of the other members, or by all the members of the association under this rule; 6 A 284; 14 M 362; 49 C L J 357 = A I R 1929 Cal 445.

—Unless the Secretary of a club has expressly accepted personal liability on a contract, entered into by him on behalf of the club, he cannot be sued personally on the contract, nor can the members be sued collectively through the Secretary; 20 A 497. Similarly, a suit to eject tenants from property belonging to the caste cannot be maintained by the President of the Managing Committee of the caste, even if he is authorized to do so by a resolution passed by the members of the Committee. In such a case, the suit must be brought by him on behalf of all the members of the caste; 46 B 132 = 64 I C 555 = 23 Bom L R 972; 24 C W N 206 = 54 I C 742.

—One member of an unincorporated association cannot sue in damages on behalf of the other members where all such members are alleged to have suffered damage by reason of the publication of the same libel, nor can he maintain such a suit on behalf of the incorporated association after subsequently getting it registered. 8 R 250 = A I R 1930 Rang 177.

—With the permission of the Court an officer of an unregistered or unincorporated body or society can bring a suit on behalf of the members. 38 I C 572.

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. I, r. 8 ( Contd )( 4 ) Conditions to be complied with under this rule—( Contd )(d) Suit by a member of a community in his own right, —This is an enabling rule and it does not debar any member of a committee from bringing a suit on his own right, though the act complained of is injurious to the whole community. Where Mahomedans belonging to a particular sect are restrained from using a mosque for prayer, any member of the sect who is entitled to use the mosque may bring a suit to enforce the right. In such a case, it is not necessary that the suit should be brought by him on behalf of himself and all the members of the sect; 2 P 391 = 74 I C 403 = A I R 1923 Pat 475.

—In the same way, any member of a community may bring a suit to set aside unauthorized alienation of endowed property or formal administration of property belonging to the community; 7 A 178; 32 A 284; 33 A 666; 35 A 197; 5 A 497; 20 C 810; 28 Bom L R 309 = A I R 1926 Bom 179 = 94 I C 47.

—A beneficiary of a trust in respect of a Mahomedan wakf, interested in the maintenance of a mosque or other charitable institution, may, without having recourse to the provisions of Or. I, 8 C P Code, and without suing in a representative capacity on behalf of the other beneficiaries, sue for recovery of possession of property wrongfully alienated by the trustee and for the incidental declaration that the subject of the trust cannot be alienated; 2 P 391 = 74 I C 403 = A I R 1923 Pat 475; 66 I C 90 = A I R 1922 Oudh 1 = 9 O L J 111; 28 Bom L R 309 = 94 I C 47 = A I R 1926 Bom 179; 55 I A 96 = 55 C 519 = 108 I C 361 = A I R 1928 P C 16.

—If the individual rights of the plaintiffs are infringed they can maintain an action without joining others whose rights are equally infringed by the wrongful act; 29 I C 248 = 29 M L J 91 = 17 M L T 453. See also 35 A 197 = 11 A L J 233 = 18 I C 797.

—Where the plaintiff brought a suit on a promissory note executed by five persons who, he alleged, were managers appointed by the community and invested with powers of borrowing and dealing with the common property, it is open to the Court to allow the defendants to be sued as representatives of the community. The question if the managers were competent to contract the debt so as to bind the common property being an issue in the case, no substantive rights of those who have not been impleaded are affected by this order.—136 I C 315 = A I R 1932 Mad. 163.

—Where injury is threatened to a well constructed for the use of the people

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. I, r. 8 ( Contd )( 4 ) Conditions to be complied with under this rule—( Contd )

mothalla, any resident of the mohalla can bring a suit in his own right to restrain the threatened injury. In such a case the leave of the Court under Or. I, r. 8, C P Code, is not necessary to prove special damage; 62 I C 888.

—The Secretary of State sued to recover possession of certain lands from eight persons described as "all residents and mohants of 'Guna akhara' which was an unregistered association of a large number of Sadhus, alleging that the property, had not been granted to the institution by samad but that the Government had proprietary right therein. At the date of the suit the defendants were the managers of the institution and were through their agents in possession. Held on the above fact that it was not necessary for the plaintiff to obtain leave under this rule.—34 C W N 849 (P C) = 52 C L J 54 = 32 Bom. L R 1516 = 127 I C 542 = A I R 1030 P C 232 = 59 M L J 134.

—(e) Representative suit—In a suit where one person is allowed to represent others as defendants in a representative capacity the general rule is that any decree passed in that suit can bind those others only with respect to the property of those others which he can in law represent and no personal decree can be passed against them, although the party on record co nomine may be made personally liable. This is the principle to be applied to suits brought under this rule; 36 M 414 = 12 I C 1006 = 22 M L J 109 = 10 M L T 515.

—Persons conducting a suit on behalf of themselves and others with the leave of the Court under this rule have authority to enter into a compromise so as to bind those whom they represent. 24 M L J 192 = 18 I C 369.

—The provisions of Explanation VI to S. 11 of the Code apply to a suit under this rule, but they are not controlled by it. So if a Court allows a suit to proceed in a representative capacity for the benefit of numerous parties all of them would be bound by the decree even though the procedure prescribed by this rule was not duly followed. A suit filed with leave by two or more members of a community who claim a right in common with others is res judicata by reason of a previous decision in a prior suit by other members of the community instituted under S. 30 of the Code of 1877 for the same relief, although no leave under that section was taken, provided the decision was given on bona fide contest.—51 M 128 (F B) = 107 I C 625 = 54 M L J 8 = A I R 1928 Mad 77.

—(f) Permission when to be obtained—There is no doubt that the proper course is to obtain permission under Or. I, r. 8 before the suit is instituted. But there is nothing in the rule to show that if it is not so done it cannot be granted afterwards. It used to be held previously by the Calcutta High Court that permission must be obtained before the institution of the suit, otherwise it would be dismissed and that such leave cannot be granted at the hearing.—9 C 604 = 13 C L R 142 and 11 C 213.

—But subsequently it has been held by the same Court that the mere fact that the leave of the Court was not obtained before the institution of the suit should not result in the dismissal of the suit, and that permission under Or. I, r. 8 can be granted subsequent to the filing of the suit; the objection is not one affecting the jurisdiction of the Court.—44 C 258 = 21 C W N 1144=39 I C 773 (21 B 784, 25 M 399, 23 M 28, 22 A 269 folld. : 8 C 32, 11 C 33 refld. to 9 C 604 dissented from; 21 C 180 distinguished). The Bombay and other High Courts have held that such permission may be granted at the hearing and may relate back to the institution of the suit; 26 B 577; 21 B 784 (F B) (followed in 22 A 269); 47 B 809 = 25 Bom. L R 689; 10 M 185; A I R 1928 Nag. 39.

—Objection as to the absence of permission must be taken before the trial commences, and if no objection is taken then and trial is allowed to proceed, no objection can be raised in the appeal, the defect being cured by S 99. A I R 1931 Oudh 375 = 8 O W N 722.

—Where the Secretary of a Brahma Samaj sued to recover possession of certain lands it was held that the permission of the Court would be ordinarily necessary as Or. XXIX, r. 1 has no application except in the case of a Society which is a corporation registered under the Companies Act or legally competent to sue in the name of an officer. But where the Secretary had in fact been authorized by the members to sue, held that the omission to take the permission should be regarded as a mere irregularity cured by S. 99.—49 C L J 357 = A I R 1929 Cal 545.

—(g) Permission whether should be express.—Or. I, r. 8 does not require an "express" permission to be recorded by the Court; but if such permission can be well gathered from the proceedings of the court in which the suit was instituted an appellate Court may infer from such proceedings that permission was really granted, 21 C 180; 29 C 100; 35 C 1021; 39 C L J 612=84 I C 79=A I R 1924 Cal. 998; 101 I C 738 = A I R 1927 Cal. 608. (4) Conditions to be complied with under this rule—(Contd.)

—Under O 1, R. 8 the Court ought to give notice at the plaintiff's expense of the institution of the suit to all such persons purported to be represented by plaintiff either by personal service or by public advertisement as the Court may in each case direct. A L R 1933 Pat. 253.

—The Court in granting permission to sue to two plaintiffs on behalf of all the residents of a locality directed the plaintiffs to advertise and give notice to all the residents of the locality as regards the suit. But the notice and advertisement were not issued. Held, (1) that the omission to issue notice was not fatal to the suit and would not result in its dismissal (2) that the publication of notice was peremptory and must be complied with under Or. —It is the duty of the Court to cause service of notices or advertisements to be published as required by this section. If a plaintiff omits to move the Court for that purpose, his suit should not be dismissed on account of the failure of the Court to perform the duties imposed upon it by the section. 35 C 1021; 13 C W N 104 Note 44 A 231 (F B) = A I R 1922 All 16 = 20 A L J 73=65 I C 259.

—Where a trading committee instituted a suit by its Manager, whom the committee had authorized to sue on its behalf, against two members of the committee who had withheld certain monies, and on objection being taken that the committee could not sue in its own name the suit was amended and the manager was allowed to sue in a representative character on behalf of himself and also on behalf of the committee, held that the amendment was valid and that the nature of the suit was not changed by the amendment, provided that notice under Rule 8 was issued. 118 I C 285 = A I R 1929 Mad 683.

—Where notice was not given it was held that a decree could only be passed against those defendants who were on the record 7 P 197 = 108 I C 330 = A I R 1928 Pat 205.

—(i) Fresh Permission for appeal.—If permission has been validly granted for representation of the suit in the Court of first instance, no fresh permission is necessary for the purposes of an appeal if an appeal is preferred from the trial Court's decree. So far as this question is concerned, the process dings in appeal may very well be regarded as proceedings in continuation of the suit and the result of the appeal would be taken as the result of the suit itself. 101 I C 738 = A I R 1927 Cal 608. See also 51 I C 437 = 46 P R 1919.

(5) Malbar Law.

—Where the senior anandravan of a Marumakkatayam tarwad, sued to set aside a lease by a karnavan and obtained a decree, and the defendant filed an appeal during the pendency of which the plaintiff died, and so the karnavan and another anandravan applied to be impleaded as legal representatives, it was held that Or. XXII, r. 3 did not apply, but that the applicants as also any junior anandravan could be made parties under Or. I, r. 8.—(1928) M W N 867.

(6) Sub-rule. (2)

—Where at first permission was granted to the plaintiffs to maintain the suit in a representative capacity but subsequently some other members of the community objected to the plaintiffs' carrying on the suit the proper procedure for the Court is to allow those persons to be brought on the record as parties under Cl. (2) of Rule 8 and not to dismiss the suit. 135 I C 806 = 33 Bom L R 1575 = A I R 1932 Bom 65.

(7) Court adding parties after decree.

—In a suit by three persons under S. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act, a decree for damages was passed in favour of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs neglected to execute the decree whereupon the Court added the trustees of the temple as plaintiffs to enable them to execute the decree. Held, that as the suit was brought by the plaintiffs in a representative capacity, it was competent to the Court under Or. I, r. 8 C P Code to add parties even after the passing of the decree; 12 I C 284 = A I R 1923 Mad 472 = 17 L W 422 = 44 M L J 282=(1923) M W N 239 (24 M L J 192 and 33 M 483 = 20 M L J 546; 28 M 319 followed). The principle of this rule can be given effect to in a proper case in an appeal. 132 I C 657 = A I R 1931 Lah 610.

(8) Abatement.

—Where a suit is instituted by the plaintiff on behalf of himself and other members of his community with the necessary permission under this rule, the suit does not abate on the plaintiff's death; any party on whose behalf the suit was instituted can then apply to be added as party and the Court cannot dismiss the suit for default. 54 M 770 = 132

—Where certain plaintiffs sued under this rule and obtained a decree and the defendants preferred an appeal from that decree and made the said plaintiffs as well as other persons on whose behalf the suit was instituted respondents in the appeal, and some of the latter died and their heirs were not substituted; held that no substitution was necessary. —Where a suit is laid with an order under Or. I, r. 8 by which some defendants were to represent others, any death amongst the latter who were so represented cannot affect the constitution of the suit. 55 C L J 8 = A I R 1932 Cal. 275.

—A representative suit does not abate on the death of one of the others who were represented by the plaintiffs on the record. 91 I C 558 = A I R 1926 Lah. 216.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. I r. 9

Object and scope.—This rule corresponds to S. 31 of the C P Code, 1882. The words "or non-joinder of parties" have been added, and the second para. of S 31 of the old Code has been omitted. It follows English Or. XVI r. 11 and the principle laid down in 21 M 373 where it was held that the word "misjoinder" in this section comprehends cases of "non-joinder" as well as "misjoinder". This rule must be held to amount to a direction to the Court not to dismiss a suit on the ground of misjoinder or non-joinder of parties. Addition of the word "non-joinder" makes it clear that non-joinder is not fatal.—See 19 C L J 316; 19 C L J 455; 41 C 581 at p. 585.

—The latter part of this rule provides that "the Court may in every suit deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it" this part of the rule clearly applies to cases where the rights and interests of the parties actually before the court can be determined. But it has no application in cases where, under the substantive law, it is not possible to determine the rights of the parties before the Court. The rule as to nonjoinder presupposes that there are certain parties properly before the Court and certain other necessary parties not before the Court.—9 L 588=110 I C 384=A I R 1928 Lah 375.

—It refers to cases where the lis may be determined with reference to the parties before it; the principle of non-joinder contained in it is different from the principle underlying Or. XXII, r. 4. 128 I C 8=28 A L J 857; A I R 1930 All 762.

Misjoinder.—Misjoinder may be of parties or of causes of action. Joinder of plaintiffs is dealt with by Or. I r. 1 joinder of defendants by Or. I r. 3 and joinder of causes of action by Or. II rr. 3 to 6. This rule deals with misjoinder of parties. Misjoinder of parties can do the defendants no real harm, and the defect can easily be remedied by the Court by making a proper order for striking out, adding or transposing a party; and the remedying of the defect at any time cannot prejudicially affect in any particular the course of the defence or attack (see 34 B 13 at p. 20) See also S. 99 which says that no decrees shall be reversed or substantially varied nor any case shall be remanded on account of misjoinder of parties of action, etc.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. I, r. 9 (Contd)

Object and scope—(Contd)

Non-joinder—Non-joinder is the omission to implead a party or to join a cause of action in a suit. The provisions relating to joinder of causes of action are to be found in Or. II. So far as omission to implead a party is concerned it may be of two kinds omission to implead a proper party, or omission to implead a necessary party. Non-joinder of parties is a more serious thing than misjoinder of parties (see 34 B 13.)

Distinction between necessary and proper parties—There is a distinction between necessary and proper parties to a suit. Two conditions must be fulfilled in order that a defendant may be considered a necessary party, namely, first, there must be a right to some relief against him in respect of the matter involved in the suit, and secondly, his presence is necessary in order to effectually and completely adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit; (1922) P 326.

—There is a distinction between the non-joinder of proper, but not necessary, parties and non-joinder of parties whose presence is essential. In a suit for partition in a joint Hindu family, the grandsons are not necessary parties and are represented by their own father. At the same time they may be proper parties and on an appeal the appellate Court can direct the lower Court to bring them on record and give them separate allotments if they so desire: 1 P 361; 3 P L T 238.

—Necessary parties are parties "who ought to have been joined," in the sense that they are parties in whose absence no decree at all can be passed; 33 A 272 = 43 B 575; 51 I C 223; 21 Bom. L R 369.

—Proper parties are those whose presence is necessary to enable the Court to adjudicate upon the matter in dispute more effectually and completely; noted ante. 28 B 11 at p. 17; 51 M L J 148; A I R 1926 Mad. 927.

—How a question of non-joinder is to be treated—In determining the question of non-joinder the Court must confine itself to the claim before it—

C. P. C. (1908) Or. I, r. 9 (Contd)

Distinction between necessary &amp; proper parties—(Contd)

—Where the defendant in a case has raised no objection as to the non-joinder of a co-plaintiff the Court should not dismiss the suit on that ground without framing an express issue and allowing the plaintiff to meet it.—

—Where it appeared that no issue on the point was framed and the plaintiff had no opportunity to adduce evidence on the plea of non-joinder, held, that the suit was not liable to be dismissed on the ground of non-joinder of parties; 217 P L R 1910.

—Opportunity must be given of amending the plaint by joining the party omitted if it is found that he is a necessary party.—129 I C 508 = A I R 1930 Rang. 295.

—Where a suit was brought by the plaintiff alone on the allegation that he had made a contract with the defendant and the latter produced an agreement showing that another person was a contracting party along with the plaintiff, and the appellate Court accepting the correctness of the agreement dismissed the suit on the ground of non-joinder, held that the proper course was not to dismiss the suit but to issue notice to the party who ought to have been impleaded and either implead him as a party plaintiff or join him as a pro forma defendant and then dispose of the suit on the merits.—122 I C 597 = 28 A L J 247.

—Where after notice to all the parties and without any protest from them certain persons are brought on the record as legal representatives in the place of deceased person, the co-defendants cannot afterwards reopen the question of representation or insist on abatement on the ground that one other legal representative has been left out.—36 C W N 1138

"So far as regards the rights and interest of the parties actually before the Court."—Order I, r. 9 does not apply where the rights and interests of the parties actually before the Court cannot be determined. The change made in the new Code does not affect the rule regarding the indivisibility of a mortgage nor the rule under the Mitakshara that no co-partener has a definite share till partition is made; 10 N L R 72 = 24 I C 831; 13 I C 197 = 9 A L J 86.

—Order I, r. 9 deals only with cases where the Court can deal with the matter in controversy in the suit with regard to the rights and interests of the parties actually before it; 52 I C 18.

—The rule does not apply when a cause of action arises against a number of persons jointly, because in that case, when one of such persons is eliminated, no cause of action subsists against the rest of them. If it does not subsist against all, it cannot subsist against any one; 35 A 441 = 11 A L J 630.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. I, r. 9 (Contd.)

So far as regards the rights and interest of the parties actually before the Court—(Contd.)

—The court cannot, by its decree, affect the rights of those who are not parties to suit, if therefore no decree can be passed without affecting the rights of absent parties, the suit cannot proceed in their absence and should be dismissed. If however, the rights of the parties actually before it can be determined in the suit leaving the rights and interests of others unaffected, there is no reason why, even though other parties might properly have been added, the Court should not determine the matters in controversy between the parties actually present; (1922) P 326; 25 C W N 249.

—In an action for sale upon a mortgage of joint Hindu family property, when some only of the members of the joint family are made defendants, their rights and interests in the joint family property are neither defined nor separable from the rights and interests of those who are not before the Court. The Court therefore, cannot proceed to deal, under this rule, with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it; 9 A L J 86.

—Order I, r. 9 is subordinate to Or. XXXIV, r. 1. A mortgage is indivisible and if all persons entitled to a share in the mortgage-money are not on the record, the whole suit must be dismissed; 36 I C 542 = 1 P L J 468. See also 31 I C 814.

—The Calcutta High Court has held that Or. I, r. 9 applies to a mortgage suit just as well as to any other suits.—54 C L J 113 = 134 I C 1968. The Allahabad High Court has also held that the provisions of Or. XXXIV are subject to the provisions of Or. I, r. 9.—10 A L J 134.

—In a suit for profits of zerai land held by the defendants in excess of their shares, all the co sharers were not made parties. Held that the suit must be dismissed for non-joinder of necessary parties in whose absence the excess could not be determined; 1 P L J 573 (F B).

—Necessary Party in appeal.—Under Or. I, r. 9, C P Code, a person who is a necessary party to the suit is a necessary party to the appeal; 3 P L T 456 = 66 I C 780.

—Joinder of necessary parties.—Persons who are jointly entitled to the same relief in respect of a transaction must join as plaintiff in one suit, and ordinarily all of them should be co-plaintiffs and only such of them should be made defendants as are unwilling to be joined as plaintiffs or have done some acts precluding them from being plaintiffs.—35 C W N 478; 5 C L J 527; 106 I C 140.

—The following notes are intended to give an idea as to who are or are not necessary parties in different classes of suits :—

(a) Suits relating to joint property.

—The grandsons of a deceased member of a joint Hindu family are proper, though not necessary, parties and a suit by a stranger is not defeated by mere non-joinder of the grandsons where the sons have been already made defendants. 124 I C 377 = A I R 1930 Sind 147 (1 P 361 = A I R 1922 Pat. 96 relied on).

—It is not the form in which the manager sues which determines his capacity to sue on behalf of a joint Hindu family, but the fact that nobody except him has the right to interfere in the business of the joint Hindu family or to give a discharge or a receipt for a debt due to or from that family which confers the capacity on the manager. It is therefore a question of fact and not a question of form. 12 L 428 = 133 I C 116 = 32 P L R 199 = A I R 1931 Lah. 559.

(b) Suits for damages for Tort

—Where all the plaintiffs received hurts from a body of persons and each of them could have brought a suit for damages against all those persons, they can in law bring a suit for damages against all those persons jointly. 138 I C 77 = 30 A L J 497 = A I R 1932 All. 401.

—(c) Suits on contract.—By reason of S. 45 of the Contract Act, all living joint promisees must join in the suit to enforce a debt due to them. 109 I C 99 = 30 Bom L R 117 = A I R 1928 Bom. 191.

—Where two parties contract with a third party, a suit by one of them making the other a co-defendant ought not to be dismissed merely because the plaintiff has not proved that the co-defendant had refused to join as a co-plaintiff; the objection cannot be sustained when the others have taken pleas contrary to those of the plaintiff. 133 I C 871 = 32 P L R 385 = A I R 1931 Lah. 445.

the suit. Held that the 2nd defendant was a necessary and proper party to the suit. 33 C W N 687 = A I R 1929 Cal. 667.

—(d) Suits by executors, trustees, etc.—Where several executors have been appointed under a will and have entered on their duties as such, it is not open to some of them to sue on behalf of the estate without impleading the others. If a defendant is sued by one only of two persons who have a cause of action against him, he has a right to the action dismissed unless the other is joined (6 C 815 referred to) 72 I C 63 = 17 L W 241 = 44 M L J 249 = A I R 1923 Mad. 337.

(e) Suits in respect of property dedicated to an idol or religious endowment —Where the very existence of the property of an idol is disputed, some-body should be appointed or allowed to represent the interest of the idol as against the interest of those persons who were in possession adversely to the temple, and it would not be in consonance with ordinary notions of justice or equity that a person who comes forward not on his own behalf but on behalf of a charitable or religious foundation, should be non-suited on the ground that he had no power or legal position to represent the idol. Where the plaintiffs, as persons interested in the affairs of a temple, brought a suit to have certain properties which were in the possession of the defendants restored for the benefit of the idol, and the defendants contended that the plaintiffs had no right to sue, held that the plaintiffs should not be non-suited but the aforesaid course should be pursued. 34 Bom L R 415.

—In a suit for setting aside an alienation of properties belonging to a religious endowment, a person to whom the plaintiff had conveyed a portion of the properties at a time when he had neither title nor cause of action to sue, need not be joined as co-plaintiff in the action. Nor is a transferee pendent lite, a necessary party to the suit; 1 P 475 = 3 P L T 352.

—In a suit to recover property belonging to an endowment all the trustees of the endowment should be made parties either as plaintiff, or as defendants. 11 C 338; 8 C 42; 14 M 489; and 5 C L J 527. But strangers to the trust are not proper or necessary parties to a suit under S. 92 of the Code. A I R 1932 Rang. 132.

(f) Suits by one of several co-owners.

(g) Suits for rents, damages, apportionment of rent, and enhancement of rent under the Bengal Tenancy Act

—It has now been held that a suit for rent is maintainable against some of the heirs or successors in interest of a deceased tenant without bringing all these heirs or successors in interest on the record. 53 C 107 (F B).

—For a suit for recovery of rent by the sole landlord or by the entire body of landlords, see S. 148; and for a suit by a co-sharer landlord see S. 148-A of the B. T. Act.

—Where after the death of the original tenant a suit was brought against some of his men, who were in possession of the holding and against whom a previous decree was obtained for arrears of rent accruing due during the period of the latter's occupation held, that the suit was not defective by reason of the non-joinder of the other heirs 48 C 518 = 63 I C 949.

—All the relevant cases under this head will be found collected in Mitter and Mukerji's Bengal Tenancy Act, pp 654-659 in the notes under S. 188.

(h) Suits for ejectment.

—Prima facie, persons claiming adversely to the plaintiff's rights are not necessary parties in a suit for ejectment brought by him against his tenant. Where an order was made for joining the Secretary of State as defendant in such circumstances, held in revisions that the order was bad. A I R 1932 Mad 688.

—In a suit for recovery of khas possession on declaration of plaintiff's title, all trespassers should be made parties. 46 C L J 433.

—Where in such a suit two of the defendants were minors and their natural guardian did not appear and no steps were taken to have them properly represented, held that the suit was not maintainable. 30 C W N 742 = A I R 1929 Cal 669.

—An action for possession based upon forfeiture of a term should, for practical reasons, be brought against all persons in possession (including constructive possession) at the date of the suit, not because the suit is necessarily defective otherwise but because the decree will be difficult to enforce under the Code; 47 C 907.

—(i) Suits for partition.—A suit which is in the nature of a partition suit cannot be properly dealt with unless all who are admittedly shareholders in the joint property are before the Court. 12 W R 256 (followed in 17 C 906). See also 2 C 149; 31 B 271 (291).

—Where the suit is not for partition between all the alleged co-parcener inter se, but for decision between the two branches of the family, held that it is not obligatory for the plaintiffs to implead all the members of the two branches but only the heads of the two branches. 13 L 483.

(j) Suits concerning Partnership business:

—To a suit for winding up a partnership, all partners having distinct interests must be parties; and where such a suit brought against all the partners, is not maintainable against some, the suit must be dismissed. 33 M 423.

—The non joinder of a dormant partner as co-plaintiff in an action on a contract entered into with the firm or one of its members is not fatal to the suit: (1915) M W N 864.

—(k) Suits by creditors to avoid conveyance under S. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act.—A suit to set aside a conveyance alleged to be fraudulent within the meaning of S. 53 of the T P Act, must be brought by or on behalf of all the creditors.—34 C 999 = 11 C W N 889 = 6 C L J 610 (affirmed on appeal in 43 I A 104 = 43 C 521).

—(l) Suits by contingent reversioner during the life-time of presumptive reversioner.—The right to sue to set aside an adoption or alienation by a Hindu widow is, as a general rule, limited to the nearest reversioner, and if he without sufficient cause refuses to institute proceedings, or if he has precluded himself by his own act, and conduct from so doing or has colluded with the widow, or concurred in the alleged wrongful act, the more remote reversioner will be entitled to sue by making the nearer reversioner a party to the suit.—8 I A 22 = 6 C 764 (P C) (followed in 19 B 614, and in 18 M 53). —(m-n) Possessory suits by persons in constructive possession.—A person in constructive possession of land through his tenant, who is dispossessed, is entitled to bring a suit under S. 9 of Act I of 1877, where the tenant in collusion with the dispossessor, refuses to bring the suit.—28 M 238; 13 C W N 303; 13 C W N 305; 13 C W N 835 = 10 C L J 30; 15 C W N 715 = 15 C W N 294 = 12 C L J 483. But see 6 C W N 616.

—(o) Suits against a firm or corporation.—See notes under Or. XXIX, r. 1. A firm is not a person under the Indian law and all that is prescribed in the C P Code is a form of suit which remains really one against the partners of the firm. Where a suit was instituted against a person who was not a partner of a firm, no decree could be passed against the firm, 111 I C 706 = A I R 1929 Lah. 149.

—(p) Mortgage suits.—See notes under Or. XXXIV, r. 1, post.

—(q) Suits for accounts.—Where the agent has to account to more principals than one, they must all sue together, and he is not liable to render separate accounts in separate suits to each of the principals to whom jointly he is accountable. 62 I C 766.

—The plaintiffs brought a suit against the defendant No. 1 who was their cashier and defendant No. 3 who was the Sadar Naib. It was alleged that money was due by defendant No. 1 on account being taken against him and that the Sadar Naib was responsible for any loss which the plaintiffs might have sustained through the action or omission of their cashier which loss had been occasioned by his negligence, his duty being amongst others to supervise the work and to sign the accounts of the treasurer. Held that the suit was bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action; 71 I C 324.

(r) Suits in which Government is a necessary party.

—Where it has been held that in a suit to set aside a sale held under the provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act, the Secretary of State is a necessary party. This case has been distinguished in, 11 C L J 385 = 14 C W N 606.

(r) Suits in which Government is a necessary party—(Contd)

—In a suit by a tenant against his landlord, who is a ghatwal, for declaration of occupancy rights in a ghatwalli land and for recovery of its possession, the Secretary of State is not a necessary party, though he may be a proper party, and, therefore, the suit cannot be dismissed for the non-joinder of the Secretary of State ; 35 I C 788.

"No suit shall be defeated"

—Though misjoinder, or non-joinder does not merit the dismissal of the suit, still, if a plaintiff after the Court decides that a certain person is a necessary party, refuses to make him a party, the suit should be dismissed ; 3 P R 1915 = 215 P L R 1914 = 110 P W R 1914 = 25 I C 480.

—Where two parties contract with a third party, a suit by one of them making the other a co-defendant ought not to be dismissed merely because the plaintiff has not proved that the co-defendant has refused to join as a plaintiff. In such a case, if the plaintiff succeeds, the decree should be in favour of himself, and the defendant who should have been joined as co-plaintiff ; 76 I C 577 (26 C 409 = 35 C 331 = 10 Bom. L R 66 relied on).

—Where in a suit for a declaration of a right of way as a village road and for removal of obstruction thereon, an objection was taken that one of the persons in the servient tenement had not been made a party the suit, which was overruled by the Courts below on the ground that it was taken at a late stage and the Courts below decreed the suit, held that the nonjoinder of person in question as a party to the suit was a fatal defect and on that ground the suit was dismissed ; 25 C W N 249. In 14 C W N 15 also it had been previously held that no suit for declaration of an easement and for other consequential relief can proceed unless all persons interested in the land over which such easement is claimed are parties to the suit. But the general proposition laid down in 25 C W N 249 is not applicable to all cases. See in this connection, 19 C W N 1211 on Letters Patent appeal 19 C W N 1216 ; 40 C L J 74 ; 64 I C 90 ; 69 I C 183 ; 85 I C 739 ; 88 I C 664.

(1) Appeal.

—An order under r. 10 adding a party is not appealable. A I R 1930 Mad. 987=1930 M W N 971=32 L W 766=60 M L J 237 = 129 I C 44; for an order under O. I, r. 10 is not a decree A I R 1922 Mad. 332 = 14 L W 642= (1921) M W N 799 = 42 M L J 97 = 30 M L T 172=45 M 194=69 I C 961; see also 36 M L J 619; as also such order is merely in discretion of the Court and cannot be appealable 36 I C 919.

—An order under O. I, r. 10 (2) discharging a defendant from a suit is also not appealable. A I R 1926 Nag. 75 = 89 I C 331; nor is an order striking out defendants joined for the sake of convenience. A I R 1923 Mad 690=45 M L J 703=18 L W 198=(1923) M W N 403=76 I C 207.

—But where in a partition suit the name of one of the defendants is struck out at the instance of the plaintiff thereby prejudicing the defendant's claim to share in the partition the order is appealable. A I R 1925 Pat. 121= 3 Pat 859=6 P L T 581=85 I C 90.

—And an order under this rule striking out name of a deft. on the ground that the plaint does not disclose any cause of action against such deft. is a decree and appealable as such : 49 I C 835=42 M 219.

—Where, inspite of plff's protest, certain persons were added as parties, and on appeal from that order, the order was upheld, and where such parties put in statements, let in evidence and ultimately a decree was passed against the plff. Held on appeal from the decree that the parties could not be struck off and their pleadings and evidence could not be ignored in deciding the appeal 1 O L J 591 = 26 I C 547.

—The appellant was the first defendant in a suit brought by the plff. and the suit had been decreed against him. The lower appellate court, finding that the appellant was not a necessary party to the suit and was wrongly joined as a defendant, struck off the appellant's name from the record and dismissed his appeal without costs. Held on second appeal that the proper order which should have been made by the lower appellate court was to set aside the order of the primary court and to dismiss the suit against the appellant with costs. 48 I C 963.

(2) General principles, scope, and object.

—Rule obtaining under r. 10 (2) for addition of parties cannot be invoked if such addition would alter the nature of the suit. A I R 1925 Cal 26 = 28 C W N 805 = 82 I C 369.

—And the joinder of plffs under O. I. r. 10 is subject to provisions under O. I. r. 1, A I R 1927 Mad 831 = 53 M L J 269 = (1927) M W N 903 = 105 I C 114.

—An order under R. 10, O. 1, C P C ought not to be made when the plaint discloses no cause of action against the parties sought to be added newly. 40 C 323 at 330 = 17 C L J 183 = 16 I C 908. O. 1, R. 10 of the Code does not empower a Court to add any person as plff. who could not have originally joined as such. O. 1, R. 8 of the Code does not conflict with this view. 57 I C 784.

—As to applicability and scope of the rule see the Privy Council decision in 20 C W N 833 P. C.

S. 27 of the Civ. Pro. Code, does not apply to an appeal filed in the name of a wrong person. 4 C W N 58. The rule does not apply to a suit against dead person. 47 I C 894.

—Nor does it apply to a suit by receiver. 135 I C 863 = A I R 1932 R 11 (12) = I R 1932 R 79.

—As to a suit by Official Liquidator see. 2 L L J 402 = 59 I C 588. The rule applies to Revenue Courts; 2 A 264; see also 3 U P L R (B R). 106 (2).

—Where a Karnavan applied for withdrawal of appeal and subsequently the junior members applied to be made appellants the granting of latter application was held proper where Karnavan's withdrawal of appeal is with a view to cause loss to the tarwad—Appeal must be treated as pending till junior members' application is disposed of. 135 I C 8 = A I R 1932 M 31 = I R 1932 M 40.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 1, r. 10 (Contd.)

(3) Addition of parties.

(a) After limitation period.

—Change of limitation due to amendment of the limitation Act is a good ground for addition after the period of limitation. A I R 1925 Mad 347 = 78 I C 168.

—A suit for the ejectment of a sub-tenant's sub-tenant is not maintainable without the sub-tenant being made a party to the suit and in such a case if the sub-tenant is joined after the expiry of the period prescribed for suits for ejectment, the entire suit still fails. 30 I C 795.

—Execution sale—Setting aside—Auction-purchaser impleaded after expiry of period of limitation—Bar of limitation. O 21 R 90. 50 I C 5.

—Suit by some trustees of a temple against tenants—Addition—of other trustees after limitation—Objection—Suit if barred. 50 I C 353.

(b) At any stage of suit.

—The power to add a party under O. 1 r. 10 can be exercised at any stage even at such a late stage as the time of the decree. A I R 1929 Bom 337 = 31 Bom L R 476 = Ind Rul (1930) Bom 98 = 122 I C 66.

—The power under s. 27 C P C 1882 ought to be exercised before the first hearing 6 C 370.

—Addition of parties in appeal—parties—Non-joinder of see 10 I C 776. Person cannot claim to be made a party in appeal if not so made in the lower Courts. 163 P W R 191 = 31 I C 27.

—A person neither a plaintiff nor a defendant in a lower courts cannot be allowed to come in as party at the final stages of the case in second appeal. 31 I C 27 = 163 P W R 1915.

—Though unusual plaintiffs may be added to a suit after decree especially in representative suits so that persons interested might enforce in execution the direction in the scheme A I R 1923 Mad 472 = 44 M L J 282 = 17 L W 422 = 32 M L T 212 = (1923) M W N 239 = 72 I C 284.

—A Court can order joinder of a new party even after a preliminary decree is passed. A I R 1926 Sind 26 = 89 I C 609.

—Under O. 1, r. 10 any party may be joined to the suit at any stage means he should be so joined before the passing of decree which also includes preliminary decree and an existing decree. 13 N L R 69 = 89 I C 849.

—Fresh parties cannot be added after compromise of the suit by original parties and during proceedings under O. XXIII, r. 3. A I R 1926 Mad 341 = 50 M L J 59 = 92 I C 311.

after the passing of the decree. A L R 1933 M 1039.

—Court has jurisdiction, after the passing of the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit and before the final decree has been passed, to implead as defendants to the suit persons who were not originally impleaded as defendants and were not parties to the preliminary decree. A I R 1927 All 465=49 A 664=25 A L J 369=101 I C 868.

—A Court can add parties after the suit has been remanded to it by the Court of Appeal but the Court of Appeal cannot do so after passing the order. A I R 1926 Rang. 9=3 R 474=92 I C 125.

—As to whether court can add parties after suit has reached the stage of decree see. 42 C 72 P C.

(c) By Consent.

—A person cannot be added or substituted as plaintiff without the consent of the existing plaintiff, and before he can be so added or substituted it must be shown that the action was commenced in the name of original plaintiff by mistake and that the substitution or addition is necessary for the determination of real matter in dispute. A I R 1927 Cal. 340=45 C L J 146=101 I C 527.

—And ordinarily, the plaintiff has the choice of his opponent, and a party cannot be added as defendant at his will A I R 1925 Nag. 373=87 I C 988.

—But a new party can be impleaded as defendant even against the consent of the plaintiff, even though such addition may enable him to counter claim against the plaintiff. A I R 1929 Mad 413=(1929) M W N 67=29 L W 753=Ind. Rul. (1929) Mad. 844=118 I C 780.

—If a person who applies to be added as a party is only a permissible party, he cannot be so added against the wishes of the person to fight whom he is sought to be brought on record. A I R 1926 Mad 836=50 M 34=(1926) M W N 575=51 M L J 148=24 L W 738=95 I C 214.

(d) Effect of.

—Where a defendant is discharged and again reinstated as defendant, the suit must be deemed to be instituted on the date of re-instatement. A I R 1926 P C 88=(1926) M W N 592=31 C W N 174=96 I C 887.

—Even where the Court of its own motion adds a necessary party, the suit will be deemed to be instituted when the party is added. A I R 1925 Sind 181=17 S L R 324=79 I C 914. As to effect on limitation of addition of pro forma party see. 26 M L J 449.

—A plaintiff on the record cannot be given a good cause of action by the addition subsequently of a person as plaintiff who has a good cause of action. A I R 1927 Bom 424=29 Bom L R 418=103 I C 225.

(e) Formal Procedure of application.

—In adding a party the Court will not as a rule, act except on the application of parties: 25 All W N 35; see to the same effect 20 I C 262; and 36 I C 77; and 19 I C 163=18 C W N 464.

—But such application is not always necessary. Addition of parties to a final decree without any formal application under O 1, r. 10 (2) for joining them does not amount to an order under O. 1, r. 10 and no decree can be granted against such parties. A I R 1927 All 465=49 A 664=25 A L J 365=101 I C 868.

—A court has no jurisdiction to pass a decree against a person against whom the plaintiff does not seek any relief and who is joined as a defendant on his own application. The position of a person who is made a defendant on his own application and that of a person who is so made without any such application are very different in that the former has to make out a prima facie case before the plaintiff can be asked to meet it. 56 I C 845.

—The second deft, in a suit applied for leave to add a third party as deft. The plff. objected. Held that the power to add a third party is discretionary, but is widely exercised even though the addition may add new issues; if however serious embarrassment or inconvenience be caused to the plff. the addition is not effected. Held, also that although in this case new issues arose between the added deft. and the original defts, serious inconvenience would not be caused to the plff. if his position was safeguarded by the following provisions:—(1) that the issues between the plff. and the original defts. should be tried first (2) that no delay should take place in the determination of those issues (3) that if the plff.

(k) Power of Court to add parties.

—No party can be added without leave or cognizance of the Court: 139 A W N 1892; mere fact that the name of the person in question appears in the decree does not amount to an order of joinder: 101 I C 868 = 25 A L J 369 = A I R 1927 A 465 = 49 A 664.

—Addition of parties is a matter of procedure and cannot be claimed as of right: 11 Bom L R 273 = 3 I C 837 = 34 B 13, and the Court has wide discretion with regard to joinder of parties: 156 P R 156 F B but see 5 L W 207 = 39 I C 160.

—It can thus allow a party to be added on the condition that he can only intervene at a particular stage in the suit and cannot question an order or orders passed before he applied to the Court: A I R 1931 Cal 580 = 58 C 801 = 35 C W N 122 = 134 I C 1279.

—And where necessary Court may add a person interested in the equity of redemption as a party even after the preliminary decree, and re-open the proceedings so far as the added party is concerned. A I R 1924 Mad 648 = 46 M L J 368 = 34 M L T 114 = (1924) M W N 364 = 84 I C 122.

—But the power under O I r. 10, can ordinarily be exercised only in proceedings not concluded by a decree unless the person to be added is a subsequent transferee. A I R 1924 Oudh 33 = 26 O C 317 = 10 O L J 232 = 72 I C 1031.

—But the Court should exercise the discretion judiciously, the criterion for which is to enable itself effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit. A I R 1923 Mad. 521 = 44 M L J 322 = 17 L W 329 = 72 I C 156.

—Hence, before a person is added as party on his own motion the Court ought to see whether there is anything which cannot be determined owing to his absence or whether he will be prejudiced by his not being joined as a party. A I R 1929 Mad 291 = Ind Rul (1929) Mad 521 = 116 I C 137. see also 10 N L R 72.

—In a suit for declaration, that the plaintiff should have been entered as a raiyat instead of a tenure-holder in the Record of Rights, the Court suo motu before the filing of the written statement and without any objection from the defendant added, in the interests of justice and to prevent a multiplicity of suits persons who were recorded in the Record of Rights as raiyats of the land under the plaintiff as tenure-holder, though the plaintiff alleged that they were tenants at will paying rent in kind. Held, that as the status of the tenants depended on the plaintiff's status the tenants who were added were vitally interested in the Record of Rights. Held also, that the order, though irregular, should not be set aside as it did not prejudice the plaintiff. 16 L J 381 = 17 I C 917.

—Court can make a defendant in a partition suit a plaintiff and thus continue it. 23 Bom L R 391; 45 B 983 = 61 I C 398.

—Order 1 rule 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure authorises the Court to make an order for transfer of a party from the category of the defendant to that of plaintiff at any stage of the proceedings. The power of the Court depends on the question whether the case is subjudice. The Courts have always been reluctant to place a narrow construction upon this provision of the law and to restrict the exercise of this discretionary power. 24 C W N 110 = 30 C L J 417 = 54 I C 636.

—The Court has jurisdiction in an administration suit (if it be found that the original plff. has no right of suit) to make one of the deft entitled to share, as party plff. —Under the terms of O 1 R 10 (1) the circumstances under which a person can be added as a plaintiff in a suit are strictly limited. A defendant cannot ask to be made a plaintiff merely on the ground that he would have brought a suit if he had thought of doing so. 15 N L R 21 = 49 I C 34 see also 28 M L J 147.

—Where in a partition suit the plaintiff withdraws his claim for moveables, after a preliminary decree by consent had been passed as regards the immoveable properties, and the Court subsequently allowed the transposition of some of the defendants, as plaintiffs and allowed the suit to proceed regarding the moveables. Held, that the procedure adopted was correct and fell within the provisions of O 1 R 10 of the Code. 12 L W 563.

( 1 ) Scope of the rule.

—O. 2, r. 1, should not be confined in its incidence to the manner in which the pleadings ought to be drafted. It should be the effort no less of the Court to attain a final decision upon the subjects in dispute and prevent further litigation concerning them. 34 B L R 125=139 I C 678=I R 1932 B 530 = A I R 1932 B 175 ( 176 ) = A L R 1932 B 283 —Suppressed fact essential for the final decision of the case, cannot be made a ground for second suit. It is barred, under O. II, r. 1. Similarly if a plaintiff being entitled to make a claim does not make it, he is barred from making the same claim again under O. II, r. 2. Again what could have been a ground of attack in the former suit, cannot be so made again in the subsequent suit. The suit is barred under s. 11 where both the plaintiff and defendant have been parties to the former suit, a fresh suit relating to execution is barred under s. 47. —The plff. brought a suit to redeem a mortgage claiming title as karnavan of a tarward and on failure of that suit brought his present suit to redeem as successor to the tarward. Held, (1) that the plff. ought to have alleged his present title in the previous suit and made it a ground of attack so as to afford room for final decision upon the subject in dispute and (2) that the second suit was barred. 31 Mad 385 and (1916) M W N 286 foll. 10 L W 170=52 I C 735 = (1919) M W N 677.

(1) General principles, scope and object.

—Ss. 42 and 43, C P Code of 1882 are aimed against a multiplicity of suits in respect of the same cause of action. An objection founded on those sections must be treated as a preliminary point and when no notice of the point is given by the defendant either in the defence or at the trial or in the grounds of appeal first delivered she should not be allowed to raise it subsequently except on terms which would indemnify the plaintiff for defendant's omission to raise it at the proper time. A suit by a Burmese husband for divorce of his wife is no bar to a subsequent suit for partition based on the divorce. The causes of action for the partition and the divorce being different Ss. 42 and 43 C P C did not bar the suit. 38 Cal 629 = 15 C W N 766 = 6 L B R 18 = 8 A L J 739 = 13 Bom L R 464 = 14 C L J 15 = (1911) 2 M W N 397 = 4 Bur L T 153 = 10 M L T 479 = 11 I C 497 (P C).

A I R 1927 Rang. 237 = 6 Bur L J 85 = 104 I C 370; for the rule is directed against two evils, the splitting of claim and the splitting of remedies. A I R 1926 Lah 539 = 8 Lah L J 381 = 22 P L R 630 = 97 I C 396.

—But the rule does not require that every suit shall include every claim or every cause of action arising out of the same transaction.

—For a suit to be barred under O II r 2 a previous suit against the same defendant arising out of the same cause of action is necessary and for determining whether the cause of action was the same in the previous suit also the Court must arrive at the actual cause of action and will not accept the cause of action which a plff may choose to specify in his plaint : 81 I C 562 = A I R 1925 O 53.

—Prima facie each separate order and delivery of goods in the case of sale of goods is a separate contract and a separate cause of action, but in some cases it may be a question of successive claims under a single obligation within the terms of the "explanation" to the rule, that is, for example, when the successive claims arise under the same contract. It is open to the parties even in the latter case of a single contract to agree that successive claims for separate deliveries thereunder should be treated as separate contracts and, therefore, as separate causes of action; so that a prior suit for one part of the contract may not bar a subsequent suit for another part. each case there is a different contract which the landlord has to sue upon. In such a case O. 2, r. 2 will not apply.

—(2) The contract for payment of premium, though entered into later, may in effect be that the old rent is to be increased. In such a case there would, after the subsequent contract be only one cause of action for the whole of the rent, that contract being the later contract which increased and fixed the amount of rent. In that case O. 2, r. 2, would apply and a suit for the arrears of premium alone would be a bar to a subsequent suit for rent arrears which had then accrued due : and —(3) The subsequent contract may provide that rent should be paid at the old rate and in addition a premium should be payable, so that in that case there would be one contract providing for payment both of rent and of premium. In that case also O. 2, r. 2 will apply, and if the landlord sues only for the premium he cannot afterwards sue for the rent.

—In 1905, the plaintiff brought a suit against J to recover Rs.187.38 and odd on account of arrears of revenue and cesses due for J's moiety share in certain Babooana properties. In accordance with the terms of a compromise previously entered into J's brother E, who was the owner of the other half share of the property, was made a defendant in the suit. During the pendency of the suit, J. died, and a dispute arose between his widow and his brother (the two defendants in the present suit) as to the possession of the share left by J.—The plaintiff got E the brother, substituted stating that he did not want a decree against the widow and obtained a decree against E. alone. The widow was successful in a suit brought by her against E for possession of the half share of property left by her husband. Thereupon, the plaintiff brought the present suit for a declaration that J made default to the extent of Rs. 18,738 odd that the Court should hold that the widow, having been in possession of the estate was liable to pay the arrears covered by the decree in the suit of 1905, and for a declaration that the arrears were a charge on J's share of the Babooana property.—Held:—(1) that S. 43 of C P C of 1882 was not applicable to the suit 18 C W N 129 = 19 C L J 19 = 21 I C 397.

(8) Cause of action—(Contd.)

—Contract to pay the debt of the promisee due to a third person—Proof of damage, if necessary see 38 Mad 791.

—One cause of action cannot come into existence by instalments on different dates—86 P W R 1910=7 Ind. Cas. 505=213 P L R 1910.

—So also where a cause of action merges in judgment the remedy is by way of execution not a fresh suit: 34 M L J 167=44 I C 110.

—And a cause of action is not prolonged by transfer of title, 24 I C 216 see also 21 C L J 157; and 20 C L J 107.

—A mere attachment is a sufficient invasion of a person's right to give him a cause of action. 9 I C 663.

—Separate invasions of plaintiff's rights constitute distinct causes of action, 12 P W R 1910=5 Ind Cas. 835=59 P L R 1910.

—Allegation that defendant instigated karnavan to bring false suit and get decree, and that payment of decree, was unjustly made is not a legal cause of action and amendment cannot be allowed to change course of action. 21 I C 935.

—As to the effect of misjoinder of causes of action see. 19 C L J 316.

—A Hindu widow cannot join claim for maintenance with claim for stridhan jewels 38 Bom 120. Plff. cannot add to or enlarge his reliefs in view of later events. 16 M L T 244.

—In a suit for contribution the cause of action arises from the time when the joint debt was discharged by the plff. 22 I C 263.

—A vatandar Joshi is entitled to sue for the recovery of fees paid by his yajman to a usurper of the functions of the Joshi. Both the yajman and the intruder are jointly and severally liable to the Joshi for the amount of his fees. An action lies not only against a person who breaks a contract but also against any one who wilfully and with notice procures a breach of the contract to the detriment of the plaintiff. 17 I C 138; 8 N L R 133.

—When goods are bailed or pledged it is an implied contract that they will be returned on demand. When such a demand is made and refused there is a breach of contract as well as the unlawful withholding of goods and the owner may sue in contract or torts, the cause of action for which arises on refusal to deliver the goods. 17 A L J 888=55 I C 45.

—Highway—Right to go in possession—Threat of obstruction—No proof of damage —Suit for injunction, maintainability of—Order under S. 144 Cr. P. Code—Cause of action to aggrieved party. see. 36 M L J 79 (F B).

(8) Cause of action—(Contd.)

—Obstruction to highway—Suit. by private person—Special damage necessary See 25 I C 603.

—Suit for injunction, High way, opening of door into—Special damage—Owners of soil. See 179 P L R 1914.

—Suit against Govt. for Property forfeited under Ss. 523 and 524 of the Cr. P. Code See 17 Bom L R 979. Suit for damages for abuse of process See 39 Mad 952.

—The suit land was entered in the Revenue records as joint and when partition proceedings were started by a recorded sharer plaintiff was referred to a Civil Court and he filed a suit for a declaration of his sole ownership. Held, that the cause of action arose when partition proceedings were started notwithstanding the entry in the revenue records, Held, that where a joint suit was withdrawn with liberty to bring a new suit, separate suits by the several plaintiffs were not barred. 163 P L R 1914=99 P W R 1914=23 I C 458.

—Decision of Revenue Court that defendant was not a tenant of a particular class—Later decision that they were not under-proprietors—Suit for declaration against under-proprietors—Accrual of cause of action See 23 I C 231.

—Where there was an entry in the name of a wrong person in settlement proceedings and the settlement officer refused to correct it on the application of the rightful owner held that the cause of action was the refusal of the settlement officer to correct the entry in the absence of anything to show that the title of plff. was denied earlier. 22 I C 608.

—Order for maintenance of illegitimate son—Declaratory suit denying paternity. See 17 O C 331.

—Suit for declaration of right of easement—Suit against servient owners. See 19 C W N 1211.

—Declaratory suit for title Knowledge of denial of title—Subsequent acts—Fresh cause of action See (1914). M W N 197.

—Where a Hindu sues to recover the loss alleged to have been sustained by his acting on certain misrepresentations made by the defendant the cause of action would survive, on the death of the plaintiff, to his heir. 11 M L T 240=14 I C 491.

—Mahomedan heirs—Right to shares not joint for purposes of Limitation. See 36 M L J 184.

(10) Revision.

—Revision lies under this rule see A I R 1922 M 332=45 M 194; and 69 I C 966; and 46 M 186.

C. P. C. (1908) ORDER II, RULE IV

Synopsis.

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a-b) Claims based on the same cause of action.

(c) Claim to share in mortgage-decree.

(d) Misjoinder of causes of action

(e) Partnership.

(f) Question of title.

(2) Leave given.

(3) Specific performance.

(1) Scope of the rule.

—(a-b) Claims based on the same cause of action:—Notwithstanding s. 44; rule (a), C P C 1882 there is nothing irregular in seeking to recover in one suit immoveable and moveable property if the cause of action is the same in respect of both. L R 31 I A 10.

—Suit for recovery of immoveable property, rents, royalties is governed by O. 2, r. 4 (c) as the cause of action for both claims is the same 59 I A 331 = 59 C 1399 = 36 C W N 1046=63 M L J 196=34 B L R 1567 = I R 1932 P C 263=9 O W N 691=138 I C 861=56 C L J 92=36 L W 266=1932 M W N 923=1932 A L J 919=13 P L T 659 = A I R 1932 P C 216 = A L R 1932 P C 384 (P C).

—O. II R 4 does not bar joinder in an administration suit claim in respect of the partnership with that for recovery of immoveable property based on the same cause of action. A I R 1927 Bom 470 = 51 B 800 = 29 Bom L R 937 = 104 I C 764.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 2, r. 4 (Contd.)

(1) Scope of the rule—(Contd.)

—(e) Partnership:—Suit for accounts of partnership between deceased and executor and others can be joined ordinarily with other suit for administration. Other partners are not necessary parties. A I R 1927 Bom 410 = 51 B 800 = 29 Bom L R 937 = 104 I C 764.

—(f) Question of title:—It is generally convenient in mortgage suit to decide question of paramount title of persons in possession and likely to resist possession of a successful plaintiff in a mortgage suit. A I R 1924 Pat 613 = 3 Pat 244 = 5 P L T 573 = 78 I C 885.

(2) Leave given.

—Leave of the Court may not be expressed but may be inferred from its acquiescence. A I R 1924 Pat 613 = 3 Pat 244 = 5 P L T 573 = 78 I C 885.

—Per Mullic J.—Joinder of causes of action when allowed—Causes of action joined under O II r. 4 of the C P Code if alternative and based on inconsistent titles should not arise out of inconsistent facts. A I R 1925 Pat 674 = 7 P L T 82 = 1925 Pat 294 = 89 I C 814.

(3) Specific performance.

—Suit for specific performance of contract of sale and recovery of possession of property is maintainable if the contract contains a covenant to deliver possession. 34 B L R 1322 = 140 I C 730 = A I R 1932 B 595 = A L R 1932 B 1241.

(4) Suit to establish title.

—In a suit by plaintiffs representing a community, for declaration of title to a temple, personal claim for damages cannot be joined. 17 M L J 135.

ORDER II, RULE V.

Synopsis.

(1) Scope of the rule:—

(a-b) Election of relief claimed.

(c) Joinder of claims.

(d) Partnership.

(2) Attachment of money due to judgment-debtor as executor.

(1) Scope of the rule.

—(a-b) Election of relief claimed:—Where in a suit for construction of will and administration of estate, personal claim against executor is joined it is unnecessary to put the plaintiff to his election in respect of the personal claim, 35 I C 792.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 2 r. 5 (Concl'd)

(1) Scope of the rule—(Concl'd)

—(c) Joinder of claims:—Claim against executor as such can be joined with claim against him personally if they arise in reference to estate in respect of which the defendant is executor. 21 C W N 939 = 41 I C 615.

—(d) Partnership:—Suit asked for dissolution of partnership and its account and for another account between plaintiff's father and defendants to which former was entitled as administrator, does not contravene O. (2) Attachment of money due to judgment-debtor as executor.

—O. 2, R. 5 disallows attachment of money in the hands of an executor as such in execution of a decree against him personally. 9 Bur L T 226 = 38 I C 563.

ORDER II, RULE VI—VII.

Synopsis.

- (1) Scope of the rules, 6 and 7.
- (2) Appeal.
- (3) Effect of erroneous frame of Suit.
- (4) Misjoinder of Causes of action.
- (5) Waiver of objection.

(1) Scope of the rules 6 and 7.

—O. 2, contemplates a case where the causes of action joined in the same suit are essentially of different character and is not applicable to cases where the facts alleged in the plaint arise out of facts that are common to both the causes of action. 36 I C 29.

—O. II, r. 6, does not apply to rent suits under the Agra Tenancy Act. A I R 1924 All 720 = 22 A L J 945 = 79 I C 560.

—Joinder of separate purchasers of debutter property from shebait as defendants to a suit against shebait for removal from office is not bad. A I R 1928 Cal 514 = 112 I C 649.

—Objection to joinder of causes of action taken for the first time in second appeal was disallowed. 40 I C 462.

—Objection to misjoinder of causes of action must be taken at the earliest possible opportunity. 34 B L R 1322 = 140 I C 730 = A I R 1932 B 595 = A L R 1932 B 1241.

(2) Appeal

—Appellate Court should not interfere with trial Courts discretion under the rule. A I R 1924 Lah 156 = 73 I C 892.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 2, r. 6-7 (Concl'd).

(3) Effect of erroneous frame of Suit.

—A suit for accounts as if on a mortgage against the purchaser of the equity of redemption from their mother, was filed but they failed to show that the sale deed was outside the powers of the mother. Held, that the suit for accounts was not maintainable as such, because, if the plaintiffs had attempted to show that the mother had no power to effect the sale, the defendants could have raised the plea of extreme necessity. 13 Bom L R 56 P C; 18 Bom L R 763, relied on Ind Rul (1931) Bom 478 = 33 Bom L R 603 = 134 I C 366.

(4) Misjoinder of causes of action.

—Issues on causes of action misjoined but noticed at a late stage, should not be struck out but tried separately, if embarrassing. A I R 1928 Mad 764 = 113 I C 865.

(5) Waiver of action.

—Objection if not taken when the party was taken out of the list of debt, will be deemed to be waived. 9 S L R 11 = 30 I C 24.

—Misjoinder if not objected in first Court will be deemed to have been waived. A I R 1921 Cal 368 = 33 C L J 317 = 63 I C 161.

—Objection on the ground of misjoinder of parties and of causes of action, if not pressed further so that case is closed without issue thereon. A I R 1928 Lah 289 = 10 Lah L J 49 = 108 I C 52. See also 51 B 800 = 29 Bom L R 937 = 104 I C 764 = A I R 1927 Bom 470.

—Objection, if not taken in the trial Court, would not be allowed when the suit fails on merits. A I R 1931 Pat 64 = 11 P L T 898 = Ind Rul (1931) Pat 161 = 10 Pat 234 = 130 I C 257. Misjoinder of parties—Dismissal of Suit. Second appeal. See 10 C L J 316.

ORDER III

Recognized Agents and Pleadings.

—The words "appearing, applying, or acting" have been substituted for the words "duly appointed to act" by the Amendment Act of 1926.

Synopsis

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a-b) General.

(c) Personal appearance when to be directed.

(d) Suit by next friend on behalf of major by bona fide mistake whether dismissible.

(2) Appeal or revision.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 3 r. 1 (Contd.)

- (3-4) Appearance.
- (5) Attorney.
- (6) Authority of agent duly appointed.
- (7-8) Consequence of non-appearance in person of a party as witness of his opponent.
- (9) Signing and Verification.
- (10) Vakalatnamah.

(1) Scope of the Rule.

—(a-b) General :—Power granted by agent is for the principal and not himself. A I R 1922 P C 225=26 C W N 376 = 24 Bom L R 606=30 M L T (P C) 109 = 48 I A 534=44 M 736 = 41 M L J 645 = 14 L W 244=(1921) M W N 552=70 I C 281.

—(c) Personal appearance when to be directed :—It is improper to direct personal appearance of a party to be examined as a witness of his opponent under this rule. 27 M L T 171=(1920) M W N 241 = 11 L W 289=55 I C 945.

—But where proper, the party refusing to appear though directed under this rule, the Court may declare such party ex parte even though he has engaged a pleader who is prepared to appear for him : 41 I C 719=41 M 256. See also under heading (3) infra.

—In this connection it is necessary to distinguish O. 19, r 4 from the present rule, for which see... A I R 1926 Notes 175.

—(d) Suit by next friend on behalf of major by bona fide mistake whether dismissible :—Suit by next friend on behalf of major by bona fide mistake cannot be dismissed A I R 1931 All 507=1931 A L J 777=Ind Rul (1931) All 794=134 I C 26 (F B).

(2) Appeal or revision

—Memorandum of appeal unaccompanied by vakalatnama is not bad and it can be taken on file. A I R 1926 Bom 336=28 B L R 538=95 I C 266; but see 55 I C 271.

—And an appeal presented by a pleader who was not authorized, is validly presented if the power of attorney is subsequently signed by the party or his agent. 55 I C 290=2 U P L R 18.

—But a memorandum of appeal presented by an unauthorized person is no appeal at all and the Court may reject it for that obvious defect. A I R 1930 All 112=(1930) A L J 394 = Ind Rul (1930) All 162=121 I C 546.

(3-4) Appearance.

—(a) Personal Appearance :—The rough test as to whether a deft. has appeared is to see whether he has complied with the requirements of O. 5, r 1 and of the summons in form 1 of Sch. B. 18 C W N 775 = 19 C L J 535 = 23 I C 769 = 41 C 956.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 3 r. 1 (Contd.)

(3-4) Appearance—(Contd.)

—When a party is present there is no default of appearance : 8 A L J 839 = 10 I C 903=33 A 690;

—Even though he may be present merely for asking for adjournment, 76 I C 288 = A I R 1924 N 26 see also 1917 M W N 241=40 I C 223.

—But mere presence of a party in the premises of the Court building is not "appearance" if he does not attend to the call : 13 Bom L R 1222 = 12 I C 903.

—As to the effect of the absence of a pleader engaged by the party who is present see under sub-heading (b) below. A plaintiff representing other plffs. is deemed to "appear" for all : 16 A L J 462 = 46 I C 390 = 40 A 590.

—(b) Appearance by pleader :—A party appearing through a pleader is sufficient "appearance" within the meaning of this rule : 9 Pat L J 63 = 103 I C 711 = 6 Pat 383; see also 3 I C 45 (Bom); notwithstanding physical disability of such pleader to argue : 9 I C 857.

—But mere presence of such pleader is not enough : 1 O W N 736 = 85 I C 811 = 28 O C 166 = A I R 1925 Oudh 549; he should have been intended to appear for the party and duly instructed by such party : 82 I C 107 = A I R 1924 M 842; 25 Bom L R 1222 = 82 I C 124 = A I R 1924 B 439; 110 I C 377 = A I R 1928 M 831; 74 I C 941 = 1923 P H C C 175 = A I R 1923 Pat 520; though mere instruction to apply for adjournment is not sufficient : 10 L B R 329 = 62 I C 57; see also 3 S L R 208=6 I C 851; and 34 C 403 F B (overruling 27 C 529); and 17 M L J 225 = 30 M 274; and 111 I C 150 = A I R 1928 A 760; and 1 C L J 76 N; and 74 I C 693 = 1 Pat L R 281 = A I R 1923 Pat 530; 124 I C 402 (All)=A I R 1930 Notes 23 and A I R 1928 R 191 = 6 R 323; and 1 S L R 224; and 36 C W N 158 = A I R 1932 C 148 (but see 14 C L J 603 = 13 I C 374); but where a party went to fetch the senior pleader and the junior pleader applied for time, held, there was no default of appearance : 119 I C 15 = 1929 A L J 1183 = A I R 1929 A 811.

—And there is also sufficient "appearance" within the meaning of this rule where a pleader without reporting "no instruction" asks for adjournment merely because he is not prepared with the case : 115 I C 173 = 11 N L R 238 = A I R 1929 N 89; 33 M L J 553 = 39 I C 948; 73 I C 982 = A I R 1924 M 43; 2 I C 621; and A I R 1925 N 236. (decision in 16B 23 no longer represents the law).

—Where a pleader who is engaged by the party to appear on his behalf absents himself, or is not instructed to deal with the case there is no "appearance" : 13 M L T 140 = 24 M L J 235 = 18 I C 360; see also 80 I C 950 = L R 5 A 615; and for this purpose refusing to appear and failing to appear fall in the same category : 82 I C 107 = A I R 1924 M 842;

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 3, r. 1 (Contd.)

(3-4) Appearance—(Contd.)

as also taking no further part tantamounting to withdrawal. 43 M L J 317 = 69 I C 513 = A I R 1923 M 13 = 42 M 882; so also where the pleader is unable to proceed for want of evidence : 9 I C 842 (Cal.)

—So the dismissal of suit in presence of pleader is not dismissal for default, and as such is not subject to O. 9 R. 9. 46 I C 492.

—But such pleader, though able to do so, does not think proper to conduct the case on behalf his principal, his mere presence in Court is not an appearance in the suit—23 Bom 414. So also the presence of a pleader without instructions is no presence and does not save ex parte decree being passed. A I R 1926 Mad 971 = 51 M L J 290 = (1926) M W N 616 = 97 I C 517.

—So a pleader reporting "no instructions" is no "appearance" : 82 I C 107 = A I R 1924 M 842; see to the same effect 5 C L J 260 = 34 C 235; and 20 A L J 123 = 65 I C 775 = A I R 1922 A 68; and 68 I C 942 = A I R 1923 Pat 156; and 107 I C 815 = 1927 M W N 897 = A I R 1928 M 234; and 19 M L J 760 = 5 I C 23 = 33 M 241 and 18 M L J 51; and A I R 1929 Notes 26; and 90 I C 768 = A I R 1926 C 246; and 5 I C 499.

—Irrespective of the fact whether such reporting was before or after the refusal of adjournment : 82 I C 102 = 47 M L J 398 = 20 L W 427 = 35 M L J 48 = 1924 M W N 589 = A I R 1925 M 21 = 47 M 819 F B; and despite the fact that the pleader was actually present : 1918 P H C C 236 = 3 Pat L J 481 = 46 I C 488.

—Appearance for applying for mere adjournment is appearance without instruction. A I R 1927 Rang 46 = 4 R 408 = 99 I C 717. Presence of clerk is no appearance by pleader. A I R 1928 Lah 841 = 110 I C 177.

—A pleader who is duly engaged by the party absents himself at the hearing but the party himself is present : Is there sufficient "appearance" within the meaning of O. 3, r. 1? It has been held that there is sufficient "appearance" if the party is ready to proceed further with the case : 10 Bom L R 1172 = 3 I C 992 = 33 B 475; but not if the pleader reports "no instruction" and the party takes no further steps : 17 M L J 225 = 30 M 274; see also 36 C W N 158 = 138 I C 87 = A I R 1932 C 418 = 59 C 756; and 51 M L J 684 = 99 I C 32 = A I R 1927 M 109; and 36 C W N 160 = A I R 1932 C 425 = 59 C 906; and 69 I C 837 = A I R 1922 Pat 485 = 1 Pat 188; and 47 I C 27 (Pat); and 52 I C 290 Pat; and 1 Pat L J 156 = 5 Pat L J 17 = 54 I C 715; and 69 I C 837 = A I R 1922 Pat 485 = 1 Pat 188; and 80 I C 950 = A I R 1925 A 58.

—As to the appearance by person not entitled to practice as pleader, and recognised by Court see. 33 I C 669.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 3, r. 1 (Contd.)

(5) Attorney.

—Attorney can do the act which is to be done by himself in s. 806 Bengal Regulation of 1908. A I R 1927 Lah 141 = 9 Lah L J 14 = 28 P L R 753 = 100 I C 329.

(6) Authority of agent duly appointed.

—Pleader cannot consent to be bound by oath of opposite party—But Court can draw inference from circumstances of case that there was authority. A I R 1930 Cal 463 = 34 C W N 310 = Ind. Rul. (1931) Cal 184 = 179 I C 408.

—In case of pardanashin lady, however the power must be explicit.—General power for management does not authorise sale. A I R 1930 Pat 181 = 11 P L T 121 = Ind Rul. (1930) Pat 697 = 127 I C 457.

—Pleader duly appointed has authority to make any application including one for reference to arbitration. 9 S L R 183 = 34 I C 845.

—A person holding power of attorney can make execution application his description being immaterial. A I R 1929 Lah 759 = Ind Rul. (1930) Lah 799 = 126 I C 799.

—But a pleader cannot, without client's consultation, consent to consent-decree, and such decree is unenforceable. A I R 1930 Cal 477 = 34 C W N 210 = Ind. Rul. (1930) Cal 781 = 126 I C 765.

—A person empowered to file compromise petition has no authority to enter into a compromise. A I R 1930 Oudh 112 = 7 C W N 153 = Ind Rul. (1930) Oudh 299 = 125 I C 171.

—So also a general authority of Pleader does not authorise him to enter into compromise in collateral matter by becoming Receiver in a case relations of attorney and client come to an end. A I R 1927 Cal 714 = 31 C W N 953 = 55 C 113 = 103 I C 387.

ORDER III, RULE II

—Detailed provisions as to Mukhtars under the corresponding section (37) of the old Code have been rendered unnecessary owing to the omission of the word "general" before "power of attorney" and the omission of the words "from parties not resident within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court with which appearance, application, or act is made or done", the result of which is to render the rule more comprehensive to the extent that simple power of attorney is now sufficient to authorise a person to act, apply, or appear. As to the amendment by Bombay High Court, however, see under heading (4) infra. Decisions in 14 M L J 223; and 28 A 135 and 6 B 100; and 26 A 19; 23 A 499 and 12 B 68 relating to the meaning of the term non-resident have been rendered obsolete by the omission above referred to.

(1) Legislative Changes.

—O. 3, r. 4 as enacted by the C P Code 1908 after certain alterations in the corresponding s. 39 of the Code of 1908 ran as follows:—

—“(1) The appointment of a pleader to make or do any appearance, application or act for any person shall be in writing, and shall be signed by such person or by his recognised agent or by some other person duly authorised by power-of-attorney to act in this behalf.

—“(2) Every such appointment, when accepted by a pleader, shall be filed in Court, and shall be considered to be in force until determined with the leave of the Court, by a writing signed by the client or the pleader, as the case may be and filed in Court, or until the client or the pleader dies or until all proceedings in the suit are ended so far as regards the client.

—“(3) No advocate of any High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861 or of any Chief Court and no advocate of any other High Court who is a barrister shall be required to present any document empowering him to act.”

—O. 3, r. 4 of C P C 1908, as stated above has been amended by the Amendment Act 22 of 1926 by which the present O. 3, r. 4 has been substituted for the old O. 3, r. 3 sub-rules (1) and (2) of the new rule correspond with sub-rules (1) and (2) of the old rule and sub-rules (3), (4), (5) and the proviso have been newly added. Under the present rule three different categories of pleaders have been distinguished (1) a pleader appointed to act in Court—see sub-rule (1) which requires the appointment to be in writing—see also sub-rules (2) and (3) for other requirements in this connection; (2) a pleader engaged for the purposes of pleadings only, and sub-rule (5) lays down that such pleader will not have to file a document of the type mentioned in sub-rule (1), but that only a memorandum with necessary particulars will suffice; and (3) It may also be noted that the present rule 4 as amended gives a statutory recognition to the old practice of one pleader appearing for another pleader at the former's request, without any fresh writing. It has been held in 118 I C 58=A I R 1929 N 109 that the present rule has not extended the power of a second grade pleader who cannot act and plead in the High Court and therefore his appointment under sub rule (5) will not enable him to engage another pleader to file an appeal in the High Court.

(1-a) Scope of the rule.

—(a) General—Order III, r. 4 (2) does not authorise second grade pleader to give power to another to file appeal in High Court where he himself cannot appear. A I R 1929 Nag 109 = Ind Rul (1929) Nag 250 = 12 N L J 54 = 118 I C 58. nor does it authorise Pleader to plead where under rules he is not allowed to do. A I R 1925 Mad 1201 = 48 M 676 = 49 M L J 366 = 22 L W 606 = 92 I C 300.

—O. III, r. 4 as amended applies to power granted before but filed after it was amended. A I R 1930 Lah 68=Ind Rul (1929) L 456 = 116 I C 184.

—Defect of mukhtear not holding general power as required by Bombay High Court rules is irregularity and can be cured. A I R 1923 Bom 44 = 24 Bom L R 1302 = 47 B 227 = 76 I C 34.

—Authorising to file application includes authority to engage Pleader and sign power —Rules are strict to prevent fraud but where no fraud committed for want of formalities. A I R 1924 Pat 114=2 P L R Civ 174 = 74 I C 1033.

—There is no conflict between O. III, r. 4 and r. 23 of Madras High Court Rules. A I R 1928 Mad 472 = 109 I C 206.

—(b) Acceptance:—In the old rule sub-rule (2) there were words “Every such appointment when accepted by a pleader and it was held that such acceptance of power must be endorsed. A I R 1923 Lah 402 = 84 I C 518.

—(c) Appointment—The appointment must be in writing and that writing must be executed by the party or by a person acting on his behalf as his recognized agent. 16 All 240.

—But the power of an advocate practising in High Court may be verbal and need not be in writing. A I R 1926 Pat 73 = 4 P 766 = 7 P L T 362 = 92 I C 179.

—Power of Advocate of Patna High Court need not be in writing. A I R 1925 Pat 614 = 6 P L T 380 = 1925 Pat 233 = 88 I C 91.

—And that the power must be signed by all unless one is proved to be authorised to sign on their behalf. A I R 1927 Lah 382=100 I C 838.

C P. C. (1908) Or. 3, r. 4 (Contd)

(1-a) Scope of the rule—(Concld)

—Power of manager must state clearly that he is agent of the firm. A I R 1926 Sind 51 = 89 I C 401.

—But an omission to sign power by guardian is mere irregularity and can be cured. A I R 1926 Nag 40 = 88 I C 235.

—And a power given by one judgment debtor in appeal is valid provided other one is made respondent. A I R 1930 Lah 101 = Ind Rul (1930) Lah 526 = 124 I C 318.

—Power given but not filed with appeal does not invalidate presentation. A I R 1925 Lah 331 = 7 Lah I J 29 = 86 I C 207.

—A letter is sufficient authority, if sufficiently stamped I Calc W N ceviii; but not a telegram authorising filing of an appeal A I R 1927 Lah 398 = 101 I C 613.

(2) Appeal.

—'Appeal' includes second appeal also A I R 1928 Lah 733 = 108 I C 513.

(3) Appearance.

—Suit cannot be dismissed against all plaintiffs for default of appearance of one order to attend I R 2 A Rev. 233; see also cases under the same heading in O. 3, r. 1.

(4) Delegation of authority by pleader.

—It was held under the old rule that a pleader cannot delegate his authority to another unless exempted under cl. (3) of old O. III, r. 4. or unless he holds power of attorney, from his client expressly authorizing him to do. 12 N L R 189 = 37 I C 103.

—And that a pleader cannot withdraw from a case or delegate his power to another Pleader without notice to client and consent of Court. A I R 1922 Cal 515 = 24 Cr. L J 33 = 35 C L J 356 = 26 C W N 589 = 49 C 732 = 71 I C 81.

—And where a pleader who merely appeared on behalf of another pleader who was duly empowered, joined in referring a pending suit to arbitration, it was held that in making the reference he has not merely pleaded, but also "acted" and that in the absence of specific authorization he had no authority to join in the reference. 33 P L R 388 = 138 I C 712.

(5-6) High Court Rules.

—Rule 4, O. 3 is not absolute but is subject to High Court rules regulating procedure 59 C 370 (375) = 35 C W N 1100 = 135 I C 789 = A I R 1932 C 1; and as such according to Bombay High Court rules person holding general power can act for non-resident parties. A I R 1923 Bom 41 = 72 I C 100.

C P. C. (1908) Or. 3, r. 4 (Contd).

(5-6) High Court Rules—(Concld)

—The Madras High Court proviso to the present rule does not conflict with anything contained in the Code : 109 I C 206 = A I R 1928 M 472.

But rule 29 of the Calcutta High Court Appellate side Rules conflicts with cl. (5) of O. 3, r. 4 C P C and it has been held that the former should prevail : 35 C W N 1100; see also 135 I C 789 = A I R 1932 C 1.

—An Advocate of the High Court under r. 29, Cal. High App. side Rules cannot plead in the High Court by merely putting in a memorandum of appearance unless there has been an appearance by the party in person or by a Pleader appointed to act for him. In the latter case, if the Pleader appointed to act for a party has engaged the Pleader merely to plead for the said party, then this memorandum of appearance need not be filed. 35 C W N 1100.

(7) Objection to Validity of power.

—Objection of validity of power can be raised for the first time in appeal. A I R 1924 Lah 296 = 69 I C 365; but see cases under O. 3, r. 1.

(8) Pleader appointed to act in Court.

—Authority to act in particular case is special power of attorney. A I R 1930 Bom 511 = Ind Rul (1931) Bom 65 = 32 Bom I R 1178 = 128 I C 609.

—Reference of pending suit to arbitration by a pleader is acting and not pleading. 136 I C 712 = 33 P L R 388 = I R 1932 L 248 = A I R 1932 L 373 = A L R 1932 L 302 (Civ) = 1932 P C L 302 (Civ).

—Pleader can refer on strength of rakalat-namah alone—Though such authority was necessary under the old Code. A I R 1930 Sind 190 = Ind Rul (1930) Sind 118 = 123 I C 694.

(9) Pleader engaged to plead by a pleader duly appointed to act.

—Pleader appointed by a party's pleader can only plead and cannot act for the party and cannot therefore refer a pending suit to arbitration without authority from party. A I R 1932 L 302; see to the same effect 96 I C 277 = A I R 1926 L 563.

(10) Until all proceedings in the Suit are ended.

—Appointment of Pleader continues till the end of the case if sufficient grounds for Court's sanction to terminating power are not shown. A I R 1930 Pat 408 = Ind Rul (1931) Pat 46 = 9 Pat 865 = 11 P L T 371 = 128 I C 350; and such power remains in force in all stages —Mere dismissal of suit or passing of an ex parte decree does not terminate Counsel's power—He can apply for restoration of suit without fresh power. A I R 1929 Lah 96=Ind Rul (1929) Lah 236=10 L 570=30 P L R 628=114 I C 76.

—Return of plaint does not terminate pleader's authority to represent client. A I R 1922 Nag 125=5 N L J 265=67 I C 296.

—So also a fresh authority is not required for a Pleader to appear, act and plead in the execution proceedings if he was so authorized by a rakalatnama in the suit itself. A I R 1925 Pat 692=(1925) P 234=7 P L T 220=91 I C 211, and also for representation of plaint fresh power is not necessary, in any case time for producing one can be granted A I R 1922 Nag. 125 = 5 N L J 265 = 67 I C 296.

—But filing memo of appeal or cross-objection is acting and power of attorney is necessary. A I R 1926 Rang. 215 = 4 R 249=5 Bur L J 221 = 98 I C 15; but if he is appointed to prosecute all litigation of suit, no fresh power is required for appeal. A I R 1926 Lah 32 = 6 Lah 461 = 26 P L R 721 = 91 I C 30.

—Appointment of pleader continues for appellate purposes also. A I R 1933 L 526; so an advocate appointed in a case can present appeal also. A I R 1930 Lah 68 = Ind. Rul. (1929) Lah 456 = 116 I C 184.

—And a deft's attorney can appeal against order refusing to set aside ex parte decree. A I R 1927 Lah 134=99 I C 690.

—But a pleader engaged by agents for a suit has no power to conduct appeal. A I R 1928 Lah 733 = 108 I C 513.

—So also where a power of attorney contains clause requiring fresh power to act in appellate Court presentation by pleader without fresh power is not in accordance with law. A I R 1933 N.87.

—Prosecution of the conduct of the suit includes all proceedings till its final decision in the Court concerned—Authority of Counsel depends upon terms of powers-of-attorney—In absence of such authority general practice is good indication of implied authority. A I R 1929 Lah 96 = Ind Rul (1929) Lah 236=10 L 570=30 P L R 628=114 I C 76.

Local Amendment

—Calcutta :—Insert the words "for the ascertainment whether the suit will be contested" after the words "issues only."

—Madras :—Delete the first paragraph and substitute the following in lieu thereof :—
"(5) The Court shall determine, at the time of issuing the summons, whether it shall be :—
(1) For the settlement of issues only, or (2) for the defendant to appear and state whether he contests or does not contest the claim and directing him if he contest to receive directions as to the date on which he has to file his written statement, the date of trial and other matters, and if he does not contest for final disposal of the suit at once; or (3) for the final disposal of the suit; and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly."

Scope of the Rule.

—The rule is controlled by provisions applicable to special suits. A I R 1932 S 199; e. g. Rule of the High Court and Supreme Court Bombay. see 10 Bom. L.R. 301 = 32 B. 534.

—Where in a mortgage suit, plaintiff having died his son's name was substituted and the court issued for the first time a summons to defendant as for final disposal and after settlement of issues on the date of hearing, as the plaintiff was not ready with his witness dismissed the suit as not proved. held, that there was a miscarriage of justice as the scheme of the Code requires that in cases of such a nature the parties should have an opportunity to let in evidence relevant to the issues. 38 Bom 377 = 16 Bom. L. R. 39 = 24 I C. 665.

Scope of the Rule.

—An application to set aside the ex parte decree must be made within 30 days from the date of decree. 8 S. L. R. 153 = 27 I. C. 351.

—As to the meaning of the expression "duly served" under art 164 of Lmt Act see 42 I.C. 611 = 11 Sind L. R. 71.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 5, r. 9

Service of Summons.

—This rule applies to H. C. and Pro. S. C. It has been substituted by Act VII of 1888 s. 10 and corresponds with S. 72 of the Code of 1882.

—Service of Post :—The words "unless the Court otherwise directs" have been newly added to give "increased facilities for the service of process" e. g. by registered post. see 99 P R 1918 = 184 P W R 1918 = 48 I C 28 and in case of purdanashin lady. 21 C L J 653 = 19 C W N 1231 = 30 I C 64.

—And service by post being a substituted service very little evidence would be required to displace it : 23 Bom L R 908 = A I R 1922 B 377 = 64 I C 386 = 46 B 130.

—Service by registered post if brought into question, very slight evidence is necessary to displace it A I R 1928 Pat 588 = 113 I C 698 see also 7 C L J 251.

—Presumption that notice sent by post was duly served is not a conclusive presumption of law : 19 C W N 489 = 20 C L J 455 = 26 I C 962.

—A summons sent by registered post and returned endorsed "refused" can be treated by the Court as sufficient service : 13 Bom L R 323 = 11 I C 35 = 35 B 213; see also 16 Bom L R 204 = 24 I C 437; and 121 I C 382 = 31 P L R 26 = A I R 1931 L 439; and 17 C W N 1073 = 20 I C 363.

—Residence :—For the purpose of service of summons, residence is not identical with ownership, that is, a permanent absentee cannot be described as resident in a place merely by virtue of ownership. Residence denotes the place where an individual eats, drinks and sleeps. Substituted service can be justified under O. 5, r. 17 of Code. only when it is shown that proper efforts were made to find the defendant. In this respect the new Code has altered the law. The mere presentation of an appeal does not put it beyond the power of the original Court to deal in any manner with the judgment under appeal. But the position is different after the adjudication of the appeal, when the original judgment has been superseded by the judgment of the Court of Appeal. 9 Ind Cas 189 = 15 C W N 399.

—Irregularity :—Mere irregularity in the manner of service does not justify setting aside of the decree : 46 I C 277.

—Service of summons effected outside jurisdiction of the Court and without any order of the Court having jurisdiction is irregular A I R 1925 Rang 325 = 3 R 239 = 89 I C 870.

Local Amendments.

—Lahore:—The following proviso should be added:—"Provided that in any case if the plaintiff so wishes, the Court may serve the summons in the first instance by registered post (acknowledgement due) instead of in the mode of service laid down in this rule."

—Patna:—Add the following to the rule 10:—(1) Provided that in any case the Court may, of its motion, or on the application of the plaintiff, send the summons to the defendant by post in addition to the mode of service laid down in this rule. An acknowledgement purporting to be signed by the defendant or an endorsement by postal servant that the defendant refused to take the delivery may be deemed by the Court issuing the summons to be prima-facie proof of service."

(2) Mode of Service.

—General:—It is the duty of the Court to see that summons are properly served. 20 C W N 511.

—Whenever practicable the service of summons ought to be made by delivering or tendering a copy of it to the defendant in person and it is only when reasonable grounds exist for believing that the defendant is keeping out of the way to avoid service or that for other reasons it cannot be served in the ordinary way that substituted service should be ordered. Temporary absence by itself will not justify resort to such service. 29 M 324. —Service of Summons when complete—Tender to witness. see 28 M L J 405 = 29 I C 109.

—Where a summons delivered to debt is not received by him and acknowledgement not signed by him and summons not affixed to his house, the service is not proper: 99 P R 1918 = 184 P W R 1918 = 48 I C 28.

—O 5 R 10 of the C P Code lays down the main rule that service shall be made by delivering or tendering copy of the summons signed and sealed as prescribed. Whenever such delivery or tender has been made to the debt, personally, the service is complete, and no subsequent irregularity by the process server or other ministerial officer of Court such as the omission of the process server to obtain the signature of the debt can undo it. Such a case is particularly of a kind to which the maxim quod fi ri non debet factum valet seems applicable. But where the service is not personal there is necessity for a strict compliance with the rules of procedure laid down in the

—The words "after using all due and reasonable diligence" are new, but there were decisions under the old Code to the effect that service officer is bound to exercise due and reasonable diligence and substituted service can be effected only after proper efforts have been made to serve personally without success see 19 C 201; 26 C 101; 21 M 324; 24 A 302; and 21 B 223, and 30 B 623; and 21 M 419; and 5 C L J 12 and see 32 I C 744; and 50 I C 566.

—But it should be noted that the words "after using all due and reasonable diligence" are specially restricted to the case where there is no agent empowered to accept service on behalf of the defendant nor any other person on whom service can be made. Where there is such a person, service-officer need not make such diligent efforts to effect personal service, even if the agent or adult member of the defendant's family refused to accept service. It is still necessary to prove that defendant "cannot be found". A I R 1922 Nag 105 = 5 N L J 41 = 65 I C 44

—It is only when there are reasonable grounds to believe that the defendant is going out of the way to avoid service or that for other reasons it cannot be served in the ordinary way that substituted service should be ordered. A I R 1931 Nag 119 = 27 N L R 53 = Ind Rul (1931) Nag 151 = 134 I C 279 following 29 M 324; 21 M 419 and 2 N L R 62.

—All available steps to effect personal service must be made before resort is had to substituted summons. It is not enough to attend at the ordinary place of residence or of business or the place where the defendant personally works for gain, and to conclude that substituted service may be effected merely because at the time when the serving peon attends at such place the defendant does not happen to be there. It is necessary that the serving peon, having discovered or believing that the defendant cannot be served at the time when he is attending, should institute proper enquiries to endeavour to ascertain where the defendant's whereabouts are. The serving peon before he can take advantage of the provisions of r 17 must attend at the right place, and he must attend at a time when he may reasonably expect that the defendant will be present, and if he fails to find the defendant he must take reasonable steps to discover where the defendant may happen to be. A I R 1925 Cal 627-52 Cal 179 = 88 I C 508 see also 91 I C 965 = A I R 1926 C 327.

—If the debt is residing at two places inquiries must be made for him at both of these places. A I R 1925 Cal 801 = 52 Cal 453 = 88 I C 929.

(1) Local Amendments:

—Oudh:—Between Rules 20 and 21, insert the following:—"20-A (1) where the defendant resides in British India outside the province of Oudh or within the limits of head-quarters town of a District in the province, a summons may be served on him by registered post, and in this case, where an acknowledgment purporting to be signed by the defendant or an endorsement by a postal servant that the defendant refused service has been received the process shall, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been served."

—(2) Where the registered address of the defendant or opposite party, as defined in Order 8, Rule 11, is within the limits of a head quarters town or of a municipality in India including Burma, or Ceylon, a notice, summons or other process may be served on him at that address by registered post and such service shall be deemed to be as effectual as if the notice or process had been personally served."

—Rangoon:—After Rule 20, the following shall be inserted as Rule 20-A, Namely:—

—"20-A. (1) Every plaintiff, appellant or applicant on presenting or on entering an appearance to prosecute a plaint, memorandum of appeal, or originating petition or application shall at the same time file in Court a proceeding stating his address for service."

—(2) Every defendant or respondent who intends to appear and defend any suit, appeal, or originating petition or application shall on or before the date fixed for his appearance in the summons or notice served on him file in Court a proceeding stating his address for service."

—(3) Such address for service shall be within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit, appeal or petition or application is filed, or of the District Court within whose jurisdiction the party ordinarily resides."

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 5, r. 20 (Contd.)

(1) Local Amendments—(Contd.)

—(4) Where any party fails to file an address for service as required by sub-Rule (1) or sub-Rule (2) he shall, if a plaintiff, appellant, or applicant, be liable to have his suit, appeal, petition or application dismissed for want of prosecution and, if a defendant or respondent, be liable to have his defence, if any, struck out and to be placed in the same position as if he had not defended. Any party may apply for such an order against an opposite party and the Court may on such application make such order as it thinks just."

—(5) Where a party is not found at the address given by him for service, and no agent or adult member of his family on whom a notice or process can be served is found at the address, a copy of the notice or process shall be affixed on the outer door or some other conspicuous part of the house or place which has been given as the address for service; and such service shall be deemed to be as effectual as if the notice or process had been personally served on the party."

—(6) Where a party is represented by an advocate or pleader, notices or processes for service on him shall be served in the manner prescribed by order 3, Rule 5, unless the Court directs the service at the address for service given by the party."

—(7) A party who desires to change the address for service given by him under sub-Rule (1) or sub-Rule (2) shall present a verified petition to the effect, and the Court may direct the amendment of the record accordingly, notice of every such petition shall be given to all other parties to the proceedings."

—(8) Nothing in this rule shall prevent the Court from directing the service of a notice or process in any other manner if it thinks fit to do so."

(1-a) Scope of the rule.

(a) General.

—Substituted service is not to be used in a way which is unbusinesslike and ridiculous. A I R 1929 Cal 553 = 33 C W N 1199 = Ind Rul (1930) Cal 300 = 57 C 538 = 123 I C 268.

—Nor is it correct to order substituted service on a person to show cause why he should not be appointed guardian. It is necessary to issue proper notice by ordinary service on a person who is capable of becoming guardian and who agrees expressly or by indication to become a guardian. C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. 5, r. 20 (Contd)

( 1-a ) Scope of the rule—(Concl'd)

—Mere absence from village is not sufficient ground for substituted service.

—Substituted service should be ordered after due and reasonable effort has been made by party to serve personally. 29 I C 26.

—But not where plaintiff has failed to make enquiries. A I R 1924 Lah 191 = 69 I C 467.

—Substituted service valid according to materials available at the time of the order can not be invalidated by showing that the belief of the Court was erroneous 138 I C 146 = 1932 M W N 133 = I R 1932 M 525 = A I R 1932 M 472.

—Court ordering substituted service—another Court whether competent to examine the validity of the order—application whether must be accompanied with an affidavit see. A L R 1933 L 407.

( b ) Substituted service when effectual.

—Substituted service of summons is invalid if there is no order of Court on record to that effect 62 P L R 1904 = 42 P R 1904; see to the same effect. 55 I C 824 (Lah);

( 2 ) Could not be served in the ordinary way.

—Substituted service should not be ordered unless defendant could not be served in the ordinary way or has refused to accept service. Ind Rul (1930) Lah. 98 = 120 I C 594.

( 3 ) Court's duty to order.

—Where summons is not served, though taken out several times, Court should order substituted service. Suit cannot be dismissed. A I R 1931 Pat. 420 = 12 P L T 644.

( 4 ) Fix time for appearance.

—In the cases of substituted service time should be given for the notice to come to the knowledge of the party concerned A I R 1928 Rang 185 = 6 R. 218 = 111 I C 371.

—Where substituted service is ordered to be effected by means of newspaper reasonable time to allow newspaper to reach in addition to the time of the notice is sufficient. L R 2 A 242 Rev. Hence, proceeding ex parte against party after substituted service on same day is bad. 2 U P L R (B R) 90 (2). Or allowing only one day between date of substituted service and the hearing : A I R 1932 Lah 248 = 33 Pun L R 5. A L R 1932 L 59.

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. 5, r. 20 (Contd)

( 5 ) For any other reason.

—Court's power to order substituted service is not confined to deft evading personal service. 96 I C 17 = A I R 1926 Notes 162.

—Substituted service can be ordered if for any reason other than that of keeping out of way for purposes of avoiding service, the summons cannot be served in the ordinary way. 46 P L R 1902.

( 6 ) Interference by Appellate Court.

—The advisability of effecting service by substituted service is a matter mainly for the trial Court. An Appellate Court has no power to go into the question whether the substituted service ought to have been ordered unless the trial Court has made some error of law. All that it can see is whether the summons is issued according to law. 102 I C 243, relied on. A I R 1931 Lah 118 = 31 P L R 1006 = 131 I C 344, relying on 102 I C 243.

( 7 ) Keeping out of way for the purpose of avoiding service.

—Order for substituted service passed on failure of two attempts to serve and on filing of affidavit by plaintiff that the defendant was keeping out of way, was held to be valid. 138 I C 146 = 1932 M W N 133 = I R 1932 M 525 = A I R 1932 M 472; see also 107 I C 563 = A I R 1928 A 118.

( 8 ) Or in such other manner as the Court thinks fit.

—Service by registered post is a poor substitute for personal service. If defendant represents to the Court that he had not been offered the postal packet, he is entitled to re-trial where an ex parte decree has been passed. A I R 1922 Bom. 377 = 46 B 130 = 23 Bom L R. 908 = 64 I C 386.

( 9 ) Sufficiency of service.

—Finding by Court that deft. evaded service and refused postal notice is inconsistent with the finding that there was no due service: 1930 M W N 1227.

—Tree to which summons was attached being reasonably near it is probably sufficient service. A I R 1923 Nag 13 = 69 I C 549.

—But affixing of summons without being accompanied by copy of plaint is not a sufficient compliance with the law. A I R 1927 Lah 376 = 28 P L R 300 = 101 I C 615.

—Proclamation in newspaper on failure to effect personal service is good service where party was cognizant of proceeding against him. A I R 1930 Lah 397 = Ind. Rul. (1931) Lah 209 = 129 I C 689.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 5, r. 20 (Concl'd).

(9) Sufficiency of service—(Concl'd)

—Notice published in newspaper at a place distant from party's residence without giving sufficient time is valid substituted service. A I R 1929 Lah 235 = Ind. Rul. (1929) Lah 556 = 116 I C 620.

(10) Where the Court is satisfied.

—Substituted service should be ordered only when the Court is satisfied that there is reason to believe that the defendant is evading service or that summons cannot be served in the ordinary way. 69 I C 467 see also. 107 I C 282.

—And it cannot be ordered unless the Court is satisfied that defendant is purposely evading summons. 104 P R 1888. But see 1932 Mad 472 = 1932 M W N 133.

—Though defendant avoiding service is not the only ground for ordering substituted service. It can be ordered wherever Court is satisfied that service is not possible in usual way. 94 I C 395 (Nag).

(11) Whether substituted Service is due Service ?

—Substituted service is as effectual as if it is made on the defendant personally and is due service within the meaning of Art. 164, Limitation Act. A I R 1928 Mad 815 = 51 M 860 = 55 M L J 565 = (1928) M W N 49 = 28 L W 513 = 110 I C 490 see to the same effect 8 O W N 845 = 132 I C 778 = A I R 1931 O 369; and 9 N L R 35 = 19 I C 425; but see A I R 1928 Mad 655 = 54 M L J 448 = 108 I C 889.

—In the case of substituted service the summons is "duly served" on the defendant even though it does not in fact come to the defendant's knowledge A I R 1927 Mad 487 = 38 M L T 359 = 52 M L J 512 = 101 I C 651.

—And ignorance in such case is not sufficient cause for not appearing. 108 I C 753 (Mad).

—Substituted service amounts to personal service—notice served by affixture to the judgment-debtor's last known place of residence when his wife was living there was held to be good service on the judgment-debtor. A I R 1928 Mad 1052 = Ind Rul (1929) Mad 555 = 116 I C 363.

—But substituted service is not necessarily due service, and a defendant against whom an ex parte decree has been made can show, if he can that he has not been duly served in the sense that knowledge of his opponent's claim has been brought home to him, even though the formalities of substituted service have been carried through A I R 1931 Mad 813 = 34 L W 496 = (1931) M W N 1069 = 134 I C 1202.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 5, r. 20 (Concl'd)

(11) Whether substituted Service is due Service—(Concl'd)

—And it cannot be laid down broadly that substituted service is necessarily due service or that substituted service is necessarily not due service. The question depends upon the facts of each case and the aggrieved party must be given an opportunity of proving that substituted service had not been properly effected, or in other words that there had not been proper service. A I R 1931 Mad 812 = (1931) M W N 1079 = 34 L W 633.

—Service by affixture made at the very first time raises no presumption that defendant had notice of case. A I R 1924 Oudh 237 = 10 O L J 337 = 74 I C 792.

Local Amendments.

—Bombay :—Order 5 Rule 21—The following shall be inserted as Rule 21-A in Order 5 :—

—"21-A. Where the plaintiff so desires the Court may, notwithstanding anything in the foregoing rules and whether the defendant resides within the jurisdiction of the Court or not, cause the summons to be addressed to the defendant at the place where he is residing, and sent to him by registered post prepaid for acknowledgment provided that such place is at a town or village in British India which is the head-quarters of a district or recognised sub-division of a District, such as a taluka, tahsil or mahal or in which a municipality has been established, or to which the provisions of this rule may from time to time be extended by a notification by the High Court published in the Bombay Government Gazette. An acknowledgment purporting to be signed by the defendant shall be deemed by the Court issuing the summons to be prima facie proof of service. In all other cases the Court shall hold such enquiry as it thinks fit and either declare the summons to have been duly served or order such further service as may in its opinion be necessary."

—Rangoon :—In order 5, the following shall be inserted as Rule 21-A :—

—"21-A. When any summons is sent for service by a Court to any Court situated beyond the limits of Burma it shall, unless it is written in English, be accompanied by a translation in English or in a language of a locality in which it is to be served."

Local Amendments—(Concl'd)

—“21-A. Service of summons by prepaid post wherever the defendant may be residing, if the plaintiff so desires—Where the plaintiff so desires, the Court may notwithstanding anything in the foregoing rules and whether the defendant resides within the jurisdiction of the Court or not cause the summons to be addressed to the defendant at the place where he is residing, and sent to him by registered post prepaid for acknowledgment, provided that such place is at a town or village in British India which is the head quarters of a District or a recognised sub-division of a District such as a Taluka, or to which the provisions of this rule may, from time to time, be extended by a notification by the Court of Judicial Commissioner of Sind, published in the Sind official gazette. An acknowledgment purporting to be signed by the defendant shall be deemed by the Court issuing the summons to be prima facie proof of service. In all other Cases the Court shall hold such enquiry as it thinks fit and either declare the summons to have been duly served or order such further service as may in its opinion be necessary.”

Scope of the Rule.

—Service through registered post under Bom. H. C. Rules. see 16 Bom. L. R. 204.

—Service on defendant residing in another district by a peon from the court of the Collector of the District in which the suit is brought, instead of through the Collector of the District in which the defendant resides is not such an irregularity as vitiates the whole proceedings. A I R 1925 R 325 = 3 R 239 = 89 I C 870.

Court shall hold such enquiry as it thinks fit and either declare the summons to have been duly served or order such further service as may in its opinion be necessary.”

—Rangoon:—The following proviso shall be added namely:—

—“Provided that where such summons is to be served within the limits of the town of Rangoon, the Court may in addition to or in substitution of any other mode of service send the summons by registered post to the defendant at the place within such limits where he is residing on carrying on business. An acknowledgment purporting to be signed by the defendant, or an endorsement by a postal servant that the defendant refused service may be deemed by the Court issuing the summons to be prima facie proof of service thereof.”

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 5 r. 23

—When a summons is sent for service to be effected to a court having jurisdiction in the place where the defendant resides, by another court it is for the court to which such summons is sent for service to determine whether the service is sufficient or not. 33 A 649 = 8 A I J 715 = 11 I C 39. dissenting from 22 C 889.

—Certificate as to whether service was sufficient or not, signed by the munsurim and not by the presiding officer of the Court, is neither legal nor of value. A I R 1924 Omdh 337 = 10 O L J 337 = 74 I C 792.

Local Amendments.

—Rangoon:—The following shall be Order 5, Rule 23-A:—

—“23-A-- (1) Before retransmitting a summons received from another Court for service, the Court shall either takedown the deposition of the peon serving the summons as to the time when, and the manner in which the summons was served; or cause the peon to make an affidavit before the bailiff if the bailiff has been empowered to administer oaths; and shall transmit the same, together with the summons, to the court whence the summons originally is issued. In the case of processes received from other provinces the deposition or affidavit of the peon serving the summons, if not recorded in English shall be translated into English, before the summons is returned to the issuing Court.

—(2) In the case of processes received from India, if the person on whom the summons is to be served is not personally known to the process-server an affidavit or deposition by the person who pointed out to the

- (6) Practice

(1) Scope of the Rule.

—This rule and practically the whole Order VI has been imported bodily from the English order (see O. 19, r. 4 of the Rules of supreme Court) and it is no doubt intended to introduce so far as is possible the present system of English pleading. This system involves the following principles:—(1) Pleadings must state material facts only; (2) They must state those facts in a concise form; (3) They must not state the evidence by which those facts are to be proved; (4) They must not state propositions of law

(1-a) Alternative and Inconsistent Claims

—A party can advance alternative claims but he cannot be allowed to make out a new case not set up in his pleading 15 P. L. R. 1920 = 2 Lah. L. J. 56 = 54 I. C. 43 = 4 P. W. R. 1920 = 2 U. P. L. R. (1) 17.

—And the alternative pleas should not be destructive of each other. A I R 1931 Nag 57 = 26 N L R 367 = Ind. Rul (1931) Nag 44 = 130 I C 108.

—Right to discharge rain water can be claimed on the ground of existence of an easement and alternatively on that of natural right 10 Bur. L. T. 38 = 35 I. C. 394.

—A claim of ownership and right of easement can only be advanced in the alternative. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 369=69 I. C. 183.

—It is open to base claim on promissory notes and alternatively, on the original debt. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 424 = 128 I. C. 43.

—Allegation of existing rental at a certain rate may be made with an alternative prayer for fair and equitable rent if not existing rental is found. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 485=123 I. C. 615.

—plaintiff always entitled to claim an alternative relief, unless it offends against some express provisions of the law. Claim for a declaration of possession as owner of the land and, in the alternative, if the Court found no possession, a decree for possession of the lands, is legal and proper. A. I. —Suit for rent and for alternative claim for money-decree against plaintiff's co-sharers is maintainable. 40 I. C. 173

—Either party to a litigation may include in his pleading two or more inconsistent sets of material fact and claim relief thereunder in the alternative. 24 C. W. N. 145 = 30 C. L. J. 428 = 54 I. C. 700.

—Assertion of non-performance of marriage ceremony also includes denial of the validity of marriage. 64 I. C. 150.

—Prayer for alternative relief does not imply waiver of original reliefs. 216 P. L. R. 1914 = 111 P. W. R. 1914 = 25 I. C. 856 = 4 P. R. 1915.

—Inconsistent pleas of denial of execution of and want of consideration for promissory note may be allowed to be raised. 5 L. B. R. 251 = 9 Ind. Cas. 467.

—Where right of way is based on ownership in the alternative user and defendants claim ownership but evidence not proving it, it was held that relief on the ground of user can be given. A I R 1922 Bom 199 = 46 B 200 = 23 Bom L R 1009 = 64 I C 517.

—Alternative claims on the ground of ownership and prescriptive right are entertainable. 20 O. C. 192 = 41 I C 903 = 40 L J 499.

—Pleadings, judgments and decrees in this country must always be liberally construed. A I R 1924 Lah. 342 = 72 I C 477.

—In a suit to recover the price of goods sold and delivered to the debt, the plff. set up an adjustment of account in his plaint. The Lower Courts found the claim to be true but dismissed the suit on the ground that plff. had failed to prove the adjustment of account on which suit was based: Held that the dismissal was wrong, as in spite of the adjustment set up in the plaint, what the plff. sued for was the price of the goods that were supplied to the debts. 41 I C 421.

—Court may find that the case of a party lies somewhere between the cases of both parties. A I R 1926 Nag. 48 = 89 I C 991.

—Adverse inference not to be drawn from mere omission in pleadings. A I R 1930 P 455 = 11 P L T 403 = 127 I C 817.

—The practice of dismissing a suit on the pleadings alone is highly to be deprecated, and ought not to be restored to except in absolutely clear cases. 29 M L J 786 = 31 I C 704.

—Suits must be decided with reference to the pleadings of the parties, and unless the Court is specially asked to determine a particular question, as between the parties, it is not only not bound to do so, but it would not be justified in so doing. 24 C 433.

—The strict rule that averments not traversed must be taken to be admitted, is not applicable to, in Indian Courts. 11 C W N 225 = 5 C L J 181 = 34 C 57. (9 M I A 287 F)

—The plea of "Demurrer" has not been recognised in India. A I R 1923 B. 24 = 24 Bom L R 328 = 47 B. 182 = 67 I C 326. Held, that pleadings in the mofussil ought not as a general rule, to be strictly construed. 2 S L R 59.

—The character of a suit is primarily to be ascertained by a reference to the pleadings and is not dependent upon the plff's success at the trial. 14 Bom L R 1135 = 17 I C 779.

—If an appellate Court is of opinion that the plaintiff has been prejudiced by the defective pleadings and that there has been a finding upon insufficient evidence and upon evidence which the plaintiff had no reasonable opportunity of meeting, the proper course is to remit an issue on the point. 15 Ind. —A plaintiff purposely vague is to be tied down to definite pleadings. A I R 1930 All 321 = 127 I C 524.

—Appellate Court should inquire whether a compromise set up by one of the parties is binding on the parties and if the compromise was not binding whether the plaintiff had proved his case on the merits. 15 I C 478 = 63 P L R 1912 = 142 P W R 1912.

—A Hindu mother sued for maintenance against the two widows of her son. One of the widows set up a posthumous son whose paternity was denied by the other and he was thereupon added as a party. Held, that it was unnecessary to decide this question of paternity and that the proper decree to pass was one directing the amount allowed as maintenance to be payable by any one or more of the defendants who was in possession of the estate, out of and in proportion to, the part thereof in his or her possession. 18 A L J 828 = 60 I C 99.

—Admission to be taken in whole and not be dissected in part. 28 M L J 589 (P C) = 29 I C 223.

—Where in a suit on a mortgage a deft. pleaded that the deed was never executed by him, that if it was signed by him, he was a minor and subject to undue influence. Held, that on the pleadings it must be taken that the deft. did positively deny the execution of the deed. 10 L J 366 = 25 I C 648.

(1) Scope of the rule.

—Where burden of proof as regards an allegation rests upon plaintiff, defendant cannot be compelled to disprove it. A I R 1921 Sind 106 = 17 S L R 9 = 80 I C 958.

—Where the relief claimed is to have a decree of a Court set aside on certain grounds alleged, it is absolutely necessary that the grounds relied on should be set out clearly and definitely. A I R 1928 Mad 945 = 108 I C 639.

(2-3) Breach of trust.

—In actions based on general allegations of fraud or breach of trust, specific particulars constituting the fraud or breach of trust must be given. Mere general allegation is insufficient. A I R 1930 Mad 78-57 M L J 609-30 L W 914=Ind Rul (1930) Mad 431=123 I C 15.

(4) Collusion.

—In collusion cases, the plaint should set out the circumstances of the collusion with clearness and accuracy, to enable his adversary to know the case and state the particular acts of negligence that caused the collusion. 25 C W N 519 = 34 C L J 178 = 66 I C 745.

—Burden of proof as regards allegations of fraud and collusion lies on those who assert them, which must be proved from established facts or from inference legitimately drawn from them as a whole. A I R 1923 P C 73 = 45 M L J 363 = 33 M L T 325 = 28 C W N 327=39 C L J 165 (P C) = 73 I C 391.

(5) Confession and avoidance.

—Defendant pleading confession and avoidance must completely admit the basis of plaintiff's claim and avoid the effect of that admission by pleading performance, fraud, release, limitation or otherwise. 54 I C 131.

(6) Contract.

—In a suit for money advanced, if defendant pleads illegality of contract, he must so clearly plead and give particulars and prove illegality. A I R 1925 Rang 275 = 3 R 275 = 92 I C 270.

—That he was ready to perform his part of the contract, is not necessary for the plaintiff to allege, in a suit for damages by purchaser for breach of contract unless defendants put him to its proof. A I R 1930 Lah 553 = 31 P L R 110 = Ind Rul (-1930) Lah 259=121 I C 723.

(7-8) Customs

—In an action based on custom, custom should be specifically pleaded and all the essential requisites to its validity must be proved. 34 C L J 319 (F B) = 66 I C 640.

—Custom, an issue and allegation in plaint—Should contain particulars—Distinctness and certainty of custom in pleadings, not necessarily final. 1915 M W N 968 = 2 L W 1214 = 19 M L T 296 = 30 M L J 451 = 31 I C 833.

—A custom different from one set up by party should not ordinarily be allowed to be proved. In a case it is not permissible to split up the custom set up by a party. It must be taken as a whole and not piece-meal. A I R 1929 Oudh 204 = Ind Rul (1929) Oudh 113 = 114 I C 113.

(9) Estoppel.

—Where there are allegations in the written statement which are such that the plea of estoppel might have been raised, it is always proper though not absolutely essential that the plea should be definitely raised and issue framed thereon. A I R 1926 Mad 1052 = 96 I C 915.

(10) Fraud and Coercion.

—In pleadings, plea of fraud should be clearly put. A I R 1921 Mad 759 = 54 M L J 644 = 28 L W 367 = 110 I C 763 see also A I R 1921 Pat 48.

—General allegation of fraud without particulars does not amount even to averment of fraud. A I R 1928 Pat 112 = 9 P L T 476=104 I C 821.

—Plaintiff seeking the benefit of s. 18, Limitation Act, must clearly allege the particular fraud and in detail by which he was kept in dark about his right to sue. A I R 1927 All 437 = 101 I C 322.

—Where a decree is sought to be set aside on ground of fraud, such plea must be clear, definite and specific. A I R 1923 All 566 = 21 A L J 488 = L R 4 A 481 Civ = 74 I C 964.

(10) Fraud and Coercion--(Contd.)

—Party relying on fraud must state in his pleading particulars thereof of general allegations however strong are insufficient. 58 I C 317.

—Allegations of fraud have to be particularised in the plaint and unless this is done the question of fraud will not be inquired into. 23 C W N 1045 = 31 C L J 3 = 54 I C 197.

—General allegations of fraud undue influence, misrepresentation are not enough, particulars must be given. 39 Bom 441 (P C).

—Where fraud is alleged, particulars must be stated. 20 C W N 638 = 35 I C 284.

—A plea of fraud will not be heard unless it is specifically averred in the pleadings. 30 I C 20 = 8 Bur. L T 269 = 8 L R 185.

—Where fraud and coercion are alleged, detailed particulars must be given in the pleadings and the parties should be strictly confined to the particulars so given. 39 Bom 149 = 17 Bom L R 157 = 28 I C 921.

—A plea of fraud should always be made in the clearest and most definite way. 41 Cal 148 = 20 I C 679.

—Fraud—Acts constituting fraud to be specifically alleged in pleadings. 8 S L R 3.

—Where a suit is brought to set aside a decree on the ground that it was obtained by fraud, the plaintiff must clearly and specifically set out the fraud. Fraud or forgery should be specifically proved. A I R 1926 P C 109 = 1926 M W N 812 = 25 A L J 20 = 38 M L T 3 = 31 C W N 538 = 3 O W N 731 = 97 I C 543 (P C).

—A party who relies upon fraud must both plead and prove it. He is bound to give particulars of the alleged fraud and can succeed upon proof of the fraud as alleged and not of any other kind of fraud. 4 Bur L T 118 = 10 I C 922.

—In a defence by defendants, points as to fraud or forgery should be specifically pleaded in written statement. If not defences should not easily be accepted. A I R 1926 P C 109 = (1926) M W N 812 = 31 C W N 538 = 25 A L J 20 = 38 M L T 3 (P C) = 97 I C 543.

—Allegation of forgery may be inferred from the allegation that the document was not executed but that it was executed by fraud cannot be inferred therefrom. A I R 1929 Cal 77 = 111 I C 746.

—If one kind of fraud is not proved, another kind of fraud cannot be set up as a basis of the case. A I R 1929 Bom 1 = 53 B 75 = 30 Bom L R 1539 = 113 I C 229.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 4 (Contd.)

(10) Fraud and Coercion--(Contd.)

—General allegations of fraud however strong are insufficient, particulars must be given, party alleging one kind of fraud cannot set up another kind of fraud in the course of the trial. 20 C W N 819 = 35 I C 339.

—In the case of an action based on fraud or undue influence particulars as regards the fraud or undue influence must be given. If one kind of fraud is not proved, another cannot be set up. A I R 1928 Oudh 330 = 5 O W N 435 = 110 I C 91.

—When fraud of one kind is alleged, relief on another ground cannot be allowed. Undue influence is a fraud of gravest nature and where such fraud is alleged and proved to be a part of a scheme, conceived early whether proved or not, it is immaterial for the purposes of establishing fraud and obtaining a relief thereon. A I R 1922 Cal 202 = 34 C L J 529 = 26 C W N 177 = 68 I C 577.

—A charge of fraud must be substantially proved as laid, so that when one kind of fraud is charged, another kind of fraud cannot, upon failure of proof, be substituted for it. 30 C L J 475 = 55 I C 689 = 24 C W N 662.

—Court is not entitled to go into the question of fraud if no such issue is raised. A I R 1927 Mad 538 = 50 M 357 = 38 M L T 197 = 101 I C 399. But see 46 I C 676 Nag.

—In a general allegation of fraud a party cannot afterwards be allowed to say that he was taken by surprise, if he fails to ask for particulars of fraud at the proper trial. A I R 1930 Cal 621 = 34 C W N 805 = Ind. Rul. (1931) Cal 177 = 129 I C 401.

—Plea of fraud omitted to be set up in pleadings may be raised by the party when he becomes aware of it. 36 I C 746 = 3 O L J 501 = 19 O C 334.

—Where the cause of action is one ex contractu, the plaintiff cannot by alleging fraud, base it on fraud. A I R 1929 B 119 = 53 Bom 271 = 31 Bom L R 21 = 117 I C 417.

—Where fraud is pleaded very vaguely by the defendant it is for the Pleader of plaintiff to get delivered particulars of it, if he fails it is for the Court to get the deficiency supplied. Court's duty is to see that the case is so framed as to let each side know fully the nature of the one against it. When particulars are ordered to be delivered defaulting party should be ordered to pay costs, occasioned by the application. If the plaintiff is the defaulter, he should have his action staged. In case of defendant, his defence should be struck out. Judge should allow evidence only on particulars. A I R 1924 All 17 = 21 A L J 571 = L R 4 A 464 = 45 A 624 = 74 I C 466.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 4 (Contd.)

(11) Gift.

—A party relying upon an oral gift, to prove with utmost precision the words on which he relies with other circumstances of time and place. A I R 1929 Oudh 134 = 6 O W N 51 = 117 I C 456.

(12) Misconduct.

—Although it is perfectly true in one sense that a legal adviser must accept statements of fact from his client, yet in application for transfer, statements imputing prejudice or unfairness or corruption to Magistrates should not be made unless an application for transfer drafted by mukhtar contained a statement which would have been considered as a statement that there was such a relationship between the Magistrate and the person who was mentioned as having visited him, as to make it undesirable that the Magistrate should sit and try a case in which the interests of that person were adversely affected. The statement was found to be totally unfounded and untrue: Held, that the mukhtar was guilty of professional misconduct. A I R 1929 Pat 151 = 8 Pat 575 = 10 P L T 711 = Ind Rul (1929) Pat 330 (F. R.) = 116 I C 762.

(13) Misrepresentation.

—Pleas of misrepresentation and fraud must be examined with the utmost rigour. A I R 1923 Sind 25 = 82 I C 81.

—Particulars of misrepresentation and fraud must be given at the instance of the auction-purchaser in an action to resist auction-purchaser's title under s. 65. A I R 1926 Bom 33 = 27 Bom L R 1318 = 91 I C 426.

(14) Negligence.

—In an auction based on negligence, all particulars which constitute negligence must be specifically stated in pleading. A I R 1922 Pat 17 = 3 P L T 222 = 67 I C 664.

—General allegations of fraud and negligence are insufficient, particulars must be given. 29 I C 482.

(15) Undue influence.

—Where fraud or undue influence is alleged, detailed particulars must be given in the pleadings, and parties must be strictly confined to that state of facts. Where one kind of fraud or undue influence is charged, another kind of fraud or undue influence cannot, upon failure of proof, be substituted for it. A I R 1928 Oudh 330 = 5 O W N 435 = 110 I C 91. Also 24 Cr. L J 35 = 37 I C 707, Also 14 A L J 25 = 38 A 126 = 33 I C 913.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 4 (Concl'd).

(15) Undue influence—(Concl'd)

—Plea of undue influence cannot be entertained unless particulars thereof are given. 47 I C 11.

—The rule only requires that the particulars which would amount to misrepresentation or undue influence should be stated. Where there are facts to justify an inference of undue influence, the omission to make an allegation of undue influence specifically is not fatal to the plaintiff's case. A I R 1931 Nag. 63 = 27 N L R 19 = Ind Rul (1931) Nag 100 = 132 I C 452.

(1) Scope of the rule.

—This rule corresponds with English O. 19, r. 7 of R. S. C. When an order is really one under O. 6, R. 5, but purporting to be made under O. 11, r. 21, it should be treated as one made under O. 6, R. 5. 137 I C 842 = 1932 M W N 301 = I R 1932 M 460 = A I R 1932 M 316 (318) = A L R 1932 M 414.

—When both a plaint and written statement are defective, the proper course is to either return the plaint for amendment and require a fresh written statement in reply to the amended plaint, or to examine the parties in Court with a view to frame proper issues. 4 Bur. L T 118 = 10 I C 922.

(2) Failure of supply particulars ordered.

—Where the particulars ordered are not supplied by defendant in time Court can strike out his defence even where the penalty is not specified in Court's order. So where the original Court strikes out defence on failure of defendant to supply in time particulars ordered and on submitting inaccurate and incomplete particulars after long time, the discretion is not improper and should not be interfered with in appeal. A I R 1930 Mad 473 = 31 L W 387 = 59 M L J 22 = 53 M 645 = Ind Rul (1930) Mad 901 = 126 I C 629.

—Suit under Bengal Tenancy Act (1885)—Plaint not giving particulars in s. 148, Bengal Tenancy Act—Defendant should ask for them, but if cause of action given suit should not be dismissed—Amendment of plaint should be allowed. A I R 1931 Pat 135 = 11 P L T 617 = Ind Rul (1931) Pat. 49 = 128 I C 785.

(3) When application should be made.

—Where averments in a plaint are not precise, defendant should apply for particulars, failure to do so disentitles him to refer to the matter in second appeal. (1919) Pat 451 = 52 I C 964 = 1 Pat L T 34.

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. 6, r. 5 ( Concl'd )*( 3 ) When application should be made—( Concl'd )

—Flaw in title appearing from pleadings of person bound to prove it—Objection may be raised on such disclosure. A I R 1929 P C 303.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 6

—This rule corresponds with the English O. 19, r. 14 of R. S. C. Condition precedent and its non-performance must be specified by defendant in pleading otherwise performance will be presumed. Plaintiff need not plead it. Pleadings if silent imply allegation of performance. A I R 1924 Pat 205 = 72 I C 1.

—In a suit for damages for breach of contract averment of the willingness of the plaintiffs to perform their part of the contract, must be implied and the defendants if they contest that fact must raise the matter expressly in their pleadings. A I R 1926 Lah 318 = 7 Lah 442 = 94 I C 304.

—So also the plff. relying on a rule of prohibition of adoption should raise it in plaint. A I R 1927 P 145 = 6 Pat 506 = 8 P L T 34 = 106 I C 620.

—Where in a suit for injunction, the plff. set up his title as owner of a piece of land, but failed to establish ownership, and it appeared that he was only a non proprietor in the village and was in possession of a portion of the land as tenant of the defts. on payment of the customary rate. Held, that having failed to establish title set up by him, his suit must be dismissed. 75 P L R 1916 = 36 I C 55.

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. 6, r. 7.

—This rule corresponds with the English O. 19, r. 16 of R S C. See also Ss. 33-100 and O. 3, rr. 8 and 9 and O. 41, r. 2 C P C.

( 1 ) Scope of the rule.

—(a) General—A plea raised for the first time in the Appellate Court cannot be considered by it. 8 M L T 247 = 8 Ind Cas 354. see also 25 W R 11; and 11 W R 485; and 224 P L R 1913 = 133 P W R 1913 = 19 I C 770.

—Plea of special period of limitation, not raised in written statement, nor considered by first Court cannot be allowed in appeal. 28 C L J 216.

—Objection involving question of fact and not raised in Lower Court cannot be urged in appeal. A I R 1924 Cal 372 = 69 I C 1003.

—Party cannot raise a new plea in appeal, where it depends on evidence. 28 B L R 513 = 95 I C 73. see also 20 A L J 92 = 64 I C 952 = A I R 1922 A 346.

—Point not raised in the pleading nor in the appeal not to be considered in second appeal. 41 B R 371.

—Plea of equitable acquiescence cannot be taken for the first time in second appeal. A W N 1905, 90 = 27 A 556.

—New plea as to the validity of notice cannot, as of right, be raised. A I R 1924 Mad 904 = 20 M L W 433 = 1924 M W N 830 = 82 I C 956.

—Claim of title by adverse possession must be raised in Court of first instance. 47 I C 892.

—But it may be raised for the first time in appeal if such a case arises on the facts stated in the plaint and the defendant is not taken by surprise. 20 C W N 778 = 36 I C 890.

(1) Scope of the rule—(Contd)

—The High Court in order to do substantial justice, may permit a plea to be advanced in second appeal, though it was not raised in plaint. A I R 1929 Pat 237 = 119 I C 556.

—Thus parties may be allowed to state their pleas whenever possible, provided no further delay is caused: 39 M L T 273 = 53 M L J 504 = 105 I C 288 = A I R 1927 M 1007.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 8

—See R. S. O. r. 20. This rule is in effect, an example of the principle laid down in O. 6, r. 2. If a party desires to avoid an agreement he must clearly state upon what ground he means to contest it, whether he denies that he ever entered into it at all or whether he was induced to do so by fraud, mistake or misrepresentation etc. See also O. 8 r. 2. So also limitation must be expressly pleaded in a suit on unconditional acknowledgment: A I R 1932 All 199 = 1932 A L J 77 = 137 I C 243 = 53 All 963.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 9

—See R. S. O. 19, r. 21. The plff. is bound to state in the plaint the nature of the deeds on which he relies in deducing his title from the person under whom he claims and to show the devolution of the estate to himself.

—It is absolutely essential that the pleading not to be embarrassing to the defts, should state those facts which will put the deft. on his guard and tell him what he will have to meet when the case comes on for trial; but the plff. need not set out the evidence whereby he proposes to prove the facts which gave him the title. 4 Q. B. D. 127, 139. foll. The parties should be held strictly to their pleadings and should not be allowed to prove at the trial any fact which is not stated in the pleadings. A plff. may in certain circumstances rely upon several different rights alternatively though they may be inconsistent. But he cannot be permitted to allege two absolutely inconsistent statements of facts, each of which is destructive of the other 15 C 684 ref. 22 C L J 254 = 31 I C 181 = 20 C W N 310.

—“14-A-Every pleading when filed shall be accompanied by a statement in a prescribed form, signed as provided in Rule 14 of this Order, of the party's address for service. Such address may from time to time be changed by lodging in Court a form duly filled up and stating the new address of the party and accompanied by a verified petition. The address so given shall be called the registered address of the party and shall, until duly changed as aforesaid be deemed to be the address of the party for the purposes of service of all processes in the suit or in any appeal from any decree or order therein made and for all purposes of execution and shall hold good subject as aforesaid for a period of two years, after the final determination of the cause or matter service of any process may be effected upon a party at his registered address in like manner in all respects as though such party resided thereat.”

- (1) Scope of the rules.
- (2) Admissions in pleadings.
- (3) Affidavit.
- (4) Mistake or omission as to signing and verification of pleadings.
- (5) Persons competent to sign and verify pleadings.

(1) Scope of the rules.

—General:—The procedure for signing is the same for Vakalats, affidavits and pleadings. A I R 1928 Mad 175 = 54 M L J 65 = (1927) M W N 885 = 27 L W 237 = 51 M 242 = 107 I C 804.

—Provision relating to signing and verification far from being a mere formality must strictly be complied with. 26 I C 240.

—Application for Letters of Administration—Grounds of objection must be in form of pleading and duly verified—Reply to objection must also be properly verified—Proceeding should then take form of suit. A I R 1924 Rang. 273 = 3 Bur L J 68 = 82 I C 973.

(2) Admissions in pleadings.

—Where a party relies on admissions by an ignorant pardanashin lady in the pleadings purporting to be signed and verified by her in manner required by O. 6 r. 14 and 15, which are subsequently disproved by evidence of her conduct during trial, strict proof must be given of her having signed the document and of the same having been read out and explained to her. In the absence of such evidence the pleadings will not be accepted as satisfactory proof that the purport and effect of such admissions were brought to her knowledge. Courts should strictly comply with the provisions of O. 13, R. 4. 14 A L J 1248 = 19 O C 192 = 38 All. 627 = 31 ML J 607 = 18 Bom. L R 1037 = 21 C W N 130 = 36 I C 104 ( P C )

( 3 ) Affidavit.

—Pleading filed on behalf of corporation—Affidavit that person signing is duly authorised in that behalf is necessary. A I R 1927 Cal 780 = 31 C W N 1030 = 105 I C 568.

—Plaint signed by agent mentioning name of another person as being able to depose to facts and verified by him—Affidavit that he is authorised to verify is necessary. A I R 1927 Cal 773 = 105 I C 564.

( 4 ) Mistake or omission as to signing and verification of pleadings.

—Where a plff fails to sign a plaint, but signs only the verification, the plaint ought to be returned for amendment or it should be amended in open court; the plaint ought not to be rejected. 165 P W R 1911 = 11 I C 842 see also 9 C W N 608.

—Defect in signing or verification is a mere irregularity not affecting jurisdiction: A I R 1931 All 507 = 1931 A L J 777 = 134 I C 26 S B. and may be waived 59 I C 282 = 1 Pat. L T 447. see also A I R 1929 M 790 = 30 L W 499; and 22 C 268.

—It is an irregularity curable under s. 99 and not justifying interference in appeal 7 N L R 33.

—Manager of Bank giving power-of-attorney to pleader Director to sue Plaintiff filed as signed by him and verified by accountant—Defect is technical and can be amended there being nothing irregular. 69 I C 422 —Plaintiff filing plaint through agent and not signing it—No power-of attorney given to agent on record and no explanation for failure to sign obtained nor objection taken—S: 99 applies. A I R 1923 Rang 206 = 1 R 42 = 74 I C 100.

—A plaint with defective verification or with no verification at all can always be amended and the defect remedied; as the defect is one of form. Even where the defect is never remedied and the application never verified, the character of the application is in no way affected. An application made under s. 73, Registration Act, may be said to be bad and refused because it was not properly verified, but the application would still be an application under s. 73. A I R 1924 Lah. 28 = 5 Lah. L J 217 = 74 I C 688 see also 133 I C 626 = A I R 1932 L 28. See also 22 A 55 F B (dissenting from 55 A W N 1899); and 20 A 445 N; and 1895 A W N 75; and 18 A 396; and Civ Cir No 5 dated 22 nd Feb. 1870; and 15 A L J 309 = 39 I C 462 = 39 A 343; and 1912 M W N 1207 = 25 M L J 174 = 17 I C 580; and 48 M L J 721 = A I R 1925 M 660; and A I R 1927 All 514 = 101 I C 698; and 19 S L R 286 = A I R 1925 S 159; and A I R 1925 All 79 = 46 A 637 = 22 A L J 690 = 87 I C 938; and 11 C W N 871.

—Amendment may be made even after the period of limitation: 69 I C 422; see also A I R 1926 Lah 82 = 89 I C 363 or at any stage of the suit. 31 I C 664 = 19 Cal W N 1159; see also 2 C L J 11.

—Non-confirmation with provisions of O. VI, r. 15 is mere irregularity curable by amendment—Verification amended—Plaint must be taken to be presented on date of first presentation and not of amendment. A I R 1927 Cal 376 = 54 C 380 = 31 C W N 397 = 101 I C 573.

—Signing plaint is matter of procedure and defect therein can be cured at any stage of litigation even in Appellate Court as it is not a defect affecting merits of case. A plaint was signed by an agent not authorized to sign plaints on objection by defendants, the plaintiff who was exempted from attendance in Court gave his agent power to sign the plaint and ratified the signature already made. Held that the agent's signature ratified by the plaintiff is sufficient verification. A I R 1928 Pat 51 = 8 P L T 820 = 104 I C 747 see also 19 C W N 1159; and 138 I C 797 = 34 Bom L R 628 = A L R 1932 B 457 = A I R 1932 B 367.

—But O. 33, r. 5 leaves the Court no option where an application for leave to sue as a pauper is defective. Where the verification of the statements in it is not in accordance with the rule for verification of pleadings as stated in O. 6, R. 15, the court is bound to reject the application. 16 I C 83 = 5 Bur. L T 123 = 6 L B R 117.

—Verification as to points of law is not necessary: 138 I C 335 = A I R 1932 L 328.

—The object of signing and verification is to testify the knowledge of the plaintiff: A I R 1925 Sind 275 = 87 I C 1002; and to fix responsibility on the party verifying 34 I C 235 = 20 Cal. W N 1192 = 43 Cal 1001; see also A I R 1931 Mad 679 = 34 Mad L W 69 = 1931 Mad W N 1016 = 133 I C 769; and see also as to importance of verification 41 Cal. 113 = 14 Cr. L J 305 = 19 I C 993.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 6, r. 14 & 15 (Contd)

(5) Mistake or omission as to signing and verification of pleadings—(Conclud)

—But the verification of a pleading is not evidence of the facts contained in the pleading, and cannot form the basis for a decree in any undefended suit : 20 C W N 1192=34 I C 235 = 43 C 1001.

—In case of Purdamashin lady it should be strictly proved that the pleadings were read out and explained to her : 36 I C 104 = 43 I A 212 = 31 Mad L J 607=14 A L J 1248 = 19 Oudh Cas 192 = 18 Bom L R 1037 = 21 Mad L T 40 = 38 All 627 = 1 Pat. —So signing and verification are not mere formalities. 26 I C 249 = 7 Bur L T 310.

(6) Persons competent to Sign and verify pleadings.

—A plaint signed by a person who is proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case :

1 Pat L T 647 = 59 I C 282.

—As also by any other authorised agent is sufficient. 31 I C 559.

—Person having instructions of real and ostensible plaintiff to sign is a duly authorised person. A I R 1925 Lah 144 = 75 I C 880.

—But plaint signed by an agent holding a special power of attorney in respect of a different matter is irregular. A I R 1930 Bom 511 = 32 Bom L R 1178 = Ind Rul (1931) Bom 65 = 128 I C 609.

—So also signature of a servant who signed and presented the plaint is not sufficient where servant is not proved to be recognised agent. A I R 1922 Bom 113 = 46 B 150 = 23 Bom L R 911 = 68 I C 217.

—Where an agent acting under a power of attorney which did not authorise him to file a suit for dissolution of the partnership, instituted such a suit, held, that the defect in the plaint and in the signature thereof contravened the provisions of O. 6, R. 14, but the defect being a formal one, the court should allow the plaint to be amended and signed by the principal. 7 Bur L T 202 = 25 I C 140.

—Jail regulations and Manuals have the force of law but they cannot override or alter the general law. A plaint signed or a suit authorised by a man in jail is just as good as any other plaint or suit, however many jail regulations are broken. The breach of Jail regulations by the prisoner, his pleader or friends cannot destroy a cause of action or invalidate a plaint and the Court should not enter into the question whether permission of jail authorities had been given or not. A person in jail who is unable to sign a plaint may authorise some other persons under O. 6, R. 14, to sign it for him and the plaint so signed will be a valid plaint. 40 All 147 = 16 A L J 64 = 44 I C 28 = 19 Cr. L J 865.

—O. VI, r. 14, C P C applies to the case of Companies as well as to the case of private persons and a plaint on behalf of a company may be signed by any person authorized by the company to sign the same. 32 P L R 655, following. 55 B 151 and 8 P R 1912.

—For provisions of O. XXIX, r. 1, are permissive and do not exclude the operation of O. VI, r. 14, in a proper case to a company. A I R 1931 Sind 178.

—O. XXIX, r. 1, applies also to a company if party to an action and it can, therefore authorise some person to sign on its behalf. O. XXIX, r. 1 being permissive and not mandatory an agent can sign for the company without express authority. A I R 1930 Bom 566 = 32 Bom L R 1305 = Ind Rul (1931) Bom 61 = 55 B 151 = 128 I C 557.

—In 100 I C 450 = A I R 1927 S 263 it was held that S. 151 of old Civil P. C. corresponding to O. VI, r. 14 new Civil P. C., does not apply to a suit on behalf of a limited company in which case the plaint must be signed and verified either by the Secretary or by a Director or other principal officer of the Company. But in this case reliance was placed on the Privy Council ruling in 20 I A 139=21 C 60. That ruling, however, when subsequently considered in A I R 1930 B 566=55 B 151. Was held to have been decided on the peculiar facts of that case. And Beaumont C J came to the conclusion in 55 B 151 that O. 6, r. 14 does in a proper case apply to a company.

—Under S. 263 of the Indian Contract Act the rights and obligations of a dissolved firm continue in all things necessary for the purpose of winding up the business of the partnership. If therefore, one of the partners of such firm signs and verifies a plaint on behalf of the firm it would be valid under the proviso to S. 51 of the Civil Procedure Code. 1882; 9 I C 450 = 4 Bur L T 10. see also 12 A L J 1020 = 25 I C 131.

—Person named as co-plaintiff is a plaintiff though he does not sign or verify plaint. A I R 1924 Pat 104 = 3 Pat 67=(1923) Pat 273 = 2 Pat L R 169=5 P L T 591=79 I C 5. see also 17 C 580.

(1) Appeal

—Order of the High Court refusing to direct certain allegations in defendant's written statement to be struck out as being unnecessary and scandalous is not a judgment. A I R 1926 Mad 64 = 49 M L J 632 = (1925-) M W N 75 = 52 L W 868 = 91 I C 566.

—Where a plaintiff sued in his private capacity to recover a certain amount from the deft. and subsequently put in an application for an amendment that a decree in the alternative may be passed in his favour as managing director of a certain Company. Held the amendment can be allowed and S. 22 of the Limitation Act has no application to the case. By the amendment the Company was not in fact added as party, but the capacity in which the plaintiff sued was sought to be altered. 16 M L T 251 = (1914) M W N 797 = 25 I C 59.

—The plaintiff in action for rescission of contract can be allowed an amendment claiming specific performance as an alternative relief, arising out of the same facts. A I R 1924 Pat 280 = 2 Pat L R 82 = 5 P L T 49 = (1923) Pat 357 = 75 I C 433.

—Cornish J.—Where defendant fails to supply particulars of his defence after being ordered by the Court to do so he runs the risk of having his defence struck out. A I R 1930 Mad 473 = 59 M L J 22 = 53 M 645 = 31 L W 387 = Ind Rul (1930) Mad 901 = 126 I C 629.

(4) "Scandalous."

—The power of the High Court to expunge remarks appearing in the judgment of a Lower Court will only be exercised in extraordinary circumstances, such as, where the observations are pointedly seditious, blasphemous, or irrelevantly scandalous, or indecent. 3 L W 283 = 33 I C 608.

—Parties should stick up to the pleadings as regards the facts to be proved at the trial; inconsistent rights claimed alternatively should be permitted except when they are destructive of each other. 22 C L J 254 = 20 C W N 310 = 31 I C 181.

—The rule that the Court is not to dictate to the parties how they should frame their case is one that ought always to be preserved sacred subject only to this limitation that the parties must not against the rules of pleadings which have been laid down by law, introduce what is unnecessary or tends to prejudice, embarrass and delay the trial of the suit. In a suit for possession the plff. denied the genuineness of the deed of wakf set up in defence and pleaded in the alternative that the deed had been obtained from her by the defts by fraud and undue influence. Held that there was nothing in the above allegation that could be regarded as likely to embarrass, delay or prejudice the trial, so as to justify the Court in taking action under O. 6, R. 16 C. P. Code. 4 O L J 230 = 40 I C 488.

—It is a question of a fact in each case whether the alternative relief claimed prejudices, embarrasses, or delays the fair trial of the case and it is no general principle that an alternative claim necessarily prejudices, embarrasses or delays the fair trial of the case. It is open to a plaintiff to claim rescission of an agreement for purchase of a property and in the alternative for specific performance of the agreement. Object of the procedural law is to prevent multiplicity of proceedings. A I R 1924 Pat 280 = 5 P L T 49 = (1923) Pat 357 = 2 Pat L R 82 = 75 I C 433.

—Contradictory pleas cannot be refused. A party should not be prevented from taking a new plea of fact though inconsistent with facts already pleaded. He does it at his own risk. A I R 1926 Nag 265 = 92 I C 926.

—Defendant can raise in written statement inconsistent defence.—Party aggrieved may move Court under r. 16 for striking out some of the inconsistent defences.—If Court is not moved under that rule at trial that party cannot contest in second appeal that trial was vitiated. A I R 1930 Mad 814 = 22 L W 61 = Ind Rul (1930) Mad 980 = 127 I C 292.

( 6 ) " Unnecessary. "

—Where a plaint is verbose, extremely long and involved, and impossible to understand and does not allege clearly any fact which would show that the Judge had jurisdiction to hear the case at all the whole document ought to be struck out, an order made for its amendment, so that on intelligible case can be presented to the Court. ( 1929 ) A L J 496 = Ind Rul ( 1929 ) All 330 = 114 I C 906 see also 8 M L T 202=7 I C 800.

—Court should not decide as to relevancy of matters on application to strike out.—The jurisdiction under O. VI, r. 16 should be exercised with care and caution—A written statement should not be struck out unless it is beyond doubt that allegations therein cannot be a defence to the action. A I R 1925 Cal 860 = 29 C W N 670 = 88 I C 435.

( 1 ) Scope of the rule.

—It is in the discretion of a Court to allow or not to allow amendment of the plaint. 19 C L J 518=25 I C 567.

—A Court is not justified in dismissing a suit for partition on the ground that it contains only a prayer for declaration of title to the properties sought to be partitioned and none for possession. The defect may be allowed to be remedied by an amendment of the plaint. 35 I C 792.

—A suit for balance of partnership amount being of a small cause nature it is the Court's duty to return plaint for presentation to proper Court on disallowing amendment. A L R 1933 N 157=29 N L R 115.

( 2 ) Appeal or revision.

—If as a result of the Court's allowing amendment of plaint, a relief barred by limitation is added it is a case of material irregularity which should be put right by revision. A I R 1931 Mad 542=33 L W 648=61 M L J 316=Ind Rul ( 1931 ) Mad 737 = 133 I C 497; see also 32 M 334.

—Amendment—Suit for partition—change into a claim under a will—No revision. 10 M L T 188=12 I C 104.

—The exercise of the power of a Court to allow pleadings and issues to be amended, under O. VI, r. 17 and O. XIV, r. 5, is discretionary; and this discretion cannot be interfered with in revision until it is shown to have been absurd or perversely exercised. 9 Ind Cas 267=51 P L R 1911.

(3-4) "At any stage of the proceedings."—(Concl'd) just. But ordinarily an application must be made for the amendment, an explanation must be offered, reasons must be given by the Court for allowing it, and, where necessary, terms must be imposed; also, the other side must be given a chance of meeting the plea. 28 N L R 320 (322).

(5) Costs.

—Where amendment of plaint is allowed and it is purely of a formal nature and does not in any way prejudice or increase deft's costs, he is entitled to no costs. 2 O L J 40= 30 I C 323.

(6) Effect of amendment.

—If a plff. is allowed to abandon a claim, the Court cannot, in allowing such abandonment, be said to be entertaining that claim. The effect of an application to amend a plaint by striking out certain claims is in substance as if the suit had never been commenced in respect of such claims. 12 Bur L T 155 = 9 L B R 275 = 51 I C 376.

—Where a suit was instituted against certain persons as members of a joint Hindu family and after the expiry of the period of limitation the plaint was amended by pleading in the alternative that the defendants were in any event liable as partners of a firm and the other members of the family were also added as parties: Held. (i) that so far as the original defendants were concerned there was no bar of limitation, (ii) that as regards the newly added defendants under s. 22 (1), Limitation Act, the suit must be deemed to have been instituted when leave under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent was freshly granted and they were again brought on the record, and the suit was time-barred. 33 Bom L R 1385.

Where, however, a party is agitating only a technical claim and the character of the suit is likely to be altered or where there is inordinate delay in asking for amendment the Court would be justified in refusing to grant an amendment. —R 17 of O 6 of the Code is in more general terms than the corresponding S. 53 of the Code of 1882. It leaves questions of amendment of pleadings to the discretion of the Court but the discretion must be exercised in accordance with settled judicial principles. The general rule is that any amendment allowed must be such as is either raised in the pleadings or is consistent with the case as originally laid; and the state of facts and the equities and grounds of relief originally alleged and pleaded by the plff. should not be departed from. ### Plaint

Synopsis.

- (1-2) Construction of plaint
- (3) Description of defendant
- (4) and (5) "Facts constituting the cause of action" and "Facts showing that the Court has jurisdiction"
- (6) Insanity or minority of party

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 1 ( Cont'd ).

- (7) Practice
- (8) Presentation of plaint
- (9) Relief which plaintiff claims
- (10) Verification of plaint.
- (11) Plaintiffs.
- (12) Defendants.
- (13) Cause of action.
- (14) Where and when it arose.
- (15) Effect of statement in plaint.
- (16) Objection as to description.
- (17) Clause. (h)
- (18) Valuation.

(1-2) Construction of plaint.

—In the case of pleadings in the muffassil Court specially the Court should look to the substance of the plaint rather than to its wording. A I R 1931 Pat 179=Ind Rul (1931) Pat 239 = 12 P L T 636 = 131 I C 529.

(3) Description of defendant.

—If the plaintiffs rely upon the defendant's residence or place of business as giving jurisdiction the facts showing this should be stated in the body of the plaint. It is not enough if this is stated in the cause title. The plaint should also contain the particulars of the loan etc. when suit is for such. If they are not available the suit should be framed as one for accounts. A I R 1931 Cal 458 = 58 Cal 418 = Ind Rul (1931) Cal 842=134 I C 538.

—As to the test to see whether the description of debt is only a misdescription see 34 B L R 1410 (1413-4) —Order under O. 7, r. 1 returning pleadings verified by representatives of a firm, for inserting the description of persons verifying in the pleadings is not warranted. A L R 1933 S 52=26 S L R 429=A I R 1933 S 102.

—Specific statement in plaint as to date on which the Cause of action arose is necessary unless it is otherwise alleged specifically 59 C 448 = 35 C W N 990 = 137 I C 353 = I R 1932 C 319 = A I R 1932 C 259.

—Date of cause of action must be specifically stated in the plaint. A paragraph stating such date is not therefore, superfluous where the date has not been alleged in the statement of facts, 35 C W N 990 dissenting from. 58 C 419.

—Order VII, r. 1 (a) and (f) requires not that a statement should be made that the plaintiff has a good cause of action or that it arose on such and such a date or that it arose wholly or partly within the jurisdiction

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 1 (Concl'd)

(4) & (5) "Facts constituting the cause of action" and "Facts showing that the Court has jurisdiction."—(Concl'd) but that particulars should be given of the facts constituting the cause of action and when it arose and the facts showing that it arose partly or wholly within the jurisdiction. A I R 1931 Cal 458=58 Cal 418=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 842=134 I C 538.

—In a suit for redemption there should be prima facie proof in support of the plaintiff's claim. When the particulars and proof of the plff's claim in respect of the mortgage are absent from the records of the suit the claim for redemption must fail. A I R 1931 Oudh 378=8 O W N 732=Ind Rul (1931) Oudh 345=132 I C 793.

—In a suit for partition, plaintiff must state in his plaint the nature of the deeds and transactions from which he deduced his title. 20 C W N 310=22 C L J 254=31 I C 181.

Local Amendments.

—Lahore :—In the second paragraph of Rule 2 of Order 7, after the word "defendant" insert or for moveables in the possession of the defendant, or for debts of which the value he cannot after the exercise of reasonable diligence, estimate" and after the word "amount" where it last occurs insert "or value."

Synopsis.

- (1) Documents with plaint
- (2) Effect of non-compliance
- (3) Suit for mesne profits or amount found due on taking unsettled accounts

(1) Documents with plaint.

—Order VII. does not allow documents which are part of evidence in suit to be annexed to the suit Particulars which are too voluminous to be included in the plaint may be annexed thereto and may be delivered separately, and these facts should be given in the plaint. A I R 1931 Cal 458=58 Cal 418=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 842=134 I C 538.

(2) Effect of non compliance

—Per Lord-Williams, J.—Every practitioner when pleading should have particular regard to the provisions of O. VII, r. 2. Either the pleadings lack in conciseness or they state immaterial facts and a mistake which is frequently made is to include in the pleading either directly or indirectly by reference to some document annexed the evidence

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 2 (Concl'd)

(2) Effect of non-compliance—(Concl'd)

nee by which material facts are to be proved. A I R 1931 Cal 458=58 Cal 418=Ind Rul (1931) Cal 842=134 I C 538.

(3) Suit for mesne profits or amount found due on taking unsettled accounts.

—O. 7, R. 2 does not prevent plaintiff from entering in plaint approximate amount of damages claimed and offering to pay more Court fees if the damages should prove heavier than anticipated. 17 M L J 625.

—Where plaintiff claims mesne profits both for period antecedent to suit and period subsequent thereto, the valuation refers to both periods. If he sues for mesne profits in respect of only one of these two periods, the valuation refers to that period only. Per Jwala Prasad, J.—Neither O. VII, r. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure nor s. 7, cl. (iv) (f) of the Court Fees Act would apply to unascertained future mesne profits A I R 1926 Pat 218 (F B)=5 Pat 361=7 P L T 313=(1926) Pat 49=93 I C 939.

—When mesne profits are claimed only from the date of institution of the suit, it is not possible to state even approximately the amount of mesne profits. A I R 1923 Rang. 110=4 U B R 140=1 Bur L J 267=77 I C 53.

—In a suit to recover past mesne profits the Plff. is bound to state approximately the amount sued for. 24 I C 232.

—In a suit for winding up a partnership and for accounts it is open to the plaintiff to value the amount at which the relief sought is estimated for the purpose of court fees. 15 Bom L R 1123=22 I C 71.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 3.

Local Amendments.

Bengal :—

—After R. 3, O. 7, add the words "and where the area is mentioned, such description shall further state the area according to the notation used in the record of settlement or survey, with or without, at the option of the party, the same area in terms of the local measures."

Synopsis.

- (1) Scope of the rule.
- (2) Description of property
- (3) Omission or misdescription of property

(1) Scope of the rule.

—Provision in r. 3 as to description of property, is inapplicable to a suit which is for administration and not for possession of immoveable property. 138 I C 335=A I R 1932 L 328 (330)=1 R 1932 L 460.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 3 (Concl'd)

(2) Description of property.

—Where boundaries of property as given in plaint are not correct the property within those boundaries cannot pass. A I R 1929 Pat 49 = 108 I C 814.

(3) Omission or misdescription of property.

—Misdescription of plot as to number is not absolutely fatal even though the plaint was not amended by stating the correct plot. 17 C L J 118 = 18 I C 745.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 4

—Character in which the plaintiff sued or defendant is sued need not necessarily appear in the cause title. It is sufficient if it appears in the body of the plaint. A I R 1928 Nag. 319 = 109 I C 785.

—R. 4 of O. 7 of the Code does not require that the plff suing in a representative capacity should state so in the cause title of the plaint. 19 C W N 1193 = 28 I C 818.

—The plaint must contain a statement that the suit is brought in a representative character whenever it is so. A I R 1925 Nag 183 = 82 I C 201.

—Character in which the plaintiff sued or defendant is sued need not necessarily appear in the cause of title. A suit by or against a shebait, the idol is not a necessary party. 46 Clc. 877 = 50 I C 525.

—Suit by stray individuals without properly representing community—No jurisdiction to adjudicate on public right. 42 I C 543.

—In a suit by the manager of an undivided family on a promissory note passed in his name by the defendant the other members are not necessary parties and the suit is not bad for non-joinder. A I R 1922 Bom 281 = 46 B 358 = 23 Bom. L R 1135 = 64 I C 966.

—So long as the compliance with s.187 of the Succession Act is prior to decree, the fact that it is after the institution of the suit makes no difference and the Court is fully competent to deal with the suit. A I R 1923 Cal 1 = 50 C 49 = 36 C L J 35 = 74 I C 630.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 5

—Verification does not amount to evidence of facts contained in pleading so as to justify decree thereon without taking evidence. 20 C W N 1192.

—Where goods consigned to a station in one Ry. were entrusted to another Ry. and there was a shortage of goods, and a suit was brought by the consignor against one of the Railways for compensation on the plea that, that Ry. Co after delivering the goods accepted liability in a correspondence with him Held, that there was sufficient interest in the Ry. Co to sustain a suit against it and there was a good cause of action also. 12 A L J 339 = 25 I C 77.

—A plaint which does not show the cause of action is a defective plaint. The Court is in such a case bound to call upon the plaintiff to disclose his cause of action correctly against each defendant. A I R 1924 Nag 191 = 79 I C 614.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7 r. 6

Synopsis.

- (1) Scope of the rule.
- (2) Grounds of exemption from limitation law.

(1) Scope of the rule

—Where a suit on the face of the plaint is time barred. O. 7 R 6 C P has no application. 25 I C 463 = 70 P R 1914 = 260 P L R 1914 = 195 P W R 1914

—But O 7 R 6 of the C P Code applies to cases in which the suit as laid in the plaint is prima facie barred by limitation. 1 Lah 21 = 51 I C 956.

—Provisions of this rule should be liberally construed 102 P R 1918 = 46 I C 495.

(2) Grounds of exemption from limitation law.

—(a) General :—A plaintiff cannot take advantage of any ground of exemption from limitation which he has not pleaded in his plaint. 31 C 195 = 8 C W N 168.

—Ground of exemption from limitation not stated in plaint cannot be allowed. 83 P R 1914 = 232 P L R 1915 = 26 I C 441.

—In case of a claim affected by limitation the plaint must take a ground for limitation. 24 I C 232.

—Objections based on plaintiff's failure to set out the ground of exemption from limitation in the plaint must be taken in the trial Court. Otherwise the High Court will not permit them to be raised before it in revision. 4 L W 148 = 36 I C 593. (1)

—Special plea of limitation ought to be taken in the written statement though a plea of limitation can be raised at any stage of suit even in appeal. A I R 1924 Cal 463 = 69 I C 194.

—A suit returned to be presented to the proper Court. When so presented it was beyond time. On the plaint no statement, as required under r. 6, was made. The omission was not fatal to the suit, because circumstances entitling plaintiff to claim benefit of s. 14 of Limitation Act appeared on face of record, being endorsed therein by the Court. A I R 1923 Lah 591 = 82 I C 866.

(2) Grounds of exemption from limitation law—(Contd)

—Omission to show ground of exemption in a suit filed on the day the Court reopened after the summer vacation would not entail the dismissal of the suit even if the period of limitation for the suit had expired during the vacation. 56 I C 926.

—(b) Minority:—Where suit would be barred but for the alleged minority of plaintiffs onus is on plaintiffs to prove that suit is within time. I R 1928 Lah 763; 10 Lah L J 309 30 P L R 105 = 109 I C 331.

—(c) Acknowledgment:—An acknowledgment of liability sufficient under s. 19 of the Limitation Act to give a fresh start to limitation from the date thereof should be pleaded specifically. A I R 1924 Pat 806 = 5 P L T 551 = 78 I C 919.

—Acknowledgment saving suit from bar of limitation—Proof of its having been made within limitation period—Onus of. See 1932 A L J 279.

—Where in a suit prima facie barred by limitation, plaintiff fails in his plaint to set up a plea of exemption, he cannot be allowed in course of trial to use any document as being an acknowledgment saving limitation. 25 M L T 295 = (1919) M W N 429 = 9 L W 82 = 52 I C 243.

—Plaintiff failing in his plaint to set up acknowledgment as saving limitation. He cannot be allowed to raise it an acknowledgment. A I R 1922 Lah 39 = 4 Lah L J 190 = 3 Lah 233 = 69 I C 419.

—Though an acknowledgment is not pleaded in plaint—Yet it can be set up in reply to defence of the defendant. A I R 1922 Oudh 135 = 25 O C 82 = 17 O L J 7 = 68 I C 196.

—Plaintiff can show in reply to the defence set up that his claim was within time by reason of the acknowledgments of the defendants. A I R 1922 Oudh 135 = 25 O C 89 = 68 I C 196.

—(d) New or inconsistent ground of exemption:—Where in a suit on pro-note after the expiry of period of limitation, ground of exemption is stated in the plaint, plaintiff is not entitled to set up a different or another ground of exemption during trial except by way of amendment of the plaint. A L R 1933 M 230.

—The plaintiff, having mentioned one ground of exemption in the plaint is not debarred from taking another and inconsistent ground to get over the bar of limitation. But

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 6 (Contd)

(2) Grounds of exemption from limitation law—(Contd)

where no ground of exemption from the Law of Limitation is stated in the plaint, acknowledgment as a ground of exemption cannot be allowed to be set up in appeal. A I R 1922 Lah 39 = 3 Lah 233 = 4 Lah L J 190 = 69 I C 419.

—Where plaint shows how plaintiff's claim is within limitation, plaintiff ought not to be debarred from taking another and even an inconsistent ground to get over the bar of limitation. A I R 1921 Nag 1 = 17 N L R 209 = 65 I C 279.

—Rule 6 should be construed liberally and reasonably. Where exemption from limitation is not stated in the plaint the Court should allow the inclusion of that ground. Where the point is expressed in the plaint r. 6 is satisfied but in such a case plaintiff may try to get over the bar of limitation by putting forth another ground if he believes the latter to be true. 3 Lah L J 22 = 60 I C 772.

—Where the plaintiff mentions one ground of exemption in the plaint there is no bar to take another and an inconsistent ground to avoid limitation and the acknowledgment made in the written statement in a previous case can be relied on. A I R 1922 Lah 230 = 2 Lah 13 = 3 Lah L J 22 = 63 P L R 1921 = 60 I C 772.

—Where the plaint is rejected by trial Court for want of Court-fee and the Appellate Court reverses the order, it may yet reject the plaint on another ground. A I R 1923 Nag 30 = 69 I C 521.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 7

Synopsis.

- (1) Alternative relief.
- (2) General or other relief.
- (3) Relief not founded on pleadings.

(1) Alternative relief

—The discretion under O. VII, r. 7 and O XLI, r 33, covers the granting of a declaratory decree in a suit for possession where alternate relief is claimed therein. A I R 1923 Lah 422 = 85 I C 95.

—Suit for sp. performance dismissed—Decree for refund of earnest money competent to give. See 17 C W N 100 = 15 I C 268.

(2) General or other relief.

—The meaning is clear. If the facts stated in the plaint entitle the plaintiff to a particular relief he is entitled to be given it even though he may not have asked for it specifically provided the Court thinks it just to do so, (Bose A J C) (1932). A I R 1932 N 23 (26) = 27 N L R 327 = 137 I C 33 = I R 1932 N 53 = A L R 1932 N 70.

—A Court can grant general or other relief to the same extent as if it had been asked for. A I R 1930 Pat 71 = 10 P L T 630 = Ind Rul (1930) Pat 4 = 120 I C 292.

—General of specific relief not prayed for —Court may grant such relief if facts in plaint cover it. A I R 1923 Pat 386 = 1923 P H C C 153 = 5 P L T 330 = 76 I C 940.

—A prayer for general relief is unnecessary. All that is necessary is that the necessary foundation of facts must be laid in the plaint. A I R 1923 Pat 386 = (1923) Pat 153 = 5 P L T 330 = 76 I C 940.

—Where the plaint sets out facts in issue that are material, the plaintiff is entitled to relief which those facts will sustain under the general prayer but he cannot desert specific relief prayed and under the general prayer ask specific relief of another description unless the facts and circumstances mentioned in the plaint will consistently with the rules of the Court, maintain that relief. A I R 1924 Lah 324 = 69 I C 501. See also 43 C 743 = 22 C L J 419 = 20 C W N 446 = 32 I C 437.

—The general or 'other relief' which can always be given by the Court should not be inconsistent with the relief claimed in the plaint. The granting of interest not specifically asked for in a suit for money, cannot be regarded as an inconsistent relief and therefore a Court has discretion to award interest subsequent to the institution of the suit. A I R 1921 Lah 125 = 2 Lah 256 = 107 P L R 1921 = 64 I C 896.

—Court has power to grant reliefs not prayed for in the plaint provided there are material allegations in the plaint on which such reliefs can be based. A I R 1921 Pat 14 = 6 Pat L J 190 = 2 P L T 325 = (1921) Pat 235 = 60 I C 980.

—Declaration of right can be given though not specifically asked for. 22 C L J 419 = 43 Cal. 743 = 20 C W N 446 = 32 I C 437.

—Prayer for possession, whether includes prayer for sale in a suit by a simple mortgagee. 25 I C 1.

—Prayer for general covers only relief out of the same cause of action and not out of a different cause of action. See 13 I C 650.

—On a prayer by plaintiff for such general relief as the Court might grant if prayer for possession is refused, the Court can grant the plaintiff a declaration of his title though he fails to obtain the specific relief prayed for. 4 Lah L J 393.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 7 (Contd)*(3) Relief not founded on pleadings —Where in a suit for possession the plaintiff omits to state his claim for mesne profits, the Court's order appointing receiver to safeguard the mesne profits is not justified. A L R 1933 S. 378.

—Where in suit by non-proprietor for declaring him owner of site, ownership was not proved the Court could not grant a decree in the absence of a prayer that he was the proprietor and that he could build a house on it and could not be ousted from it. A I R 1929 Lah 126 = 10 Lah L J 513 = 112 I C 485.

—Relief not claimed in plaint cannot be granted. 2 Pat L J 6:8 = 43 I C 463.

—Relief in excess of pleading should not be granted. 2 Pat L J 698.

—The rule that the Court will grant only such relief as the plff. is entitled to upon the case made by his pleadings is strictly enforced when the plff. relies on fraud. 20 C W N 638 = 35 I C 284.

—Specific performance—denial of decree for alternative relief of return of deposit:— 17 C W N 111.

—But where facts pleaded and found proved show that the plaintiff is entitled to a particular relief the Court can grant him such relief though it has not been specifically pleaded. A I R 1930 Nag 92 = 26 N L R 94 = Ind Rul (1930) Nag 17 = 120 I C 321.

—In a suit for possession of certain property the lower Court found that the property was held by a Hindu widow and transferred by her to the defendants without legal necessity. The Court could under O. VII, r. 7, grant a declaration that the transfer was void beyond the life time of the widow, though declaratory relief was not specifically asked for. A I R 1929 All 555 = Ind Rul (1929) All 861 = 118 I C 381.

—Court can give the plaintiff a decree for less than he had demanded if the Court finds him entitled to less relief. A I R 1923 Sind 5 = (F. B.) 16 S L R 112 = 71 I C 161.

—Claim for possession by partition, but property found impartible. A decree for joint possession should be given and the suit must not be dismissed although plaintiff may not have expressly asked for a declaratory decree. A I R 1921 All 106 = 43 A 318 = 19 A L J 61 = 60 I C 878.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 10 (Cont'd)

(1) Scope of the rule—(Cont'd)

—O. VII r. 10 does not apply to order returning plaint under S. 27 of the Pro. Sm. C. C. Act. 18 C W N 380.

—Provisions of O. 7 r. 10 are mandatory—the Court must return the plaint even though plaintiff may not have asked for the same. 10 L W 525=53 I C 308=1920 M W N 163.

—O. 7, R. 10 C. P. Code empowers a Court to return a plaint for presentation as an application in the Court having jurisdiction to accept it as an application. 6 O L J 640 = 54 I C 364.

—O. 7 r. 10 being applicable only to suit which as originally framed was wrongly instituted, does not apply when it is found on evidence or admissions of parties that the relief to which plaintiff is really entitled is different from the one claimed in the suit. In the latter case the Court cannot decline jurisdiction but must proceed with the case to its finish after amendment of pleadings or otherwise. A L R 1933 S 274.

—The rule applies only when it is found that the suit as originally framed was wrongly instituted. 135 I C 257 = I R 1932 S 17 = A I R 1932 S 67 (68-9) = A L R 1932 S 293.

—O. VII R. 10 applies where suit as ordinarily framed is wrongly instituted in that Court but does not apply when it is found at the trial whether as the result of admissions made by the parties or evidence led by them, that the relief which the plaintiff is really entitled to is different from that claimed in the suit and that that relief is not cognizable by that Court. In the latter case the Court cannot decline jurisdiction but should proceed with the trial or pass such decree as the circumstances permit. It may in certain fit cases grant permission for the withdrawal of the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. A I R 1930 Sind 252 = 25 S L R 63 = 130 I C 554.

—Where a Court originally had jurisdiction to try the suit but discovers at the time of passing a decree that it is incompetent to pass the decree because of the pecuniary valuation O. VII, r. 10 does not apply. A I R 1928 Lah 484 = 110 I C 293.

—The rule applies when the suit as originally framed was wrongly instituted. The abandonment of a claim pendente lite cannot be given retrospective effect so as to vitiate the institution of the suit. 54 I C 655.

—Where some causes of action are within and some outside the jurisdiction of a Court the Court should retain the plaint, strike out that part which is beyond its jurisdiction and try the case. For the struck out part, the plaintiff may file another suit in proper Court. The Court cannot proceed on a certified copy of the plaint for trial of causes of action within jurisdiction. A I R 1926 Bom 283=28 Bom L R 521 = 94 I C 783.

—Where some reliefs are within and some outside the jurisdiction of a court the Court should not return the plaint for presentation to proper Court but the Court should proceed with that part of the case which is in its jurisdiction. 40 L J 374 = 41 I C 125.

—Return of plaint ordered, plaintiff willing to drop part of his claim to bring his case within the Court's pecuniary jurisdiction —Court can admit the plaint as amended. A I R 1926 Mad 133 = 22 L W 582 = (1925) M W N 804 = 92 I C 800

—Suit under s. 92, included claim for possession—Court should not return plaint altogether. The Court may allow plaintiffs to amend the plaint by striking off the claim for possession or may dismiss the claim with regard to that particular relief in its judgment. A I R 1925 All 683 = 47 A 770 = 23 A L J 661 = L R 6 A 352 Civ = 89 I C 40 —Out of two claims, one which is out of jurisdiction shall be regarded as a separate claim. A I R 1921 All 193 = 19 A L J 822 = 64 I C 688.

—The jurisdiction in a particular case is determined by the nature of the claim as brought. A I R Nag 221 = 107 I C 671 (2)

—The subject matter of the suit or application must be determined by looking into the application itself or the plaint of the suit itself. A I R 1927 Cal 711 = 46 C L J 46 = 104 I C 349.

—When the plaint is not mala fide it will determine jurisdiction although it may be mistaken. A I R 1926 All 747 = 96 I C 787.

—Court for determining jurisdiction cannot decide material issue in the case. Where the defendant puts in an objection that the plaintiffs claim is purposely over valued by including in it an item without any title to it the Court cannot decide the issue to determine its jurisdiction A I R 1926 Mad 339 = 91 I C 737.

—In case of transfer of parties raising valuation of object matter of suit beyond the Court's jurisdiction the Court should add parties and return the plaint for presentation to proper Court A I R 1926 Pat 28=90 I C 82.

—There is nothing in the C P Code to prevent a Court, from awarding a decree in excess of its pecuniary jurisdiction. 40 Mad 1=32 M L J 221 = 5 L W 580 = (1917) M W N 367 = 39 I C 439.

—Suit instituted in Court without jurisdiction A second suit in a Court of proper jurisdiction. The second suit cannot be regarded as a continuation of the first, even though the subject-matter and the parties to the suits are identical. A I R 1929 P C 103 = Ind Rul (1929) P C 129 = 56 C 1048 = 56 I A 128 = (1929) A L J 254 = 33 C W N 485 = 291 M L W 682 = 56 M L J 614 = 6 O W N 473 = 49 C L J 462 = 31 Bom L R 741 = (1929) M W N 546 P C = 115 I C 713.

—Where a Judge can try a case under the ordinary procedure the mere fact that he tries it under a special procedure is no ground for dismissing that suit The proper procedure is a remand. A I R 1927 Lah 174=8 Lah 156=9 Lah L J 57=28 P L R 539 = 99 I C 648.

—Plaint cannot be returned for amendment. After retaining it on the Court file the plaintiff must if necessary be ordered to amend it within a certain time. A I R 1921 Sind 166=17 S L R 223 = 85 I C 893.

—Vakalatnama must in all cases be returned along with plaint. A I R 1923 Nag 182 = 19 N L R 36=6 N L J 100 = 71 I C 436.

—Where Judge holds a case set out in the plaint to be untrue in fact. He ought to dismiss the suit on the merits and not return the plaint under O. VII, r. 10. If he returns the plaint, he fails to exercise jurisdiction vested in him by law and the order is open to revision. A I R 1926 All 58 = 48 A 168=24 A L J 83 = 90 I C 353.

(2) Appeal, revision or review.

—An appeal against an order wrongly returning the plaint to be presented to the proper Court is tenable even though the plaintiff has submitted to the jurisdiction of the other Court. A plaintiff with a good case should not by an erroneous decision of a Court be made to face alternatives acceptance of either of which may preclude him from obtaining investigation of his claim A I R 1930 Nag 207 = 13 N L J 4 = Ind Rul (1933) Nag. 124=121 I C 668.

—An appeal is provided under O. XLIII, r. 1. Cl. (a) on an order returning plaint under O. VII, r. 10. The order by the Appellate Court becomes final under s. 104, cl (2) and s. 105 does not preclude the aggrieved party from disputing the correctness of the remand order in second appeal if he is otherwise entitled to do so. A I R 1926 Mad 900 = 51 M L J 119 = 24 L W 630 = (1926) M W N 613 = 97 I C 790.

—But where a plaint is returned by a Civil Court after it had been returned by a Small Causes Court the order of the Civil Court does not come under O. VII r. 10 and no appeal lies on it. A I R 1926 Cal 83 = 85 I C 1002.

—An appeal presented to the High Court wrongly without any excuse, should be dismissed, as the High Court will in such cases refuse to return the memorandum of appeal. A I R 1925 Cal 335 = 80 I C 858.

—Though an order returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court is appealable a second appeal is not competent from such a case A I R 1931 Lah 294 = 32 P L R 362 = Ind Rul (1931) Lah 907 = 134 I C 203.

—Where on appeal from an order returning a plaint to be presented to the proper Court, an order is passed remanding the case to the trial Court no further appeal therefrom lies. Nor is it liable to revision Ind Rul (1930) All 725 = 125 I C 581.

—A second appeal does not lie from an order returning a plaint A I R 1926 Lah 141 = 89 I C 384 see to the same effect 21 M 234; and 3 A 855.

—Order returning plaint—High Court refusing revision—Lower Appellate Court in appeal setting aside trial Court's order returning plaint—Plaintiff could not be restored to his prior position as further interference was not desirable—The trial Court's order should be confirmed A I R 1923 Oudh 38 (2) = 79 I C 237.

—It is within the power of the High Court to decide question of jurisdiction necessary for the just trial of the suit A I R 1922 Pat 368 = 2 P L T 739 = 64 I C 496.

—An application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is not a plaint and as such an order returning such application for presentation to proper court is without jurisdiction and can be interfered within revision. 52 I C 688.

—Court ordering a return of plaint for presentation to proper Court on payment of additional Court-fee cannot review its order and extend time previously fixed for payment of Court-fee. A I R 1926 Mad 133 (2) = 22 L W 582 = (1925) M W N 804 = 92 I C 800.

(3) "At any stage of the suit".

—Court can raise objection to territorial jurisdiction suo motu and return plaint for presentation to proper court at any stage of the suit. 53 I C 331.

—But where parties went to trial on the merits and after evidence had been recorded and the case argued the issue as to want of jurisdiction was raised by the Sub-Judge suo motu. Held, in revision the order of the Court returning the plaint was not justified and that the same should be set aside. Ind Rul (1931) Lah 431 = 32 P L R 737 = 131 I C 303 (2)

—Where a plaint is returned after trial to be presented to proper court, the latter Court should not remand the case for retrial but should decide it on merits. A W N 1882, 45.

But see (1916) 32 I C 759 = 1915 M W N 784.

(4) Court-fee.

(5-6) Effect of return of plaint

—Return of plaint terminates proceeding. 35 I C 595.

—Plaint returned for presentation to proper Court The suit is said to be instituted on date of such presentation and the suit thus presented cannot be said to be in continuation of the suit filed in a Court without jurisdiction. A I R 1928 Bom 421 = 30 Bom L R 970 = 52 B 548 = 113 I C 511.

—Plaint returned and presented in proper Court. Suit must be taken to be instituted on date of such representation Court fee on such plaint should be leviable under the law which was in force at the time when the plaint was re-presented. If the Act is amended in the meantime increasing the amount of fee payable there under the plaintiff should be credited with the originally Court fee paid. A I R 1926 Cal 355 = 30 C W N 90 = 91 I C 862.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 10 (Contd)*(6) Effect of return of plaint—(Concl'd)

—Where plaint is returned for presentation to proper Court, the suit is to be considered as instituted on the date of such presentation and the plaintiff should amend the plaint so as to include all intermediate transactions between the date of first presentation and the date of presentation to competent Court. 15 C L J 241=13 I C 377.

—Where the Court erroneously returns a plaint on the ground that the plaintiff has not furnished a list of the documents he proposes to rely upon and the plaint is accordingly represented, the suit should be deemed to have been constituted on the date of first presentation. A I R 1930 Lah 480 = Ind Rul (1930) Lah 360=122 I C 488

—Court cannot return a plaint on the ground that the plaintiff has not mentioned therein the list of the documents on which he relies. The only effect of a person not furnishing the list of documents on which he relies is that, unless the Court permits him to do so he is not entitled to produce them at a later stage. A I R 1930 Lah 480=Ind Rul(1930) Lah 360 = 122 I C 488.

—A Court not having jurisdiction to try a suit can neither transfer its jurisdiction temporarily to an arbitrator nor send the suit to the District Judge for transfer to the proper Court. The only course for the Court is to return the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. The only exception to the rule is where a preliminary decree for accounts has been passed by a Court not having jurisdiction to pass a final decree on the examination of accounts. Where, on reference by Court, an award was passed, it could not be said to be a preliminary decree. A I R 1930 Lah 195 = Ind Rul (1930) Lah 606 = 155 I C 334.

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a) General.

—General:—The question of rejection of plaint depends not upon what is stated in the written statement but upon the plaint. The defect for rejecting the plaint should be apparent on the face of it. A L R 1933 S 202.

—Dismissal for default cannot be set aside on the ground that plaint ought to have been rejected. A I R 1924 Pat 271 = 2 P 784 = 74 I C 847.

—Mere fact that Secretary is described in plaint as "an officio Secretary of King's Yunani Hospital Committee" would not enable plaintiff to execute against Committee any decree which he might get. A I R 1924 Oudh 128 = 26 O C 333 = 80 I C 495.

—O VII r. 11 applies to first proceedings only. A I R 1930 Nag 224 = 26 N L R 183 = Ind Rul (1930) Nag 257 = 124 I C 241.

—The dismissal of the plaint for non-appearance of the plaintiff on the fixed day and the subsequent non-payment if the deficiency causes the dismissal of the plaint under O. VII, r. 11 and not under O. IX, r. 8. A I R 1929 Mad 344 = Ind Rul (1929) Mad 725 = 117 I C 789.

Per, Fawcett, J—R 11—Extends to or is applicable to cases where the Court has jurisdiction to try suit even if the relief claimed is undervalued. A I R 1927 Bom 257 = 51 B 236 = 29 Bom L R 280 = 101 I C 343.

—Provisions of O. VII, r. 1 are not exhaustive, plaint may be rejected under s. 151. A I R 1924 Oudh 413 = 11 O L J 260 = 83 I C 778.

—O VII, r 11 is only a rule or procedure and is only meant to secure proper Court fees and stamps. A I R 1930 Cal 686 = 58 C 281 = Ind Rul (1931) Cal 475 = 131 I C 587.

(1) Scope of the rule—(Contd.)

(a) General—(Contd.)

—Non compliance with S. 80 entails dismissal of the whole suit. A I R 1931 Mad 175 = 32 L W 810 = 59 M L J 923 = 54 M 416 = Ind Rul (1931) Mad 264 = 129 I C 456.

(b-c) Practice

—Suit not otherwise bad and which has reached the stage of arguments must be dismissed and not rejected. A I R 1928 Oudh 495 = 12 R D 332 = 5 O W N 927 = Ind Rul (1929) Oudh 158 = 114 I C 510.

—Where memorandum is not stamped Court should fix time within which the requisite stamp must be supplied. 40 Mad 687 = 38 I C 617 = 31 M L J 269.

—No order for additional Court-fee can be issued after the suit is dismissed. A I R 1925 Lah 326 (1) = 7 Lah L J 18 = 86 I C 266.

—It is not absolutely necessary to draw up a decree in order rejecting a plaint. A I R 1929 Lah 83 = 108 I C 597.

(2) Appeal revision or review.

—An order rejecting a plaint for non-payment of extra Court-fee is a decree under s. 2 and appealable as such, and no revision lies against such an order. 265 P L R 1914 = 80 P R 1914 = 167 P W R 1914 = 25 I C 565.

—Power of appellate Court is co-extensive with trial Court. A I R 1924 Nag 80 = 69 I C 554.

—Where the Court refused to strike off plaint on the ground that plaintiff has not set the particulars of fraud, the order is not appealable. A I R 1931 Lah 77 = 31 P L R 946 = 131 I C 129.

—An order passed in appeal on rejection of a plaint that no appeal lies is also a decree and is, therefore, subject to second appeal and not revision. A I R 1929 Cal 226 = 49 C L J 81 = Ind Rul (1929) Cal 368 = 115 I C 368.

—High Court cannot call for revision of a plaint which is rejected for there is no scope for appeal on rejection. A I R 1930 Pat 277 = 11 P L T 172 = Ind Rul (1930) Pat 184 = 122 I C 152.

—There is revision from an order wrongly dismissing a suit as time-barred. A I R 1928 Lah 274 = Ind Rul (1929) Lah 421 = 115 I C 757.

—According to practice in Madras High Court, order holding that certain Court-fee is payable is revisable. A I R 1925 Mad 722 = 48 M L J 514 = (1925) M W N 104 = 87 I C 25.

—An order rejecting an appeal from an order disallowing the plaintiff to sue as a pauper and requiring the Court-fees to be paid on a fixed date is subject to revisional proceedings only. A I R 1929 Lah 125 = 112 I C 490.

—An order refusing permission to sue in forma pauperis does not come under O. VII, r. 11 and, therefore, it being neither a decree, nor a decision, nor a judgment is subject only to revisional proceedings. A I R 1928 Nag 24 = 10 N L J 177 = 105 I C 30.

—Order rejecting plaint for non-payment of fee cannot be restored if signed by Court, but is subject to review. A I R 1923 Pat 354 = 2 Pat 504 = 4 Pat L T 261 = 72 I C 629.

(3) Effect of order rejecting the plaint.

—Where an order is not really an order of dismissal for default but one rejecting the plaint for non payment of deficient Court-fee, a second suit is not barred under O. IX, r. 3. Ind Rul (1931) Pat 369 = 133 I C 449 (1).

—Order rejecting a plaint is res-judicata and bars a second suit. (1920) M W N 616 = 12 L W 457.

(4) Enlargement of time.

—Court has power to extend period fixed for payment of deficit Court fee under O. 7, R. 11 (e). 51 I C 154.

—Insufficient stamp on—Power to extend time ex post facto—6 Ind Cas 424 = 14 C W N 882 = 12 C L J 62.

—Court can extend time for payment of deficient Court fees. A I R 1926 Nag 312 = 93 I C 64.

—Rule requiring the Court to fix a time for payment of the deficient Court-fees is mandatory but the Court may not further extend the time; deficient Court-fees paid after the fixed date entails the rejection of a plaint. A I R 1926 Mad 676 = (1926) M W N 341 = 51 M L J 90 = 95 I C 439.

—In case of defect in verification the suit should not be tried on merits, but the plaintiff should be given an opportunity of curing the defect if any. 17 C W N 989 = 15 I C 583.

—Where a plaint is not signed by plaintiff, it should be returned for amendment, but cannot be rejected. 165 P W R 1911.

(7) Rejection of plaint at any stage.

—Rejection of plaint for discovery of defect after admission thereof is improper. 29 I C 410.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 7, r. 11 (Contd)

(8) Rejection of plaint in part.

—Plaint must be rejected as a whole but with due discretion. A I R 1921 S'nd 106 = 17 S L R 9 = 80 I C 958.

(9) Return of plaint for amendment.

—Failure to file rejected plaint after amending it as ordered, comes under O. VII, r. 11 and not under O. XVII, r. 3. A I R 1925 Mad 1045 = 86 I C 491.

—Court should reject a plaint not amended within the time fixed. 40 Mad 365 (F B) —A plaint should not be rejected for defect therein, but should be returned for amendment. 1 Pat L T 188 = 55 I C 445.

(10) Suit against minor.

—Court can dismiss the suit filed by next friend of minor, if not in minor's interest. A I R 1924 Oudh 413 = 11 O L J 260 = 83 I C 778 See also 1 L W 875 = 25 I C 738.

(11) Suit barred by law.

—If a suit appears from the statement of the plaint to be barred by any law, the proper course is to reject the plaint under O. 7, R. 11 (d) and not dismiss the suit. 21 C W N 209 = 29 C L J 17 = 35 I C 76.

—O. 7, R. 11 (d) does not apply where there is no statement in the plaint which suggests that the suit is barred. 18 C W N 1340 = 27 I C 232.

—Where the plaint discloses suit in time and the question of limitation has not been raised in written statement and further no issue framed about it, the Court cannot dismiss the suit by reason of bar of time appearing in cross-examination of plaintiff's witness. The question of amending the pleadings is in discretion of the Court. A L R 1934 All 137.

—It may be doubted whether the Legislature has intended that, where a plaint has been rejected on the ground that the claim is barred by limitation, the plaintiff would be at liberty to file a fresh plaint either without any new allegations or with new allegations showing an exemption from the law of limitation. 54 A 525 (530) = 1932 A L J 489 = I R 1932 A 397 = A I R 1932 A 543 = 138 I C 396 = A L R 1932 A 689.

—The Limitation Act is absolute in its terms only; the form of the suit and the relief claimed are the only criterion for the applicability of a particular article. In applying the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act to the suit the plaintiff's version is the only one to be considered. A I R 1927 Nag 10 = 9 N L J 198 = 229 N L R 147 = 98 I C 27.

C. P. C. ( 1908 ) Or. 7, r. 11 (Contd)

( 12 ) "Where plaint does not disclose Cause of action."

—Plaint stating no cause of action must be rejected. There is no need to look into jurisdiction then. A I R 1923 Lah 290 = 75 I C 165.

—Plaint showing no cause of action must be rejected. Trustee or mortgagor is bound to account to beneficiary if surplus after payment of mortgage is left. A I R 1922 Bom 152=46 B 229=23 Bom L R 1023=64 I C 919.

—Plaint for declaration of title not containing an allegation that plaintiff was in possession, should be rejected. 37 I C 15.

—Cause of action—Limitation—Claim not being barred by—Cause of action if includes. See 54 A 525.

(13) "Where the relief claimed is undervalued."

—The power to reject a plaint arises only upon it being seen that the plaint is undervalued. The correct valuation of the property in dispute is not necessary for admission of a plaint or memo of appeal before the plaint or memorandum of appeal is registered; it is not that the plaintiff should be called upon to give evidence on the question of valuation merely in order to get his document on file. A I R 1930 Cal 65 = 50 C L J 164 = 33 C W N 952 = 57 C 587 = Ind Rul (1930) Cal 262 = 122 I C 630.

—Plaint alone can be considered to value suits circumstances subsequently influencing Court's judgment are not to be taken into consideration. A I R 1924 Cal 969 = 40 C L J 150 = 79 I C 982.

and that their claim was barred by limitation. No issue was settled as to whether the special rule of limitation in Art. 3 of Sch III to the B, T Act applied to the case. The first court decreed the suit but on appeal the suit was dismissed on the ground that it was barred by limitation under Art. 3 of the B T Act. Held, that the special case of limitation under the provisions of Art. 3 Sch III to the B T Act not having been specially pleaded and the facts in support of such a case not being apparent on the face of the record the judge of the Appellate Court had no jurisdiction to go into the matter and to enquire whether on certain facts that he had found the suit was barred by limitation. 28 C L J 216 = 46 I C 787.

—When a suit is barred on the face of the plaint, general plea of limitation in written statement can be taken, but such a plea cannot otherwise be taken unless necessary facts are also stated. A I R 1924 Pat 664 = 3 Pat 546 = 5 Pat L T 303 = (1924) Pat 189 = 80 I C 956.

—Plea of limitation under the provisions of Sch III, Art. 2 of Bengal Tenancy Act cannot be allowed to be raised in appeal. O. VIII, r. 2 requires the defendant to raise a question of special limitation in the pleading itself. 69 I C 194.

—Under O. VIII, r. (2) a point as to limitation cannot be raised in appeal for the first time. It should be so done by the defendant in his written statement. 32 C L J 236 = 60 I C 280.

—Under O. VIII, rr. 2 and 4 in the defence all points of law or facts should be particularised. The Court will not otherwise allow them to be agreed to in second appeal. A I R 1923 Cal 578 = 76 I C 603.

—Plea as regards want of legal necessity in a mortgage suit by the manager of a joint Hindu family cannot in an appeal be raised for the first time. A I R 1922 Pat 356 = 3 P L T 367 = 1 Pat 612 = 67 I C 790.

—Where a point is not specifically taken in the written statement but was decided in Lower Courts on evidence without objection, Held that the parties cannot object to it in Second Appeal, as if taken in the first court, necessary amendments might have been made under O 6 R 17, (1914) M W N 883 = 26 I C 337.

—Pleas of estoppel of whatever nature are not barred if not set up in the written statement by reason of O. 8, R. 2. A plea of res judicata which was not put forward in the written statement, nor in the lower Court in the grounds of appeal, can be raised with the leave of the Court under O 41, R. 2, 19 C W N 942 = 26 I C 673.

(1) Admissions in written statement.

—O. VIII, r. 5 should be read with r. 3. A I R 1925 Mad 950 = 22 M L W 26 = 85 I C 900

—When the defendant's written statement is in agreement with the plaintiff's claim, no further proof of the claim is necessary because that part of the claim must be taken to have been admitted. A I R 1931 Lah 203 = 12 Lah L J 293 = Ind Rul (1931) Lah 446 = 131 I C 206.

—But where a mortgage was admitted to be duly executed it was held that the Court may require proof of valid execution and attestation. 25 M L T 19.

(2) Denial of allegations in plaint.

—A recital in the written statement that a certain allegation in the plaint was not admitted amounts to a denial. A L R 1933 All 567.

—But a pleading of 'not known' is not tantamount to 'not admitted' does not put the other party to the proof. A I R 1931 All 423 = Ind Rul (1931) All 654 = 133 I C 414.

—Ordinarily in an ex parte case no issues arise and there is nothing for the plaintiff to prove but the Court may require some of the selected facts to be proved which must be stated as issues. A I R 1923 Nag 83 = 69 I C 619.

—So also provisions expressly made applicable to allegations in plaint, and to defendant's failure to deny them should not be applied to an oral pleading of the defendant so as to infer from the absence of a reply by plaintiff, that the latter accepted it as true.

A I R 1925 Nag 380 = 85 I C 768.

—A fact admitted by the defendant's mukhtiar is not conclusive before the framing of the issues and may be required to be proved otherwise: 6 L L J 358 = 82 I C 617 = A I R 1924 L 744.

—Mere general denial in the written statement of fact explicitly relied upon in the plaint is not enough unless equities are in favour of the defendant under O. VIII, r. 6; minor defendant, however, is an exception. A I R 1923 Mad 114 = 43 M L J 579 = 16 L W 911 = 31 M L T 258 = (1923) M W N 42 = 69 I C 724.

—Though wording of O. VIII, r. 5 is defective, it clearly means that evasive denials of facts alleged in the plaint, should be taken as an admission of alleged facts. A I R 1927 All 225 = 96 I C 778.

—Evasive denial of facts alleged in the pleading cannot in fact amount to admission but that seems to be the effect of O. VIII r. 5. A I R 1924 All 180 = 46 A 55 = 21 A L J 830 = L R 4 A 570 Civ. = 79 I C 562.

—In a partnership suit if the defendant saying shares of partners are different, such a denial is evasive unless actual shares are specified. Such an evasive denial may be taken as admission that the terms stated in the plaint, are correct. A I R 1929 Sind 7 = 113 I C 370.

—Discretion under O. VIII, r. 5 is to be used when admissions are suspected to be made collusively to avoid rule of public policy. Evasive denial of facts alleged in the plaint amounts to admission and it would be wrong for the Appellate Court to require proof of them 39 M L J 463 = (1920) M W N 512 = 23 M L T 213 = 60 I C 554.

—But the Lahore High Court has held that evasive denial of facts alleged in the plaint does not necessarily amount to an admission of them. Rules of pleading are not strictly enforced. A I R 1923 Lah 409 = 71 I C 779.

—Defendant's statement that they do not admit plaintiff's allegation as to the date of a certain event is not evasive denial or admission notwithstanding that defendants do not give their own date for the event. A I R 1924 Mad 838 = 47 M L J 520 = 20 L W 399 = (1924) M W N 788 = 82 I C 584.

(3) Failure to deny allegations in plaint.

—Where allegation in plaint is not denied either specifically or by implication proof is not necessary therefor. A I R 1923 Nag 7 = 68 I C 664 see also 49 I C 733.

—But the Court may require proof of a fact notwithstanding admission by deft. in pleadings. (1918) M W N 853.

—In the old Code of Civil Procedure there was nothing corresponding to O. 8 R 5 of the new Code. Even under the new Code, a failure by the defendant to deny the allegations in the plaint is not conclusive in favour of the plff for under the proviso the Court may still call upon the plaintiff to prove his allegations. It is within the discretion of the court to allow an amendment 19 C L J 518 = 25 I C 567.

—And non-traversal of allegations in plaint amounts to admission only when deft. files written statement and not when deft. is made ex parte. 43 Cal 1001 = 34 I C 235 = 20 C W N 1192.

—So also an execution petition is not a pleading and allegations in such petition not denied do not amount to admission of their truth. 2 Pat L J 24.

—In a suit on a mortgage against certain minor defts. their guardian did not deny in his written statement the allegations in the plaint as to the proper execution of the mortgage and their pleader neither asked for an issue nor let in evidence on the question but the whole trial proceeded only on the issues as to limitation and res judicata. The Court decreed the suit in favour of the plffs. Held, that the omission of the defts to raise an issue as to the execution of the mortgage implied an abandonment of that question at the trial and that it was not incumbent on the court to require proof of execution of the mortgage from the plffs. under such circumstances 35 M L J 372 = 47 I C 589.

—The plff in a suit to recover money relied in their plaint on a letter written by the defts. in saving limitation—the defts denied that the letter saved limitation. On a question whether on the pleadings the letter can be deemed to have been admitted. Held, in the absence of specific denial the letter must be accepted as admitted between the parties and therefore unnecessary to be proved 41 Bom 89 = 18 Bom L R 946 = 38 I C 14.

—The deft. in a suit for possession did not specifically deny the allegation made by the plff. that the property sued for formed a portion of a certain taluk. The Munsif, held that there was a constructive admission by deft. of the plff's title as alleged in the plaint and decreed the suit without considering the evidence adduced on both sides on the question of the title. On appeal the judge reversed the decision of the Munsif on the ground that there was no such admission on the part of the deft. as would warrant a decision in favour of the plff's title especially as the trial Court had required proof of the plff's title in spite of the so-called admission by the deft. Held, that the decision of the appellate court was correct. 45 I C 878.

—Where the deft. did not plead as to notice he was deemed to have admitted notice. 9 I C 470.

(4) Omission to file written Statement.

—Where defendant has not put in any written statement, O. VIII, r. 5 has no application. Verification of plaint is not evidence on which claim can be allowed whether the absent party is or is not present. A I R 1928 Lah 769 = 10 Lah L J 339 = Ind Rul (1929) Lah 377 = 29 P L R 715 = 115 I C 425.

—O. VIII, r. 5 implies that defendant making written defence shall make it specific. But this is not applicable in case of defendants not putting in written statements and such defendant is allowed even to give evidence which transveres the allegations in the plaint. A I R 1930 Pat 293 = Ind Rul (1930) Pat 609 = 126 I C 369.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 8, r. 6. (Contd.)

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a) General.

—The Court is bound to try a claim to set off which falls under the provisions of O. 8, R. 6 of the C. P. Code. 12 L W 85=57 I C 656.

—In a suit to recover an amount of money due on an account, the defendant claimed to set-off the amount of pay due to him by the plff. The Lower Court disallowed the set-off on the ground that the parties did not fill the same character in regard to the attempted set-off as they filled in the suit. Held, that the set-off should have been allowed, for in regard to both the claims the capacity, that is the personal capacity of the parties was not varied. 41 Bom 163=19 Bom L R 67=39 I C 17.

—Plea of written statement necessary—No plea of set off can be raised without plea of statement. 16 M L T 122.

—The same character :—Claim to set off is not allowed when the parties claiming are in different capacities. A I R 1927 Lah 228=8 Lah 105=28 P L R 427=101 I C 762.

(b) Counter-claim.

—No provision is made by C P Code, O. VIII for counter claims in money suits though it provides for set off. A I R 1922 Cal 1=80 I C 192.

—As to distinction between set-off and counter-claim see. A L R 1933 B 259=34 B L R 1401.

—Counter-claim must be within time at the date the defendant files his pleadings. A I R 1925 Nag 445=89 I C 371.

—Counter-claim if properly stamped may be tried as a cross suit. A I R 1924 Rang 346=2 R 276=82 I C 721.

C. P. C. (1908) Or. 8, r. 6 (Contd.)

(1) Scope of the rule—(Contd.)

(b) Counter-claim—(Contd.)

—Failure to plead part of cross-claim as a set-off is merely technical defect and can be cured by amendment of pleading. Distinction between set off and counter claim is that set-off is for an ascertained sum or it must arise out of the same transaction, as the plaintiff's claims. Counter-claim need not arise out of the same transaction. Set off is ground of defence and it should be pleaded in the written statement. Counter claim is not any defence to the plaintiff's claim, it is a good ground of independent action against the plaintiff. If the Statute of limitations is pleaded in defence of set off, the plaintiff in order to establish his plea, must prove that the set off was barred when the plaintiff commenced his action. In the case, however, of counter-claim it is enough for the plaintiff to prove that the counter-claim was barred when it was pleaded. —Plaint to state ground of exemption from limitation. Effect of not stating see 83 P R 1514=26 I C 441.

(d) Extent to which set-off may be allowed.

—Where a principal is also a banker under another name, in a suit by principal against the agent for sale proceeds in agent's hands, agent can set-off the amount deposited in the bank. A I R 1921 P C 108=15 M L W 201=24 C W N 1004=76 I C 944.

—Defendant cannot claim accounts but he may claim a set-off. A I R 1924 All 872=22 A L J 844=L R 5 A 734 Civ=46 A 922=82 I C 340.

—In a suit by the assignee from the Karnawan or stakeholder of a Malabar Kuri or chit fund, which has collapsed against the assignee of the liabilities of a benefited ticket-holder the defendant is entitled to set-off the amount due by the stakeholder to a non-benefited ticket-holder, whose rights the defendant has purchased. The set-off, however, cannot be enforced on the ground that the debt claimed by the plaintiff arose out of the same transaction as the debt claimed by the defendant as a kuri is not a partnership composed of the stakeholder and the

(2-3 & 4) Court-fee.

—A written statement pleading a set off must bear an advalorem court fee stamp on the amount of the set off claimed. Where a written statement pleading a set-off does not bear an advalorem Court-fee on the amount of set off, the Court is debarred from going into the question : An Appellate Court cannot make an order for payment of additional court fee when no fee at all has been paid and where the original Court has not decided the question of valuation. 10 Bur L T 242 = 36 I C 957.

—A plea of satisfaction cannot be a set off and Court fee in such a case is unnecessary. A I R 1927 Nag. 120=9 N L J 227=99 I C 510.

—A plea of set off is quite distinct from the plea of payment and should not be entertained until court-fee with respect to it has been paid by the defendant in the court of first instance, nor should it be entertained if the claim is not within the jurisdiction of the Court. 15 I C 526.

( 10 ) The amount claimed to be set-off must be an ascertained sum of money and not unliquidated damages.

—Under O. 8, R. 6, C P C a debt, is entitled to claim a set-off when it is an ascertained amount and does not apply when his proportionate share out of a joint claim has to be ascertained by calculation and after he has given proof that it was legally recoverable at the date of the institution of the suit. —That the suit is based on negotiable instrument is no bar to a claim for set off by the defendant. A I R 1931 Nag 12 = Ind. Rul. (1931) Nag 23 = 130 I C 87.

—Ascertained sum does not mean sum admitted by the plaintiff. The term is simply contradictory of unliquidated damages, that is the sum of money of which the amount is known. —The plff, who left his employment without notice on the 4th April 1916 sued for his salary for March, 4 days of April and for May. —The expression 'ascertained' in O. 8 R. 6 (1) C. P. Code means beyond challenge and beyond dispute, concluded and conclusive. A set off can be claimed on the basis of a contractual relation between the parties. in the suit springs. If it is found that the set-off is foreign to the original claim the set off will not be allowed. In a claim for rent due by a tenant under a lease it is not open to the latter to plead a set-off of amounts due to him by the plff. on accounts in respect of payments made on the plff's behalf in respect of totally different properties which are not the subject matter of the suit. —O. 8, R. 6, C P Code, applies only to a legal set-off and not to any other set-off that a party may be equitably entitled to claim. O. 20, R. 19, C P Code, lays down the form in which a decree in a suit in which a set-off is allowed should be drawn up. The intention of the legislature was that only one decree should be drawn up in a suit in which a set-off is claimed and that the decree could only be drawn up when the entire matter in controversy between the parties had been disposed of. 62 P R 1917 = 65 P W R 1917 = 39 I C 508.

—A right to set-off exists not only in cases of mutual debits and credits, but also where cross demands arise out of the same transaction, or are so connected in their nature and circumstance as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the defendant be driven to a cross-suit. 11 C 557, followed.

does not create an implied contract or give the former an equity to be paid a share of the costs of the litigation by the latter. In an equitable set-off the sum claimed need not be an ascertained sum. The right of set off exists not only in case of mutual debits and credits but also where cross demands arise out of the same transaction or are so connected in their nature and circumstances as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the debt be driven to a cross suit. - (11) The amount claimed to be Set-off must be "legally recoverable"

(a) General.

—A defendant can claim to set off against the plaintiff's demand any ascertained sum of money legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff. When a defendant claimed a set-off of a ruqqa on which he could have brought a suit in the Punjab; held that the sum was legally recoverable and the set-off could be allowed in the Province. 11 A L J 141 = 35 A 238 = 18 I C 763.

—A claim which has become barred by limitation at the time of filing of the written statement in a suit is not a debt legally recoverable by the deft. from plff. and cannot therefore, be allowed to be set-off 47 I C 938.

—Expiry of the period of limitation only bars the remedy and does not extinguish the right. Limitation affects only the plaintiff and not the defendant. A I R 1926 Lah 633 = 96 I C 844.

—In a partition suit of joint Hindu family property, time barred debt due by the joint family cannot be pleaded as a set-off. A I R 1921 Mad 688 = 41 M L J 370 = 14 M L W 534 = 30 M L T (H C) 15 = 42 I C 852.

—Where it is claimed to set-off a certain sum of money which inter alia, consists of interest upon certain of the items composing that sum calculated at a rate fixed by the defendant, but not admitted by the plaintiff, the sum of money so claimed is not an ascertained sum of money legally recoverable within the meaning of O. 8 R. 6 32 P W R 1912 = 80 P L R 1912 = 141 I C 463.

Deft's claim against plff. was barred on the date on which he filed his written statement. Held, that though deft's claim might be allowed to the extent of plff's claim and the latter's suit might be dismissed, he (deft) was not entitled to a decree against plff. for any additional amount claimed by him. the C P Code, and he was not therefore entitled to a decree under O. 20, R. 19 of the C P Code. An equitable set-off which is barred by limitation cannot be allowed. 42 Mad 873 = 37 M L J 193 = 10 L W 183 = (1919) M W N 628 = 26 M L T 276 = 53 I C 234.

—The plaintiffs and the defendants were joint owners of a zamindari, who brought zamindari to sale for arrears of patni rent. It was purchased by third party. The patnidars sued to set aside sale and recovered their costs from some of the zamindars who in turn claimed contribution from the other joint-owner. The latter had paid the costs of the auction-purchaser at the patni sale and claimed to set it off. Held that he was only entitled to set off in respect of the actual liability of the plaintiffs for the purchaser's costs. A I R 1926 Cal. 454 = 87 I C 788.

- (12) The amount claimed to be set off must not exceed the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court in which the Suit is brought.

—The words in O VIII r. 6 "not exceeding the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court" mean that the proper test for the purposes of the jurisdiction of the Court must be whether the whole of the sum claimed as set off is within the jurisdiction. A I R 1925 Rang 65 = 2 R 462 = 84 I C 971.

—The amount of the set-off must be within the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court in which the plaintiff's suit is brought. The nature of the set off must also be within the cognizance of the Court. A Court cannot entertain a set off if its nature is such that if it is made the subject-matter of a separate suit, it will not come within its jurisdiction. But a Court can entertain a set off as a defence to an action, even if it would have no territorial jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the set-off if a suit were filed in respect of such subject matter. In this respect there is a distinction between a set-off and a counter-claim. In one sense both are cross actions, but a set-off is also a ground of defence. If established, it affords an answer to the plaintiff's claim either wholly or pro tanto, for a set-off is really a debt claimed by a defendant against the plaintiff balancing a debt claimed by the plaintiff against the defendant. A counter-claim on the other hand is really a weapon of offence, and enables a defendant to enforce a claim against the plaintiff as effectually as in an independent action.
